

1857. April 15th, Dea. David Goss, in the 91st year of his age. Dea. Goss, a native of Kent Township, Hinchey Co. Va., was born Dec. 4 - 1760. When about 30 years of age, he united with the Congregational Church in the place of his nativity; and in 1818 was chosen a Deacon, which office he held until 1835 when, removing to this place, he transferred his relation to the Presbyterian Church of Montrose. The purity of his character and gentleness of spirit of our venerated friend secured the strong affection of all who knew him; while the uniform consistency of his life with his profession, his interest in the prosperity of the cause of the Redeemer; his peaceful submission to the orderings of God's providence; and his spiritual-mindedness bore steady evidence to the sincerity of his duty and the ripening maturity of his spirit for a better world. During most of the past year he was with his children in the city of New York and was looking with much interest to his anticipated return to those with whom he had spent the last 30 years of his life, and who were prepared most cordially to welcome him with the hope of being able to increase his comfort amid the infirmities of increasing age. But God in his wisdom, ordained it otherwise. At the very time that arrangements were making for his return, he, under the pressure of age, rather than of disease, fell gently asleep. His body was brought up and interred on the 19th, in our village grave yard, by the side of the chosen companion of his youthful days, the wife of his manhood and the sympathizing partner of his hoary age, for 66 years he had lived in unintermitted harmony and who two years since finished her course in peace, thus preceding him a little in the enjoyment of the recompense of the righteous. H. A. R. In Lynn, Susquehanna Co., Pa., on Saturday, the 18th inst., Lrxas, son of Justus and Anna Knapp, aged 33 years. The deceased left a widow (a second wife) and five small children, four by his first wife and one by his second wife. The deceased suffered one or two months with pulmonary consumption, and died without a struggle or a groan, leaving satisfactory evidence of his acceptance with God. He trusted in hope of a glorious immortality. In Bridgewater, on the 24th inst., Mrs. Danna Fassner, wife of John Fancher, aged 64 years. Mrs. Fassner was born in Danmar, the Luzerne Co., Sept. 7th, 1823. She gave evidence of good love in Christ, and was baptized by Eld. J. Cook Duke, and united with the Baptist when about eleven years of age. She has maintained her profession ever since in such a manner that no one that knew her had a reason to doubt the reality of her adoption into the family of God's children. She was esteemed and loved by all who knew her. She suffered for many years from that dreadful disease, the consumption. She was never known to murmur or complain. She was perfectly resigned to it, and said to her friends that she had an assurance in her own mind that she should go to dwell with the Savior that she had always loved from the time she thought he had given her a new heart. She had time in the forepart of her pilgrimage of doubting her hope, as she examined her life, but when she carried her case to the Lord he had always given her relief from her fears. And now she was ready to leave her numerous friends, and all of earth, for heaven. And when the time of her departure was fully come she died without a struggle. Having given her last farewell to them all. She has left a kind husband and a large family of children, and a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. [Con.]
