"WILLIE ALL EQUAL BEFORE GOD AND THE CONSTITUTION."-James Buckenau, McCollum & Gerritson, Proprietors.

Susquehanna County, Penn's, Chursday Morning, May 14, 1857.

Select Poetry.

DUCKING THE SCHOOL MASTER. A PARODY OF THE BURIAL OF SIR JOHN MODEL. Not a sound was heard save the school-boy's

As the master fast we harried. To a hole in the ice already_cut, Where the frozen stream lay buried. We ducked him there about daylight,

The ice with an old axe chopping. Though it had been a cold rainy night, And the cold rain still was dropping. His hands lay tied upon his breast,

No in sheet nor in shroud we wound him. But he lay like a master taking his rest, With the school-boys all around him.

Hany and foud were the words he said. But we spoke not a word of sorrow. For in the master's face we read. That he would not treat on the morrow. We thought as we dragged him along on the ic

And our demands for a treat repeated, That rather than have been served so twice, At once we would have treated. And many perhaps will make fun and deride. And behind his back upbraid him :

But how could he help it, when they had him · tied, And on the cold ice had laid him.

When he said he would treat we all returned. For it was late in the morning; And we hoped the lesson he had learned,

Would prove to each teacher a warning. With shouts of triumph we all walked back-With the master wet and dripping, And though his looks were dark and black, Not one of usiget a whipping:

THE MAY FLOWER.

The trailing arbutes, or mayflower, grows abundantly in the vicinity of Plymouth, and Sad Mayflower ! watched by Winter stars, And nursed by Winter gales, With petals of the selected spars, And leaves of frozen sails !

What had she in those dreary hours, Within her ice-rimmed bay, In common with the wild wood flowers, The first sweet smiles of May ?

Yet, "Bod be praised!" the Pilgrims said. Who saw the blossoms peer Above the brown leaves, dry and dead, " Behold our Mayflower here!"

"God wills it; here our rest shall be, Our years of wandering o'er, For us the Mavflower of the Sea Shall spread her sails no more."

Oh! sacred flower of faith and hope I As sweetly now as then Ye bloom on many a birchen slope, In many a pine-dark glen.

Behind the sea-wall's rogged length, Unchanged, your leaves unfold, Like love behind the manly strength Of the brave hearts of old.

So live the fathers in their sons, Their sturdy faith be ours, And ones the love that overruns Its Rocky strength with flowers."

The Pilgrim's wild and wintry day, Its shadow round us draws;

The Mayflower of his stormy, bay, Our Freedom's struggling cause. But warmer sons ero long shall bring

To life the frozen sod : And through dead leaves of hope, shall Afresh the flowers of God!

Miscellaneous.

From the Knickerbocker Mugazine. THE WIDOW LEEDOM'S LAST LOAF.

Calm and deep peace in this wide air. These leaves that redden to the fall : And in one heart, if calm all, If any calm, a calm despair.

Calm on the seas, and silver sleep And waves that sway themselves in rest. And dead caim in that noble breast, Which heaves but with the heaving deep.

It was evening a beautiful autumn eventhe mild air; the vellow sunshine vet grided and echoed through vaulted dome, never as- tow bridle path over rocks of lava and the hill tops and the soft shadows of tadlight cended more acceptably to Him who sitteth were creeping silently up the valley, as the on the great white throne. gentle widow Leedom with her child in her her bonnet, lisping his sweet-toned "mamma her soul as a breath of spring over violets and convinced as that their aid was not to be demanma." She thought only of her expects she thought of her own keloved boy asking spised. Grasping their straps firmly with one and the means of obtaining for charity in some distant land and she has hand and carefully using our walking stick glance at the widow's flushed face and embarrassed manner, deterred him. With careely nudible thanks she concealed the oaf under her tattered shawl, and drawing her babe closer to her bosom, hastened home.

