"WE ARE ALL EQUAL BEFORE GOD AND THE CONSTITUTION." James Enghanan,

Montrose, Susquehanna County, Penn'a, Chursday Morning, Angust 13, 1857.

Volinc 14, Anmber 32.

Select Poetry.

McCollum & Gerritson, Proprietors.

THE OLD PLAY-GROUND. I sat an hour to day, John. Beside the old brook stream Where we were school boys in old time. When manhood was a dream; The brook is choked with falling leaves, The pond is dried away. I scarce believe that you would know The dear old place to day.

The school-house is no more. John. Beneath our locust trees; The wild rose by the window side No more waves in the breeze; The scattered stones look desolate. The sod they rested on Has been plowed up by stranger hands, Since you and I were gone.

The chestnut tree is dead, John, And what is sadder now-The broken grape-vine of our swing Hangs on the withered bough. I read our names upon the bark. And found the publies rare-Laid up beneath the hollow side, As we had piled them there.

Beneath the grass-grown bank, John, I looked for our old spring, That bubbled down the alder path Three pages from the swing: The rushes grow upon the brink, The pool is black and hare. And not a foot, this many a day It seems has trodden there.

That wandered up the hill. Tis darker than it used to be. And seems so lone and still! The birds sing yet among the boughs-Where once the sweet grapes hung, But not a voice of human kind,

I took the old blind road, John,

I sat me on the fence, John, That lies as in olden times, The same half pannel in the path. We user so oft to climb: I thought how o'er the bars of life Our playmates had passed on, And left me counting on this path, The faces that are gone.

Where all our voices rung.

Itliscellancons.

THE TRANSMIGRATION.

trade, consigned me to the care of one of his be founded upon his language. correspondents at Memel; and by him (whole He never entered into the saliped himself. was the kindest friend I ever had in the but spoke with egral in lifference of all the ety of that active and intelligent little town. My ultimate destination in fife was still un the Desert, and in Delhi, and why in the but anost of the students had drank, as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

We call a didn't be excited to the excited but anost of the students had drank, as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground and the students had drank, as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground and the students had drank, as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground and the students had drank, as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground and the students had drank, as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground and the students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground and the students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground are the students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground and the place are the students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground are the students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground are the students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground are the students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground are the students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground are the students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the place.

The ground are the purpose of taking our daughter to walk students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the purpose of taking our daughter to walk students had drank as I have lake which formed the ornament of the purpose of taking or two controls are the pu son, had resolved that I should be able to care hotel, in Quay street, he had resided for some ty on the house's correspondence in the Ger | months; and having a passion, as he told us. man language. My uncle, who was a flourishing for the study of medicine and anatomy, had surgeon in Lancashire, was earnest for my lidned the sulents at the ho pital, and was adopting his profession, and offered many in- the most attentive and laborious of us all ducements for my exchanging the three-leg- He was also the most assidnous in his decoged stool for the natty gig and sharp lancet, tions to Dutch, Holland and Prusian Kersh. My mother and sisters favored the medical was-er; not that he seemed to like the Equors his disease. scheme. It was so much more genteel than themselves, but they furnished him with an tons of M. D. after my name, and, sometimes ed into the excesses of hibrity without for a even of three small letters before it, as if I moment being raised in spirits and continued were already physician to the Court. So, by to be at death's head, in the midst of the of all that part of country.

was left, to follow my own bent. At eight to him upon the subject. Gosthe, and smoked meerschaums, as if I had the bars of its cage.

whom I thought younger sister, of Venus and brought to the hospital ward.

the Graces; nor of the gentlemen -now, most tion. I will go at once to the incidents I al- die, he will actually die of pain." luded to at the beginning of this little histoty; again assuring the reader, that, though so ment when they occurred. Frent a portion of every day in the counting to groan, though his gony must be excrubiouse of Mr. Ziegler. To please my uncle, I cinting."

