Montrose, Thursday June 19, 1856. Speech of Senator Douglas. Mr. President and Fellow Democrats-When the news-papers shall convey the intelligence to the remotest parts of this republie that the New York democracy are united as one man in favor of James Buchanan and John C. Breckenrigge, joy will be imparted to the heart of every national patriot. (Cheers.) New York, the Empire State, new occupies the position which satisfes her b. her number, by her influence, her wealth, and above all by her devotion to those true constitutional State rights principles which have always prevailed whenever the party has been united as one man apon the platform adopted in convention. (Cheers) I came here only when I found that there was a joint invita tion signed by hards and softs-Renewed Cheers)-dissolving the old matter of difficuldies, and uniting in one common effort to red deem and save the country from that whillpool of sectional agitation and strife and discords to which the combined despotisms of the world were desirous to consign the npublic. I have refused for four years to address either section of the democratic party in New-York, or to answer any invitation from either section, for the leasen that I had the solved as a democrat I would never recegnice a division among men who ought to be unied as brethren in a common can-e. But whon the joyous news arrived that New York was a unit, that her democracy were brethren that past differences were forgotten, that the Cincinnati Convention had blotted out all remembrance of the past, and only presented. the hopes, the glories of the Jutine, I was ready to come and extend the hand of fellowship to the New York democracy united, one and indivisible-ready to march to a glorious victory, and to insure the ascendency of our principle (Cheers.) Now we are roads to meet the enemy and give them battle upon the issues as he proudly proclaim d their two years ago. When this black requ' lican organization was first formed they put forth upon their banner their principles, edefying the demotracy to meet them on there is not. What were those principles that boldly, proudly, defiantly proclaimed to their oppouants? They were first the restoration of that black line called the Missouri compromise ; second, the repeal of the Fugitive Slave 'aw; third, the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia ; fourth, the aloition of the slave trade among the states, fifth, the admission of no more Territories or Silites into this Union, unless slavery, was first prohibited, thus determined to cause the eruciaxion of of every man who voted for Kansas and Nebraska. The Cincinnati Convention first negatived every one of these principlesfirst proclaimed creed that meets the cordial approbation of every democrat in America, no matter from what point of the compass he may come. (Cheers.) Who is now prepared to say that the democracy is not a pa tional party? The National Contentian had count the issues -Lich they so defautly presented when they first entered the canvass .--Bear in mind my countrymen, that under the union of the combined isma abolitonishis, free sollism, Know Nothingism, Maine liquor lawism, woman's rights ism, and all the othhaneful-isms-under this combination they were curbled to throw a majority into the present House of Representatives, which gave them the control of that body. They clost-ed Mr. Banks—a Know Nothing and abolitionist, a free soiler and Maine Law man, a man who embodied all their prejudices; all their isms in his own person—they elected him Speaker of that House. He appointed on every committee in the Liouse men of his own-color and complexion in politics... They have no excuse now for not having brought forward their bills--for not having brought forward their enactments to redeem the pleages they made to the people to carry out their professed principles. Many of ny friends have realized marked benefits from them, and coincide with me in believing that they possess extraordinary virtues for driving out diseases and curing the sick. They are not only effectual, but eafs, and pleasant to be taken—qualities which must make them valued by the public, when they are known."

The venerable Chaincellor WARDLAW writes from Baltimore, 18th April, 1854:

"Da. J. C. Aven.—Str.: I have taken your Fills with great benefit, for the listlessness, languar, loss of appetite, and Bilious heafache, which has of late years overtaken me in the spring. A few done of your Fills cured me. I have used your Cherry Fectoral many years in my family for coughs and colds with undailing success. The widely renowned S. S. STEVENS, M. D., of Wentworth, K. H., writes:

"Having used your Cathastic Pills in my practice, I certify from experience that they are an invaluable purgative. In cases of disordered functions of the liver, causing headache, indigestion, conveness, and the great variety of diseases that follow, they are a surer remedy than any other. In all cases where a purgative remedy han any other. In all cases where a purgative remedy has required, I confidently recommend these Pills to the public, as superior to any other I have ever found. They are sure in their operation, and perfectly safe—qualities which make them an invaluable article for public use. I have for many years known your Cherry Pectoral as the best found, medicine in the world; and these Pills are in me wise inferior to that admirable preparation for the treatment of diseases."