"Mother's come! mother's come;" cried; a couple of young, eager voices, as she entered the gate, and her seven year-old Robert and his little sister came running to meet her .-They were pretty children. The little Mary a wanderer she knew not whither.

others, Robert Leedom was lost. She had off down a bank and commenced a series of been a widow the second time only six circumsofary, flying grations that would months, and now, as the thought of her utter have deed homer to his micient prototype, inability to support her fatherless children, Pegasage During the midst of this performance. gradually on, her heart failed her utterly, and while the tace was caded. Just as I had ter of St. John, an expression of peace ingits. I on the new saidole than away we went again friends to keep together for there was great ble, "the peace that passeth understanding," at full speed, our guide next overtook us danger of stumbling down in the fissures settiled serencly on her sevent face. Putting half way up the magnitude where we had where once down and alone, the unfortunate the libble reverently back, she took some men-stopped at the Hermitage at least three individual was lost forever. Such a scraim ding from her basket, and soon the clear tone miles from where we had left him. After of the hymn sounded through the ctiliners of partaking of some refreshments in this well the fittle cottage : and " How firm a founda- known half-way thouse, we mounted again membered. We all succeeded in getting out ing. The red leaves yet danced, mjoicing in tion, eet, when pealed from lordly organ, and rode about two giles further, in a nar- safely, but our boots were concked and burned

But other eyes beside the All-seeing had arms, wended her way homeward. She was been looking in through the low casement at tired, for she had toiled all day in farmer the lonely sufferer, and now the sweet tones Wood's kitchen, and though it was Satusday of the holy hymn were interrupted by a evening; she had not been paid for her labor. knock at the door. The widow opened it guides stand by ready to assist us, and we unprecedented short space of time. Then we The kind hearted housemaid at farmer and saw before her a weary-travel-stained did not hesitate to undertake it. We wished Wood's had urged her to wait for her supper man, who asked only for a crust of bread and if possible to ascend, without a sixtance but our overcoats, etc., and soon were prepared for but she could not stay. She had no eye for a cup of water. The widow glanced at the the guides with leather strips, were so deter the descent. This was not such an easy feat the glory of that October sunset, as she walk- loaf which still lay on the table, and then at mined to help us note to help us note to help us note were as it might appear to some. No ashes were bread for them to last over Sanday. As she tened to place a chair and reach him the with the other, we slowly and laboriously neared the village, she seemed irresolute loaf, trusting to Him who causeth it to rain tolled along up the Cone, paging frequently

LETTER FROM APROAD.

A Visit to Vesuvius.

U.S. STEAM FRIGATE SUSQUEHANNA.) Naples, Italy, Feb. 23d, 1850.

DEAR SIR:-If I continue writing to you pasmodically, as I have been doing of late, I inherited her Mother's mild blue eyes and delicate complexion, and the boy his father's of my character for regularity in writing, if had done. This was exorbitant for less than bandsome face and horest brown eyes. Pour handsome face and horest brown eyes. Pour chibren, for they were accustomed to being left alone for the widow went out to work will only make the matter worse, so you will bed to confess ourselves vietimized.