effort to sustain self command had driven me patient. into recklessness and inhumanity. I gloried pert's manners were the most dissolute, and Rupert, he changed his tone. his language the most heartless of all the elique I clon, ed to. Yet, see him while he ed the most prinful hurts, you would have a woman, as he had certainly the lightness of a weman's hand! It became the fashion for some half-dozen of us to adjourn to Rupert's room. This was at the end of a long gallery in the hospital; that led to the patients' beds; the intermediate pice he'n roccupied by the lecture hall, and a room or two fentering on another land ng.) inhabited by the seconds of the estab and strong tumblers of spillts and water, we have set off to settle some disputed point of shuff box, and pretended to hold it to my a sufferer's illness by instricting him in the tion, we have staggered back through a long with mock a tentiveness, led me down the passage, and tesmed our pipes and potations, passage. They called me Miss or the Franlack on these things with shame; but I was a succession to my uncle's practice, in Lana dly on affectation. So I beltowed forth my truculent and unfeeling remarks in the same bravadoing tone as the others did, and thought! I was in a fair was to supplant Coop er and Abernethy, when I had ourraged every sentiment of respect for the living or the

The oldest of the party was a man, who, out any surname, which in sed (however, it buck were continually worse and worse. Lots might be known by the police) was never of sunt buck were continually worse and worse. Lots leave it again and restore my original form.

He lay down upon Rupert's bed at the end shore, where they arrived about twelve. conding what coun ryman he was. He spoke lowing day. German in what appeared a foreign profitn-Thirty years ago, I was sent to finish my ciation to the natives of Memel; but, as the kept his own counsel, and only, in more ureducation by a year or 'two's residence in linest elequence of Berlin and Munich would Germany. My father being in the Baltie have appeared the same, no argument could world.) I was soon introduced to all the soci | nations be had seen. He had travelled to the wood yards and saw pits; and they had vis- escape from the pains of reflection. He rush a sort of compromise, it was arranged that gavest company-sad; silent, and at times when I went to Memel. I was to study the really appalling from the apparent intensity language, spend an hour or two a day in of his grief. We were all, of course, busy Herr Ziegler's office, and attend certain lec- with conjectures as to the causes of this pertures given by a celebrated professor in the petual gloom. Love, war, misfortune, crime, hospital, which was also the medical school were each in their turn considered the source es of his regret; but he was so distant in After my first year, I was definitely to manner, and perhaps so superior to us in age choose; and, during that probationary jeried that we had rever but a question point blank . "Your watch is then teneminutes fast," re | welling forth at a wound in the breast. He teen, learning like reading and writing comes I don't know whether Camillus might just ways exact to a second. I have had deeper so sucred—who so short a time before was I le rushed wildly to the bed where Camil-by nature. I used to think that the atmost ly have been called good-looking. I should experience," he added with a weak laugh, filled with wicked hate. 'Hay I said to us had hin down, tossed away the jacket phere of a place became saturated with its -ay not, judging from my own impression; which revealed for the first time the extent myself, did he exer receive any oncourage, and cloak vit fautic gesture, and laid his eyeing each other closely, apparently to spy language, so that you inhaled grammar and for, in spite of co receness of feature, and ele of his unsobriety -" deeper experience, I tell ment - a smile, a gift, a look ! Tresolved to hand upon the shoulder of the recumbent fig- out the weak points sparring for some four pronunciation with your breath. Attitudes gince of shape and movement, the effect, up you, a hundred fold, than any man in Europe, satisfy thyself by personal inquiry. I drew ure. It sank beneath this touch—the cost or five minutes; and no attempt at any serious brings many to their bier. of body, expressions of countenance also, are on the whole was repulsive and painful. I for I have gone through the process myself." The body into a deeper part of the recess, and contracted as if the sleeves were empty—the demonstration. At longth Bradley got in a That champaign is the cause of many real great helps in the acquisition of a foreign always felt that there was something wrong A general laugh followed this boast, but going t rough the necessary form, I animated whole body became depressed—and the blow on Rankin's right cheek, drawing the pages. tongue; which, indeed, ceases to be foreign -s mething inexpressibly unfitting in the Camillus was displeased. He looked steinly it once mers. My own I left covered with wretched man turned upon us a counter first blood. Sparring continued, Bradley getting by the mere fact of its being, in the land of fineness and minliness of the outward form; round, its birth; and, in about six months, by look- and in the uneasy, scared, almost savage look "You are pleased, gentlemen, to consider into the city; and rode straight to my own will depart from my recollection. ing at people's faces, and hearing the Baltic about the eves, and strange contracted action this as rhodomontade. I am not in the habit house. I went up stairs and found my wife . "I should have thought of this," he said, Sea, eating German dishes, and having all in the muscles of the lips. It appeared as if of stating what is not the fact. I tell you I in the bondoin." Sea, eating German dishes, and having all in the muscles of the most spent to port which is my thoughts cast into a German mould, I the spirit within him rebelled against its can have died against its can have died against its can have died against its can be saw "Count Camillas!" she cried, with in Fig. and these are but the remains of his skeleton. Bridley got in a blow on the left check, supped by portly gents would support many gurgled and splottered Dutch, and quoted finement, and beat itself like a tiger against the incredulity in his audience-"I will say nant surprise, what entitles you to enter And this is my respectively prison house." he