In means of measuring and truly appreciation into our conference our party bas passed. The property has passed to fine soon after—horse and all they demanded a dollar each to get a truly appreciation to the soon after—horse and all they demanded a dollar each to get a truly appreciation to the soon after—horse and all they demanded a dollar each to get a truly appreciation to the soon after—horse and all they demanded a dollar each to get a truly appreciation to the soon after—horse and all, but he escation and they demanded a dollar each to get a truly appreciation to the soon after—horse and all, but he escation to the soon after—horse and all, but he escation to do the soon after—horse and all, but he escation to do the soon after—horse and all, but he escation to do the soon after—horse and all, but he escation to do the soon after—horse and all, but he escation to do the soon after—horse and all, but he escation to do the soon after—horse and all, but he escation to the soon after trying in value to do t inherited her Mother's mild blue eyes and fear you will soon form an unfavorable opinion that brought their mother's loved religion.— the most practual correspondent in the world, mit of Verwins—shivering to be sure, but in fine spirits, Luchad not gove far before They had a thousand things to ask and tell, while I tell you of a delightful excursion I regardless of the hold when contemplating another of our party managed to fall off his which fell unbended this time on the car of had a few days ago to Ve uvies. It was an the sad mothers though she instinctively and impromit execution, and consequent upon the culaucum and Naples, stempt almost at our not like racing, and to declared he would swored them yes and no. as occasion required. arrival of an unexpected and unusually large feet, while in the distance beyond Naples, we not ride another step; but we finally coaxed She gave the loaf to Robert, and taking little mail from bone. Under the influence of the could plainly see the i-lands of Isohia and him to mount the soberest horse in the party. Mary's hand, they entered the house together, cheering mas we had just received, from Provide, and all the small towns about the and ride him on a walk. All this time I The table was already see out by the expect- friends far goer the sea, no enterprise seemed Bhy. The shipping in the harbor from our had kept the guides fast horse and run him ant housekeepers, but there was nothing on too difficult for us to undertake, and the lofty position looked remarkably diminutive, several taces, in every one of which his fleet it that could be construed into anything est ascent of Vesuvius would be but child's and in fact, everything appeared represented noss had enabled me to come out ahead, able, save a cup of molases and some salt.— play for as. It was a bright sunny day— in a miniature. On the opposite side, and which was very gratifying to me. When we have correcting power of a mightler hand the mother cut a slice of bread for each of mat a cloud obsented the azure sky—Dame inland as far as the eye could reach, lofty reached Resina again, about 8 P. M., we than that of man—a dispensation of reproof the half famished children, and sat quietly Nature was arryed in her most propitious garb and snow capped mountains rose up before found our model John awaiting us, and the from high Heaven which it would be well by, nursing the youngest while they are it, Leaving the ship at one o'clock, P. M., we for she had no heart to eat herself. She was landed at the financulate and persuaded a very sorrowfal as she looked at these depend- worthy son of Jehn to give us a passage in ent being, and thought of her failing his vehicle, to Resina. We were in a hurry, we strength, and shading her eyes with her hand encouraged him by sandry presents of tobacthe tears stole silemly down her pale, patient | co and cignis, to pass every other carriage face, and fell among the bright curls of the on the road, which he did in splendid style, unconscious head pillowed so peacefully on to our infinite satisfaction. Arrived at Re- long delay. There was something like, a any ether entireit ever invented and soon her bosom. She had been sorely afflicted .- ina-which is built on the lara and volcanic The husband of her youth had been stricken tufa over iderculaneum-we left our carriage passaver, before we arrived at the brink of carthquakes, volcanic eruptions; and devite down by a falling beam while attempting to and mounted horses; first buying some strong save a sick ellild that had been overlocked | walking sticks to assist as when we reached in the burry and panic, from a burning build- the Cone. The winding, serpentine road, so the us not to approach, and we discentiqued in reading my desciption of it as I ing. The child was saved but he who perill- from Resina up to the Heimitage, is an ex- garding his entreatics, peered curiously down was enjoying the reality, I shall be perfectly ed his life for it, the strong brave hearted cellent one, smoothly graded and paved the into their blackened depths, he seeming satisfied. had perished. The fruit of this union, her greater part of the way, with blocks of the nearly wild with affeight-evidently imagineldest born, her pride of heart, the noble boy hardened lava which resembles the Russ ing the respon sibility of preserving all our whose every movement and expression had preventent in Broadway, New York. It was lives, to have develved solely upon him .-"Years after the boy had left her, when civing night to see us, that is, the four of our seen but the fisences, exhausted crater and Robert Leedom came often to see her in her party who were meing, for one had an unconloneliness, and ventured to tell her at length | querable adversion to that species of amusewas the first flower that greeted the Pilgrims | now he had together at school, and how he had us. Waiving our heavy saicks over our heads sanguine expectations. Standing in a narserious; and her calm, sweet face and hely coming after us I ke the wind. Auxious not in her soul." She had learned to love her greater speed, but the attempt came near besecond husband, and had boin him three fair ing attended with disastrous consequences, children, when the sad dows came, that the for the indignant animal was then doing his gallant ressel in white the had sailed was best and become so exasposated, that he stapwrecked on the dangerous coast near Abes- 1ed short and tried to pitch me over Lis even in the summer time, and saw modether ance our golde went by medike a whill hind, prospect before her whichever way looked, and and soon overtook the restof the party, to we prepared for sour voluntary visit to the knew that the cold, dieary winter was coming whom he explained my situation, and for a quilly, feeling that the "the Lord is a very mit me to try his horse for a few minutes, as pleasant help in time of trouble." She took mine was very unroly and he could manage down the Nitle worn Bible from the mantle, him so much better than L. This touched menced to cough violently. Each one made a and as she read on through the closing chaps his pride and he comented. No sooner was just to get out of the place, calling out to his through le is of n-hes to the base of the Cone Here we left our horses and prepared for the Then the refreshent carriers reased a benefit, a cent. The steep sides of the Cone were We ate all the eggs that had been boiling in covered with snow, and stanling at its base it the hot vapor of a little crevice on the very looked almost a matter of impossibility to brink-we drank all their wine, and approcrawl up it. However, crowds of self-styled printed generally all their limited stock, in an in case we could not make them understand our French. Then came our guide from Re- more desolate yet romantio scene than that hag, who had denounced the inoffensive seal, the magilicent view before its. Pompsi, Hers house. This imprehed to be the one who did us, with green and fertile valleys between shaking he gave us for the next five miles for the citizens of that State to regard. Masthem, contrasting pleasantly with the barren along the beach, jofted our very bones until and chilly appearance the mountains them- half our joints were shaken out of good selves presented. But we did not stop long working order. to gaze on this view, for the Cinfer was At 9 P.M. we were once more aboard the South, and every little occurrence that has groaning beweath us, and we were too anx- ship, well pleased with our excursion, but feel- taken place in the Slave States which could, ious to see its phenomena to admit of any ing that a "four poster" was preferable to by any possibility, be held up to the injury plain where we then were which we had to were in the arms of Morpheus, dreaming of magnified and misrepresented by the great the Crater. This plain was filled with deep innumerable. Thus ended my first excursion sume a greatness which it was far from posand smeking fissures, which our guide be- to Vesuvius, and if you are one-tenth part as been so many similes of his buried father, was a capital place for micing, and we took ad- When we had satisfied our curiosity on that vantage of it in a moment. It was an ex- side, where there was indeed nothing to be smoke, we followed him around to the windward side, where at last we had a view of how he had loved her from the time they had ment, and our guide had not yet overtaken the active crater doubly surpassing our most remained single for her sake, and came back with a whoop and hurrals, we were of like a row pathway, we had on one side the glistento the same of port that he might breathe party of mad men, or salious on horseback, ling show which covered the outer surface of again the same air that she breathed, and which is very much the same. Thefe was the Cone, shining like molten sliver in the besonght her to let him sustain and shield no mistaking the road-it lay clear before sunlight making the steep side of the mounher, to comfort her in sickness and sorrow, 'us, and we tore along up the gentle ascent thin for hundre is of feet below us, look so her, to comfort her in stekness and sorrow, pus, and we tore mong up the genue greene and managerous that we could hardly coming familiar with the servants, and interest gladdened the honest sailors faithful and around the Legacht curves, at breakneck near and dangerous that we could hardly inched to the house and family; it played she gladdened the honest sailors mathematical and around the nequent carres, at provided above the honest sailors have taken to the noise and taming it played beaut, by consenting to become his wife. No speed. We had been under way in this man-imprine convertee rafe, while standing above with the children, came at his master's call, so neat in her habits, so gentle and so indest guide enveloped in a long flowing cloak stiding heallong into another world in a rethatkable short space of time. The appeareyes shone ever with " the beauty that dwelt to be overtaken, I urged my horse to a still ance of the inside of the crater, realized every conception I lind ever formed of the infernal regions. The abyse there was filled with dense, sulphurous smoke, telleuting vividly the ing-ing fires below; while figureat explosions are up masses of huming hild für above the surcomb, and in his generous efforts to save lead; finding that we while't do, he backed face of the mind come, to fall again in the fathoraless depths from which they came. proprie'v of descending into such a dangerods.

she could only we be the wondering little succeeded in coaxing my envalio un into the local refreshment carrier, we sprang over the ones tried by eye dearing art they could read again, the one of the party who was side and down we went plunging deep into A "wise won think of, to attracture attention but in vain averse to racing, on constitutional principles, the asless mid clouds of sulpher and accounting assured the incitation of the party who was side and clouds of sulpher and accounting assured the incitation of the party who was side and clouds of sulpher and accounting the asless and clouds of sulpher and accounting the party who was side and clouds of sulpher and accounting the party who was side and clouds of sulpher and accounting the asless and clouds of sulpher and accounting the party who was side and clouds of sulpher and accounting the party who was side and clouds of sulpher and accounting the asless and clouds of sulpher and accounting the party who was side and clouds of sulpher and accounting the party who was side and clouds of sulpher and accounting the asless and clouds of sulpher and accounting the account the accounting t Impressed by their mother's mournful mood, came up with me and we jogged along slow- aged by cheering shouts from our guides they are their bread almost in silence; and by together-feeling rather chopfailen to above. There was not a particle of snow when they had finished, she arose mechanishink that I had been so shamefully distanced. There—all the air was filled with heat and cally, and laying her habe in its cradle, put and be declaring that if once he got back smoke so dense that we could hardly breathe. them to bed. She heard them say their alive from this exemision, nothing should in a few moments we were standing on the prayers, and bade them good night, and God ever tempt him to go diding on horseback fresh lava, as far flown in the cruter as it was bless them, carefully and tenderly as usual, again. His horse was determined not to go possible to got, and close by the base of the but with that sub-lined, spiritless tone, that along dawly as he wished him to do, and he emenates from a heart without hope. She continued kneeling at their bedside long after she had praved with them, and wept.