One diendfully cold and dark day in Febnever been a denizen of any other land. One dieadfully cold and dark day in Feb. Nay, but, Herr Camillus," replied Rupert, "Love, madam,' I said, and was harriffed. He feil upon the floor, and for a while the I have not much to say of the society of ruary, next the end of my year of residence, assuming a more serious tone than before, to find I was speaking with the voice of my nerves of Rupert and the others were confthe town; for I was too young to judge of the good natured Rupert Braunfeldt announ- "you forget that we know nothing of your friend. You surely do not repent of the pletely shattered. As for me, I sat and lookit at the time, and nothing is so deceptive as cod-to us, with many chucklings and congrat- name or history. We have been delighted hopes you have given me?" atempts at reminiscences of an earlier period; ulations, that a dreadful accident had hap with your society; but, before we can attack for you inevitably look at all the past through pened on board of a Danish ship in the har weight to an unsupported assertion, such as sir! but stay-what bloodmarks are those but the students soon recovered their force. the speciacles of the present. I will, there- bor, by the bursting of a gun, and that one of you have now made, your own excellent upon your bosom? Where is my husband? for nothing of the amiable young ladies, the worst wounded of the survivors had been judgment-will show you that we require some Ah! I know all. You have killed him.

of them, in all human probability, passed ters have torn his muscles without much inaway-from whom I received so much atten- jury to any of the great vessels, so that, if re-

"Who is he ?" said some one of our set "A passenger on board the packet," reare as fresh in my recollection as in the mo- fellow, too, for his pockets were well filled racity. with notes and thalers. A strong minded In the fulfilment of my father's intention, I hero as ever died at the stake; for he disdains had also entered my name as a student at the . At seven o'clock we were all assembled in thirty of these young Æ-enlapiuses, who at- in the first or private ward, in which there hear.

"Doctor!" he said, "I have been wandering in my mind. Is there no hope in science? performed his duty; see with what gentleness must be die in sal this agony?-tell me, tell he handled the wound, how sofdy he handage me !" Rupert, gently, compossionately, quite different from his ordinary style, answered thought he had the tenderness of the heart of him that there was reason to fear the worst; but that some of the pain might be alleviated, and that he was to continue as quiet as pos-

"That cannot be," said the poor fellow. There can be no quiet for me-no, not when the drend hour is past. I wish it where come, for if I survive to night, worse, far worse than death will come upon upon me to I hment. Of en in the sucke of our pipes, saway my eyes, but not without being noticed by my companions. One pulled out his no-e as if I were fainting. Another took me ecuch ; then, without a feeling of compune- under the arm as we left the room; and, when the question was set at rest. I look lein, all the night, and I began to think that he youngest of the party. A different be cashire, was not worth the pains of a profeshaving would have been thought either cow- sional-education. I determined to devote house, and leave Astley Cooper to the undisturbed enjoyment of his wealth and fame. At inte-vals of half an hour or so my comrends. Caminus looked about the control of the; and it also appeared that accompanies it mean by vears of a re, with the most sad and doubtful made to ascertain the meaning of the words of dying." No success attended these endeavors, He guard than we had ever seen him. . The dying man seemed to have a fascination for him. He hever missed any of the pilgrimages to his bed-side, and always returned more and more interested in the progress of

"He will die before twelve," hieusped

"How so?" enquired Rupert, "Have you had as much experience as I have? I have seen twenty in one year in this Lo'y estably on like a dog!" ment, and can tell by the light of a man's . " His eyes flashed fire. "Fool " he said and, at last, gazing into the room with wild ere how long he has to live, as easily as what is you are throwing away your life." Schock it is by looking at his watch. This man will die in fifty-seven minutes from this.

"And it is now ten minutes past eleven!" cried the young student, triumphantly.

plied Camillus, "and Her Rupert is not al- looked beautiful as he lay so calin there, and when I vivified this place of torture."

more, I am dead now."

Nay, but, Herr Camillus," replied Rupert, foundly ignorant of."