This per that never she heads, of the skepers in that hour of agony. No pitying eye did I and hour of agony. No pitying eye did I and hour of agony. No pitying eye did I and there was about there the loving thinkers that here the loving that never she find the skepers in that hour of agony. No pitying eye did I and the party, which will be a father to the fatherless," was about the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese, in answer to ber despiting cry, "I amend in your case, in answer to ber despiting cry, "I amend in your sein a house that here were the fatherless," was about the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese, in answer to ber despiting cry, "I amend in your and a property of the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese, in answer to ber despiting cry, "I are that they are sent to the father was departed as the father to the fatherless," was about the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese, in answer to ber despiting cry, "I are that they are sent to the father were grouping around the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese, in answer to ber despiting cry, "I are that they are sent that he was to be deep that the father should be made in the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese. I can be power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese. I can be power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthese and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthesis and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthesis and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthesis and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthesis and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthesis and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthesis and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynthesis and the power of the spirit came the blessed asynth emenates from a heart without hope. She had hever seen a horse that was to be do of the other. From this new cone the smoke rance, in answer to her despiting cry, "I casy gives of his riding and the skell with pieces. While we were grouping around the scenarios will never leave thee nor forsake thee;" and which he managed his house. Then I effered there, a sudden change of the wind drove the limin a cigar, and while he was lighting it, sincke so densely down upon us that we could raking the fire for the night when something returned, and she alose from he knees tran a ked kim if he would be so kind as to perthe sulpharous fames so affected our langthat we were almost strangled, and all combling as we made through ashes up the side of the crater-it was a sight long to be re--our hair and eves filled with ashes and our clothes strongly impregnated with sulphur. got under the lea of a lock where we resumed ed wearily on, her tired arms searcely able to the sleeping children, and hest are to impode too rapid progress, and the cold bug gave him the pleasurable tidings hold the little joyons creature that laughed ment; there was something in the tone of stantly got in our way and shaking their snow was frozen so hard that it was slippery that her arts were useless, and that the deand crowed, and ever and anon peered into the stranger's voice that came gratefully to leather straps at us, over their shoulders soon as glass on its surface. The utmost care was structive visitations upon his cattle exceeded necessary to prevent as from making a flying ber sto "and care. On the eighth night afleap of 1200 feet to the bottom; and finally ter the seal bad been devoted to the Atlantic, down I went flat on my back and made a it blow tremendously. In the phuse of the meand the will like, the essential framework in the content of place a cliair and reach him, the meand the will like, the essential framework in the content of the place a cliair and reach him, the meand the will like, the essential framework in the content of the place, the place and the content of the place and the place and the content of the place and the place and the place and the place and the content of the place and the plac regular sled of myself-graduating my speed storm a wailing poise at times was beard as sinn-next on the list were our cleven pullers which we were then passing through, could was within a fortuight hanged for murdering and pushers, and finally came two refresh-scarcely be imagined. Before we reached the Hegitimate offspring of her daughter. ment carriers, making the party in all num- the Hermitage, our road for about a quarter . Everything about this devoted home meiber nineteen persons. As we had made no of a mile was soft with ashes, and there one ted away ; sheep round, cattle died, and Prayer is a sovering remedy for sadness bargain about the price to be paid for the of our party was violently thrown from his rervices of our new guides, I expected they horse by the stirrup strap on one side of his none reached maturity, and the savage prowould fleece us, but was a little surprised saddle breaking. He was not much hurt prietor survived everything be leved or cared when arrived at the summit of the mountain however, although considerably shocked by for. He died blind and miserable. There is services of our new guides, I expected they horse by the stirrup strap on one side of his