"You are right," said Camillas-being in that state in which an appeal to one's sense is the highest compliment that can be paid -

"Agreed! hear him! fill up once more! true form." give me a fresh light!" cried the different

"I know not how to begin," said Camillus, College hospital'; and, by a great'effort over Rupurt's room; a vast kettle was piping on regaining command over his faculties by an quisite to be borne; for I knew that if decay my natural repugnance, persuaded myself the stove; bottles and tobacco-pouches were effort of his will, and looking almost as if he once began, there was no possibility of reanionce or twice a week to walk the wards. Fa ranged upon the table, and anxious inquiries were speaking out his own reflections without mating the corpse, and law was so slow. A miliarity had its usual effect, and in if the made as to the condition of our interesting reference to his audience. "I am not even week, at length passed, an examination was "He was left entirely to the good pleasure body I occupy is as unknown to me, as re. Despuir now took possession of me. I felt I in inspecting cases of suffering and pain, and of Dame Nature," said our hoat. "Doctor gards its previous his ory, as a hotel you may was doomed to be Camillus forever; and was to all appearance utterly hardened Wolfgaug had merely looked at him and pro- put up in for a single night in a journey when the next interrogatory was made, and against the sanctities and majesty of death, nonneed his case hopeless. A few anodynes through a foreign country; but that other my body had been recognized in the hollow I say to all appearance, for the whole of these were to be administered; but even that was life which grew round me for thirty years of the wood, unwounded, and no proof could excesses was the result of an inward fear and left to the discretion of the resident curator, bringing me experiences from my infant be brought forward of the manner in which horror, which I could never shake off, and which was merely hid belind the mask of which was merely hid belind the mask of cruelty and disregard. In this outward beliaving to which was not alone. I will not judge the hearts of my companions. May they all least to 95th, who was all have higher views as I have higher views as I have and reacquired a boly reverence, even for the empty casket ing our first pipes we resolved to visit the subject of all this talk. We passed along the soult was a human size of an all this talk. We passed along the soult was passed as a human size of a correspondence of the case of friends, and they have higher views as I have a least, the great struggle would not though boyhood, filling, trushed to my house. I was driven with twenty-fix still alive, I doubt not they will out and by fair decisions.

I had died, I was dismissed. In distraction to they will out and by fair decisions.

I had died, I was dismissed. In distraction to they will out and by fair decisions.

I was driven with twenty-fix still alive, I doubt not they will out and by fair decisions.

Ald to 95th, the out which squints awfully to out and by fair decisions.

Ald to 95th, the out which squints awfully which squints aw horror, which I could never shake off, and The pain was increasing every minute; and, days, leading me through boyhood, filling, I had died, I was dismissed. In distraction

There must have been from twenty five to opening the door at the end, found ourselves his faithful Fay. But enough. You shall had carrried the plague in every breath.

lowed him in his walks through the hospital. object of our search. Rupert held the candle; no de birth and good possessions, and six sold his goods : Heft Prague forever. On the days when a difficult operation was to the only light in the miserable abartment years ago was united to the most beautiful. Some of the party in the course of this narbe performed, our number was increased by except the faint beams of a dingy lamp at the and most affectionate of wives. For two ative, had fallen ashep, some had filled fresh the attendance of two or three surgeons of end of the second chamber beyond-which years nothing disturbed the perfect felicity of pipes; and Rupert took the narrator by the the town; and fine dis ussions which arose shone in at the half open door. We heard our union; but, at that time, there came a wrist, and felt his pulse. round the patients' bed were frequently pro- nothing except quick and convulsive breath- man to the town who soon attracted univerlonged over beer and perhaps, cold ham and ing; but, when the light was thrown upon the sal attention by the display of his wealth, and little; you are feverish. I advise you to bread, till far into the night. The curator of couch, we saw a face so pale, so ghastly, that, also, I may say, by the elegance of his manthe hospital was a young fellow who had dis- for a moment, human feeling took possession ners and handsomeness of his person. I be- betake yourself to bed." But, hark a scream; suburbs for a week with his "trainer," and tinguisted Limself by amazing skill, not only of our hearts, and we we were respectfully si- came intimate with him, and introduced him the patient is near his end. in the learned or scientific parts of the pro lent. There was a startled wildness in the to my home. Don't smile and wink as if you in the learned or scientific parts of the pro lent. There was a startled wildness in the to my home. Don't smile and wink as if you | They all hurried along the passage. I ac dispensable to a contest in the ring. Little, British indignation at the violation of the fession, but as a most expert operator. His eye when he became aware of our presence, perceived the common result of such navise comparied them, but had no courage to enter however; we are toll, seemed to be known peace, commanded the combatants, in the name was Rupert Braunfeldt; and, as if to and instantly, by a great effort, he quelled the introductions. It had a very different termi- the room. I heard enough; grouns, shrieks, or talked of about him on the street corners, show that talent and energy in a profession agonizing sounds we had heard, and, half nation from what you expect. The stranger broken exclamations, in which the consciousare qualities quite apart from a man's ordina- ausing himself, cried out, "Not yet, not yet! was delightful in conversation from the vari-Try character and habits I must say that Ru -I am not ready yet!" and then, recognising ed tores of his information; there was no the bodily sufferings—and at last, all of a had kept himself from public observation. ter; science, such as is known in Europe had like a blow upon my ear after it was so thrill no secrets reserved from him; and, unfortued with the hideous sound. In a minute or