nge. After our supper we started on again as frue.

Respectfully yours, E. D. R. THE TAME SEAL.

It is selden that one meets with a more ouching recital, in reference to the brute reation, than the following, which is quoted from an Lib work :

AN IRISH STORY.

About forty years ago a young seal was taken in Clay Bay, and domesticated in the kitchen of a gentleman whose house was situnted on the sen shore. It grew apace, beand as the old man described, it was as fond as a dog, and playful as a kitten.' Daily the seal went one to fish, and after providing for his own wants; brought in a salmon or a trent to his master.

His delight in the summer was to bask in the sun, and in the winter, to lie before the to or if permitse, to creep into a hirge ove en, which at that time formed the regular apnendege of an Irish kitchen. For four years he scal was domesticated, when, unfortunately, in that country the crippaun-a kind of alytic effection of the limbs which generally ends fatally-attacked some black catthe belonging to the master of the house.infernal regions below, by divesting ourselves Some died, others became infected, and the of a lauparihous clothing Leaving it in charge customary cure, by changing them to dryer

A " wise woman" was consulted, and this hag assured the credulous owner that the mortality among the cows was caused by his keeping an unclean beast about his habitation-the harmless and amusing seal. It must be made away with immediately, or the. crippana will continue; and the charms be unable to avert the maindy. The superstithe seal was put on board a boat and carried out beyond Clear Island and, there commit ted it to the deep, to manage for himself the ly retired to Yest, and, next morning, a servent awakened her master to say the seat was quietly eleeping in the oven. The poor animal over n ght came back to the beloved me, crept through an open window, and ok possession of his favorite resting place. Next morning another cow was reported to be unwell. The seal must now be removed. A Galway fishing bont was leaving Westport on her return home, and the master, undertook to carry off the real, and not put him off till he had gone leagues beyond Lunis B. film.

Wearred with his rough and unusual vovsulted. She avered that it was always pulucky to kill a seal, but suggested that the animal should be deprived of sight and a third time carried out to sea. To this hellish proposition the be-ofted creatures who owned the house consented; and the affectionate and confiding creature awas cruelly robbed of sight for which he had resigned his native element. Next morning, writing in agony, the mutilated seal was embarked, taken outside Clear Island, and for the last time committed to the waves. A week passed over and things became worse instead of better. The cattle of this trueulent wretch died fast, and this inferna

It was a bright moonlight night, and a trators of this inhuman deed. The detestable blighted was the corn of several children, for it lifteth up the woul of God, who is our

NEW ENGLAND, MORALITY.

De degenerating into the very lowest depths nourishing the affections which are rights of moral and social impurity. Its high estable placed, that we shall best be able to combat tate—its reputation for morality, honesty the bad ones, and virtue, has departed—no man knows My constant fort would be to have such whither." And who does not see, in the great attentional come into my sachusetts has been among the first of those States which have manifested a bigoted and we love. intolerant spirit towards the citizens of the of that portion of our Confederacy, has been sessing, for the sole purpose of gratifying an intense hatred of the South-to show up' the horrors of slavery, and to exhibit to the world the superior morality of New England. See how much polier are we, seemed to be the burthen of their songs. The South was black with corruption, debauchery and was no debauckery there; no immorality, no impurity. Her ministers were the embodiment of every good grade and virtue; her people lived a life of "gentleness and peace," and all their ways were pleasant ways. Her press claimed all the perfection, which genuine modesty would permit, and her Barlingames and Bankses were Statesmen beyond compare. Though the ashes of Webster sleep within the tomb of Marshfield, and the feet of many a traveller from abroad turn from their journeying to tread the sacred carth above, and many a tear waters his Lonored grave; though Everett still lives, and thousands still drink in the beautiful melody of his words as they listen to his praises of the 'Father of his Country;' though the memory of Hancock is cherished by every one who loves the country he assisted in reasing -yet, in Massachusetts, are, Burlingame and Panks are as far above either Webster or Ercrett, or John Hancock, as the stars in heavon are above the clods in the valley. The trial of Kalloch is still fiesh in the memory of all; and the eggerness with which is congregation hastened to do that which a ury of his countymen would not do-acquit im of the crime and accept him as their spiritual adviser ere the filth of the court room was off his garments, is also well remembered. The recent wife poisining in Massachu-etts villager, are not forgotten, and now we have the trial of another minister for adultery, and a divorce case, growing out of the Coburn and Dalton affair, whereby young Summer lost his life. What a shocking spectacle of Massachusetts, morality! Who will say, we repeat, that the hand of a mightier power than of man is not upon this people-administering a rebuke which they can not disregard 1-Albany Statesman

A MISDEAL IN LOVE. The Keokuk Gay City relates the following:

Ed. H. paid his addresses to Rosa, the day en to make private appointments with ther darling Ed. One of these eventuated funnily enough. Ed. was to come to the house and wait outside until the lights were turned off. I will plant thee a garden of gorgeous loseliand then she would quietly let him in. The pess, called from nature's a designs war evening came, and Resa thought her parents mest times and smelling incense. never would retire. But after a while the The second evening closed. The cerrant was into the back parlor and sat down in the doctor sought his night-enn, and Rosa slipped scratched at the door - it was of course the had gone to bed, lighted a lamp, turned off dark. Her mother, thinking all the others house dog-she opened it and in came the the gas, and went up stairs to bed. But the men who are feally the most fond of the while she was standing in the ball at the ladies who cherish for them the highest reage, he testified his delight to find himself at home—then stretching himself before the glowing embers on the hearth, he fell asleep.

The master of the boase was apprised of his by its uncertain light. As she three open to respect of respect for the works and respect to respect of respect for the re head of the stairs, she heard a gentle rap at' spect-are seldom the most popular with unexpected and unwelcome visit. In this ex- the door, in rushed Ed., and seizing her in to respectful actions towards them and rehis arms, began such a siege of kissing, as pre spect is mistaken by sticke for neglect or vented her from calling out for aid.

Poor, Ed. did not discover his error until he had called her his darling Rosa about 90 times, and received upon his brown blow in was anger.

Whether his devotion and persistency won the mother io his favor is not stated, but Ed. and Rosa were married shortly afterwards. with the full consent of the parents. It prored with Ed.'s love making, as it often does with cards, a misdeal often changes the luck.