> " He had lived among the Brahmins of Inthem had learned mysteries which have been dreadful." laughed at in shallow coepticism by the lest, laughed at in shallow reepticism by the lest. Snow and sleet dashed against the windows might perhaps be rounded a little and knock-but which gave him influence and authority as we came along the passage, and the wind ed over a few times, but of his ultimate incover the occult faculties of things, and put howled loudly outside. Nobody could resist cess he seemed to have no doubt. our friendship had teached a certain point, he offered to communicate some of those mystety. I, however, felt no drawback from the and pain. pride of knowledge at first, but walked about with my hearthpuffed up with the secret conse ourness of power. Meantime, his intimner in my house mereased; and at last I perceived that his eyes were fixed upon the beautiful face and form of my wife, with looks of un said. mistakeable admiration I became jealous, but without the slightest reason from anything in the conduct of my wife. This howmyself to good Herr Z egler and his counting ever, seemed only to embitter my feelings towards the rival who tried to supplant me without a look ereign of encouragement.-All this time I concealed the alteration of my feelings from my friend; we went on with panions adjourned along the sounding passon for experiments as before. He taught me sage, and renewed their inspection of the the most hidden and most awful of his pow-

Germany, was generally called Camillus with of a death-hed—and the reports they brought fore the blood had grown cold, and how to see not what I have promised." might be known by the police) was never of tumblers and tobacco were interchanged as I have done, this ofen; and once-but I by any of his to the exact period when the patient would think I have said enough. You know what over his body, and concealed his head and anchor, and, the passengers were landed in rends. Camillus looked about thirty-four die; and it also appeared that attempts were I mean by having gone through the process

You have not told us how your jealousy was was dead silence among us all. The simmer- Black Rock, were already on the ground.

to corrupt her fidelity to her misters, and tem its were made to turn the handle; and, ly along the wood, dived into the dell, and with the test of the hospital before he left the Rankin. saw my friend leaning against a tree. "I know all !' I said, and struck him with rid the world of a villain." "We fought with desperation, and in a minute or two I was gazing on the body of the dreadful wounds. inv rival, from which a pool of blood was

"I, sir? I gave you no hopes. Leave me dream. I was too horrified even to tremble; other guarantee than the word and honor of a Help! help! and ringing the bell which lay once more. The groans gradually subsided "E excellent ca-e," he said. "The splin- gentleman whose antecedents we are all pro on the table, she never ceased to call for as- as the distance increased, and at last ceased left eye, closing it entirely up; Rankin sistance till half a dozen of the domestics had come armed into the room. The full horror of my position burst upon me.

" Maria ! I said, ' for Heaven's sake hear "and I will tell you my story, and then you me for an instant! I am your husband, in many years have intervened, its circumstances plied Rupert; "that's all I know, -a rich will perhaps change your opinion of my ve spice of present appearances. Let me go but for an hour, and I will come to you in my

"I was burried off, in spite of all I could members of the meeting. "Now then, fire say. I was laughed at as a madman when I asserted my true identity. I was lodged in prison. I felt every hour a torture too exmyself. I scarcely know who I am. This undergone, and I was committed to prison -

Tired at last, of fruitless efforts, I took all the tended the lectures of Dr. Wolfgang, and fol- was only one bed, and that occupied by the "I lived in the city of Prague, a person of money which Camillus had in his lodging; I

"Herr Camillus," he said, " you sleep too

They all hurried along the passage. I ac-subject of which he was not apparently mas- sudden, there was a deep silence. It fell no secrets reserved from him; and, unforthed with the hideous sound. In a minute or himself very quiet before "going to work." nately, his studies had somehow taken him two the jatty case into the gallery, and Rulle considered himself in pretty good, though pert carefully closed the door. "Another tem' ler," he said, " will enable

Snow and sleet dashed against the windows with which his story had been received.