Not so very " Looney." At the Insane the well known philanthropist, had passed through an insane git made one of a cluster. culled together by the occasion, to a sign Girl Who was the lady whom wo saw

DEWDROPS OF WISDOM There is no cream like that which rises of There is no danger in sharp truth, if the only joy and consolution.

Volume 14. Ramber 20

It is idle worship to substitute form to the spirit; but it is a value philosophy which

Any truthful examination into our seliens must be good; but we ought notice he detre fied with it, until it becomes both searching and progressive. Theisturdy land of the Pilgrims appears to their by adding to our good purposes and speciacle which Massachusetts mesents to day presence—that no one should for any reasons soften or suppress it. As it takes a disciond to cal and shape at diamond, so there are faults so obstinate that they are worn away only by lifelong confact with similar faults in many of those

It is a sensitive self love, that cannot for give the self love of others. The more selfove we have the more severe our consurer. The less we love ourselves, the more considers ate we are of others.

LAUGHABLE MISTARE. Finnklin was press ent at the inecting of some literary roofer sing Paris, where many pieces were feed and not well understanding the French when declaims, ed, but wishing to appear polite, resolved to applicate when he should see a lady of his adquaintance, Madame de Bonflers, express satisfaction. After the rending was overshim grandson said to him : Why grandpapent you always appland, and louder than any was black with corruption, debauchery and body else, when they are practing you. The sin; Massachusetts was pure and spotless as the white roled angels of heaven. There ter to the company. This reminds the of the mistake that the amous General Moreau made, when in this country, He attended Commencement at Cambridge a murical so lety among the atolepts, sang a song, the chorus of which was to-morrow—to-morrow. Imperfectly acquainted with English, the French officer funcionals. was a poetical tribute, and that the stance closed up with a mention to his name to Moreau-to Moreau, so that every time the purase occurred, he rose and bowed to the singers, to the infinite amusement of those who saw into the General's histake. Juke, did you ever study grammail "What case is Mr. S. ?" "He's an objective case." How so Free System Because he objected to paying his sub-scription that he has been owing for two ars.

. What is a moun ! "Don't know but I know what renoun is. Well, what is it?
Running off without paying the prister, and getting on the bleck list as a define

What is a conjunction for the American conjunction with a constable Never employed by printers until the last ex-

That's right,—go take your seat and quit shooting paper wads at the girls.

ADOLPHUS GETS INSPIRID. Dearest, I will build thee a cott all corered with ivy, in some seconded vale, close by a purling brook, meandering over its peb-bly bottom, incessantly balloling dulcet fink-ling strains, Love, love, love, where the at-mosphere is redulent of soothing appropriate, mas, that makes the eye languish, and the ghier of Dr. P. of that city, but his suit was beart dissolve in the liquid fires of love not favored by her parents, and she was drive where the balms morning zephyra sigh in the deuse-forest's leafy mazes chanting love's melody—where the tipy songsters that whire in otherial space warble nought but love "Dolphy, dear, don't forget to have a patch for encumbers and onyune—they're to hice pickfed."

ED "I liave found," says Addison, "Mat want of love and the former

"Will you take this woman to be your wedded wife?" asked an Illinois magistrate of times, and received upon his brown blow in exchange for a kiss. But hearing himself called an impertinent villain, he fiel from the house, as greatly chagrined as Mrs. P. Do you think I'd besuch a plagued foolsage. Whether his devotion and persistency won from the quitin frolic if I warn't determined to have ber. Drive on with your branges and dont ax foolisd questions. Do you know Mr. John Brown "Yes my dear." "Yes my dear."

"Is he not a descrying man ?"

Not so very "Looney." At the Insane "Yes he deserves a flogging, and if he Asylum at Ulica, New York, after Miss Dix lants you bomo again, I'll give it to him. The power of a horse is understood to be that which will elevate $500 pornia one foot per minute, equal to about 90 ponds at