"You too !" exclaimed Camillus; " but a few words that my friend had attempted the farther end of the passage. Violent at the throng. chamber where the man had died. Now we heard the rapid pit-pat of naked feet on the the flat of my sword. "Draw, or I shall kill | wooded floor of the gallery; compressed slikeks accompanied the approaching visitor;

shirt; and, through the open frill, we saw is intolerable. I knew not what I was doing leaves, and, leaping on my horse, gailoped nance so writhing with despair that it never in another on his opponent's chin, when the slings of old.

cried!" this agony of pain?"

He feil upon the floor, and for a while the on the proboses and going down. ed on the dreadful scene like a person in a They raised the sufferer and bore him between their arms through the long gallery entirely. For a quarter of an hour I waited down. impatiently for the return of my friends. At last Rupert came in, subdued and looking down. very sober.

main staircase. It is an awkward business, the worst of it, and going down. It became and I caution you not to mention what you evident that Rankin was no match for his anhave seen. The man is dead at last, and the tagonist, and that the result was merely a authorities will suppose that Camillus has question of time. left the town."

of justice came from Denmark, and brought in Copenhagen. In the person of the wounded passenger they recognized the assassin .-was believed that he had been suddenly summoned home.

This is the tale I promised as an instance. of what strange things may come within the Rankin falling without a blow. Referee deexperience of very unlikely men; and if there cided in favor of the latter. The referee, a are any of my companions and fellow stu- Buffalo man, was determined that the men dents of the year eighteen hundred and baving come so far to fight, should have it which squints awfully

From the Buffalo Courier of August 3d. AND RANKIN. AND KANKIN.

The following report was communicated for publication by a party present at the contest described:

The absorbing topic of conversation Buffalo on Friday and Saturday last was the prize fight to take place on Saturday between the two Philadelphia pugilists, Bradley and leave him in the next room to his pains, and Rankin. The latter has been in the city and kept up their exercise which is deented inand at those places where the "fancy" gener-Bradley arrived on Thursday and took lodgings at a hotel in Exchange street, keeping not extraordinary condition, and expressed the belief in a rather indifferent manner, that dia and the Buddhists of Thiber, and from us to talk over the scene, and the night is he should be able to conquer his opponent with-him in short, in possession of what is no the invitation, and we resumed our seats. Brutal as are the scenes that always irreverence to call superhuman powers. When round the stove; and, by the light of the have attended and inevitably attend contests now expiring candle, made ourselves a fresh of this sort, from their inception up to their mixture and lighted our pipes. The scene | conc'u in it is useless to disguise the fact that morrow. Oh, let me die at once?" I turned tions gifts to me, and, with the folly of inex had been so appalling that for a while it si- every detail relating to them is read with perience, I accepted the frightful responsibili | lanced even the e practiced despisers of death | more or less avidity by all classes of society, from those professing the greatest refinement Camillus p ke first. He was excited, and to those neither professing nor possessing any till hore malice at the incredulity or apathy at all. The same spirit that leads men to the race course, to the execution of a crimin-"The man in the next room must have al, or to the court room where the disgusting end of nearly every round knocked his man been guilty of some great offence," he at last recital of licentionsness and the shocking details of murder are to be elicited, takes men "Perliaps he murdered some friend who of all a rets to wire as the prize fight. It was each ten or twelve rounds, disputes arose had paid attention to his wife," replied a this that caused the decks and cabins of a among the "fancy" outside, which ended in youth, who had not joined in the conversal propeller and three smaller vessels to be tion before, and who took this opportunity crowded with persons de irons of seeing the eyes. I showing just what he thought of the narra- contest between Bradley and R nkin. All profissions—the learned and unlearned, and al. metch already having been professed, and most every class in the community-we're on are beneath my notice -- yet, for my own represented. Not less than two thousand gerald. satisfaction, I will give you proof. I will fill persons, it is estimated, were present as specthe limbs of that wre ched being with new laters. The prope for Globe, having on board face beneath a fur jacket. Rupert touched small boats. As there were of these probahis forehead then these preparations were bly a hundred, a landing was soon effected. "No, no! we all cried, some languing, completed, ingressed our places. There from this side, who had crossed the River at by a friend will illustrate:

ome the tower clock at the wing of the hose samed once to watch for my wife in a deep to encounter the horrors of cold and storm twenty minutes past four. The intervening paral sounded eleven, the sufferings of the recess of the wood, to which she was in the on our way through the empty streets. When time was spent in enting, drinking, sincking, "Rallo, uncle Billy," said the friend, "I wounded man became more intense. Whether habit of driving in the summer weather for a few minutes had passed we found our con with now and then a small fight, by way of thought you had joined the chirth? it had been to steel themselves against the the purpose of taking our daughter)o walk strained taciturnity very isksome; and, once prelude, by enthusiastic individuals whose afready told you, more than usual before their It chanced my wife did not go on that over a sleep. There was no means of finding this chosen was the same on which took place repeated visits to the ward. Among the rest, sion and when I rode out to join her, as out, and at last our impatience was growing the fight between Harry Lazarus and Horri usual, I was surprised to find the nurse in irrepressible, when suddenly we were startled gan, about a month since; and immediately tears, and greatly agitated. She told me in by hearing a loud knocking at the door at upon its being agreed upon, thither pressed ;

Some li the time was occupied, and some deliver her into her tempter's hands. She finally, a dash against the woodwork sent it difficulty experienced in agreeing upon a refpointed as she spoke to the hollow where he flying from its hinges. There was nobody eree, but finally both parties agreed upon a be dipped the same time. Well, the minishad disappeared; and, without another word in that end of the of building, for Rupert had Buffalonian. The seconds then too ed up for I dismounted from my horse, walked forried | shut and locked the door of communication | the choice of corners, which was won by

The men who were in carriages outside, were then called to the ring. Bradley enter- keerful; and wiped his face, and led him out; ed first, and "pecked." He appeared in fine condition, his arms, legs, a chest well developed, and looking as though he could endure and horror-struck eyes, we saw the face of any amount of "punishment." Rankin fol bottom like a confounded mud turtle." "And happy, I cried, if by so doing I can the wounded man-of the man who had so lowed immediately, and on stripping did not recently expired! He had nothing on but a present so perfect an appearance. The se-Phillips; of Rankin; Tom Davis and "Save me! save me!" he said. " the pain Rankin's brother, All being in readiness; the referee called them to the "scratch," both who cannot govern their appetites. coming up promptly.

THE FIGHT. 1st Round-Both men a little careful, Rankin went down.

"I should have thought of this," he said, 2d—Severe milling on both sides, Rankin tails is not a feather in any man's cap.

"the true Camillas has been dead for years, aiming at the body and Bradley at the head.

That the money spent for port which is knocking Rankin down.

3d-Brief sparng, Rankin getting a blow 4:h-Sharp practice on both sides; Rankin getting in one or two body blows, and Bradley hitting the nose again. Rankin down. 5th-Rankin put in one or two blows on the body and went down. 6th-Bradley gave a strong blow on the mouth. Rankin down. 7th-Bradley placed a strong hit on the luck and in hot water-who prate about

"The others have gone," he said, " by the and nearly alike, Rankin cach time getting happy, should never darken his Present by n a few weeks. I will only say that officers | body blows, Bradley returning on the face. 15th to 39th-Rounds alike, Rankin, fightintelligence of a dreadful murder perpetrated ing altogether on the defensive, and down at the end of each round.

40th-Bradley received the first blow from No enquiries were made after Camillus. It his opponet, Rankin striking him under the left eye and drawing blood. Bradley returning it on the nob. Rankin down.

41st-Bradley claimed this round as foul.

up. From the 109th to the 126th, nothing THE FIGHT BETWEEN BRADLEY out of the disual way, excepting that Rankin, at the 120th,made some the passes and show ed game, but hit short and failed in execu-

At about this time the Canadian Depuis Sheritt, who had apparently been a deeply interested spectator of the lattle, giving hisopinion at various periods as to what was the correct thing to be done, and what not, and volunteering his assistance alike when it was and when it was not wanted, jumped into the ring, and with a flourish of loyal and truly British indignation at the violation of the name of the Queen, to cease punching each other's keads, and go home about their busi-

A few remarks of a somewhat objugatory and contemptuous character were heard in reply, but the " ball continued to go on."-The officer was rather hurridly picked up and passed over the ropes, and nothing more heard of th's representative of royalty. On the 151st round, the fight having continued two hours and forty minutes, it was out much injury to himself. He thought he evident that it was at an end. Rankin was so weak as scarcely to be able to come to the scratch; but he managed to get there, and, making a pass'at Bradley, fell down from the force of his own blow. This was claimed as foul, and so decided by the referee, who also declared the contest orded, and Bradley the

Both men evinced thorough game throughout; but it was apparent before the twentieth round that Bradley was the better man and must in the end be victorious. There were no bets as none could be obtained. Bradley did not go down once, but at the

Our informant mentions that at the close of

The con o t is likely to lead to others, one the fortest money put up by Davis and Fitz-

We hear that the reasily that conveyed the parties and spectators to the fight took no sufferer. I sometimes stayed behind. I felt the most initiate and most award of ins pow- the most initiate the bood and his heart with life. Wrap me in Rankin and his party, with a large number clearances from the Custom House for any that; having given up the medical profession, dead—yes, how to implant my own life in a closk, and cover up my head, keep silence of passengers, left the foot of Commercial Canadian port, and are consequently liable to according to a fantastic custom allowed in I had no right to intrude upon the sacredness another man's body, if I had no cess to it be for ten minutes, and call me impostor if you arrest at about ten o'clock; and proceeded up a heavy fine. This is a matter that will be for ten minutes, and call me impostor if you arrest at about ten o'clock; and proceeded up a heavy fine. This is a matter that will be to the formula was generally called Camillus with a subject of the United States Disthe lake to Point Albino, on the Canada probably come before the United States District Court.

How OLD BILLY WAS BAPTISED .- Poor people have a hard time of it in this little world of ours. Even in matters of religion he had uttered, with reference to the fare "No, no!" we all cried, some langling completed, implying he was either mad or A large number of Canadians and persons and Dives, as the following anecdote, sent us

Old Billy G. and attended a great revival. and, in common with many others, he was gent tones than ever, befought them to give encouraged by the inflaence he exercised darkness, to the gosts of snowy wind outside passengers; did not arrive until about two afterwards, one of his neighbors met him over me by his super earthly knowledge, pre- with the unpleasant knowledge that we had o'clock. The fight did not commence until te high tone from the court ground with conthey hadn't treated me so everlastin' mean at the water. Did nt you hear about it Jen-

m- i". "Then I will tell you bout it. You see when we come to the bapti in place, thar was old Jenks, the rich old Square, was to ter tuck the Squire in fast, but I didn't mind that much, as I thought twould be just as good when feum; so he let him in, an' after dippin him under, he litted him up miteg Then cum my turn, and instead of liftin' me out like he did the Squire, he gave me one slosh, and left me crawlin' bout on the Spiritual Facts.—That whickey is the key conds of Bradley were Con Fitzgerald and by which many gain an fentrance into our prisons and alm-houses. That brandy brands the noses of all those

That wine causes many to take a winding way home. That punch is the cause of many unfriend-

That ale causes many ailings while been

That gin-slings have "slewel" more than poor family. That porter is a weak support for those who are weak in body. Phitosophical. On a sun dial in Italy is inscribed the following:

"I mark only the hours that shine." An exchange says: There is for those who can but find this world a wilderness—who are always out of hubbles and glitter-who are always recalling their losses, trials and afflictions, a vol-8th-More blows from Bradler. Rankin ume of wisdom in this single line. There was never a life on which sunlight however 9th to 13th-These rounds were all brief broken, has not rested, and he who would be re-calling only the shadows of the Past. ANTIDOTE TO MOSQUITOES.—A ertain proventive to the attacks of mosquitoes, black I have very little to adil, as I lest Germany on both sides, Rankin putting in some good peppermit. 21 drachins, oil of turpenting 4 drachms. The face, neck, hands, in fact all parts exposed, to be rubbed with the mixure. This was given me by an eminent physician. previous to going into the State of Maine on a lunting expedition. I never knew it used without perfect success - Anon.

The following is a genuine Hibernian ndvertisement :- "Missing from Killarney. Jane O'Fogerty; she had in her arms two babies and a Guernsey odw, all black with red hair and tortoise shell combs behind her care. and large black spots all down her back.