came more and more difficult; and finally the physician gave it as his opinion that he could not live much longer.

It was a bright beautiful day, in the month of July, when the winged minstrels of the forest made everything glad with their melodious singing, that three persons were gathered around the sick bed of Willie. They consisted of Reynolds, the physician, and the mother and sister of the little sufferer. Mrs. Gray sat near the bed, sobbing convulsively, while Ellen was gazing with tearful eye upon her dying brother. Reynolds was bending over the couch, his fine face expressive of the utmost sympathy.

"Oh, tell me truly, is there indeed no hope for my darling Willie!" exclaimed Mrs. Gray, in tones of the deepest anguish.

The physician mournfully shook his head as he felt the pulse of the sufferer. The mother fully understood that silent answer.—With a piercing cry, she sprang from her seat, while a light bordering on insanity blazed in her eye, as she exclaimed in a startling voice:

"Oh, heavens! do you mean what you say? Cannot my Willie be saved?"

"My God, she is growing insane!" exclaimed the physician, as Mrs. Gray wildly tossed her arms about, exclaiming:

"Save my child! Oh, can you not save my child?"

"Compose yourself, dear mother, cried Ellen, as she strove to lead her to a seat. But Mrs. Gray broke from her and wildly rushed about the room, half shrieking,

"Save my darling! Oh, save my little Willie—they shall not tear him from me!"

"Your child can be cured upon one condition!" exclaimed a deep voice—and the next moment a dark looking stranger entered the room. Ellen and the young physician instantly recognized in him the same individual whom they had met in their walk, a few weeks previous.

"Who are you, and by what right have you entered here?" inquired Reynolds, angrily.

"Oh, save my child, can you save my child?" exclaimed Mrs. Gray, imploringly.

"Yes, madam, I can; but it shall be upon one condition, and that is, when the boy is well, this lady, (pointing to Ellen,) becomes my bride!"

Ellen started back, and became as pale as death. Reynolds could no longer conceal his indignation, and in a stern voice, he bade the stranger leave the house.

"No, no;" exclaimed Mrs. Gray, "he has said that he can save my child." And while speaking, she looked imploringly at Ellen.

"Young lady, you had better give your consent," said the stranger, "if your little boy dies, your mother will become a raving maniac."

"Oh, heavens, it is a dreadful sacrifice.—Can I—can I consent," cried Ellen, in agonizing tones, while she looked alternately at the wild, haggard countenance of her mother and that of her lover.

"Time presses," said the stranger; "in another hour, if you decide not, your little brother will be no more, and your mother a maniac."

"Oh what shall I do?" cried Ellen, as she met the mournful gaze of her lover.

"Ellen," said Reynolds, after a moment's pause, "I have but little faith in this man's promises. That your mother will become a maniac when William dies, is, alas! but too true; but—

"Oh, Ellen! Ellen!" exclaimed Mrs. Gray, "can you hesitate! No, no! you are not my daughter—you cannot be—you will look on, and see my Willie perish!" And she wrung her hands in anguish.

This was too much for poor Ellen. She saw nothing—nobody—but her mother, about to become a victim to insanity, and faintly murmured Yes—I—I consent, came from her lips. The next moment, she sank senseless in the arms of young Reynolds. He bore her into another room and proceeded to apply such remedies as would restore her to consciousness. As soon as they had left, a smile of fiendish triumph lit the countenance of the stranger, and drawing a small vial from his pocket, he advanced to the bedside of the little sufferer. Lifting his head from the pillow, he applied the neck of the bottle to the parched lips of the sick child and poured a few drops down his throat. The effect of the medicine was almost instantly apparent.—The breathing of the child became easier, and with a sweet smile, he stretched out his little hands and murmured the name—"Mother."

Mrs. Gray sprang to the bedside and kissed him again and again, while the tears of joy gushed from her eyes.

"Madam," said the stranger, "the cure is effected—your child will be as well as ever in a week from the present time—then I shall come and claim my bride."

Having uttered these words the mysterious physician departed.

* * * * * * * *

Reader let us enter this house. It is the residence of the Rev. Dr———. In one of the rooms, side by side, stands Ellen Gray and the mysterious physician. They are about to be united in the holy bonds of wedlock, for little Willie has been cured and Mrs. Gray is [illegible] more a happy mother—no, not altogether happy, for she is aware of the dreadful sacrifice her daughter is about to make. Ellen is as pale as marble, and her whole frame is in a tremble. There are but few persons present. But among them, observe the gipsey woman, Mag. Stealthily she steals up to the side of Ellen, just as the minister is about to proceed with the ceremony, and whispers these words in her ear:

"Lady, beware. You are about to wed with your father's murderer!"

A wild shriek burst from the lips of the bride, and she sinks senseless into the arms—of not the stranger, but those of Reynolds, who at that moment rushed in with two or three policemen, who instantly siezed upon the person of the criminal, Dr. B———

The story is soon told. Mag, the gipsey woman had recognized Dr. B———, despite the alteration in his countenance, produced by a long residence in a southern climate.

She communicated the information to Reynolds, who arrived with three policemen, just in time to prevent the marriage ceremony from taking place.

The culprit, soon after, seeing there was no hope left, confessed that he had killed Mr. Gray, in order to rid himself of a troublesome creditor. He was therefore executed on the very day that Reynolds and Ellen Gray were united, by the Rev. Mr. D———, on the very spot where the murderer was first arrested.

Spare that Girl.

Youngster, spare that girl!
Kiss not those lips so meek!
Unruffled let the fair locks curl
Upon the maiden's cheek!
Believe her quite a saint!
Her locks are all divine,
Her rosy hue is paint!
Her form is—crinoline.

The HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a CHARITABLE ACT worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give MEDICAL ADVICE GRATIS, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.,) and in cases of extreme poverty, to furnish medicines free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most improved modern treatment.

The Magnetic Belt.
THE undersigned, after many years of careful research and experiment, have discovered and perfected a safe, convenient and unexceptionable means of completely controling the maternal function, without employing any of the unnatural and deleterious expedients so often resorted to for that purpose. Apart from its specific use of preventing conception, it is an infallible means of restoring to health and vigor the abused, deranged and enfeebled procreative functions of females, and of reinvigorating and restoring the general health to its wonted constitutional integrity. It consists of a Magnetic Belt, which encircles the body directly over the os illium, by the magnetic action of which the fecundating power is intercepted and held in abeyance, and the vital neuromagnatic currents, otherwise drained off by sexual excesses, are turned back thro' the system, stimulating all the viscera to a healthy normal tone. In a true moral aspect, no valid objection can be urged against its lawful use, as it is designed to subserve a great humanitary purpose in the reproductive economy. It is impossible in a brief card to give the reader an adequate conception of the virtues of the discovery and the modus of its action. Accordingly, the proprietors have prepared a pamphlet, fully embodying the philosophy of its influence upon the genitive function, its uses, tests and results, which they will forward upon the receipt of six cents in postage stamps, to any address. The price of the Belt is $5, sent by mail free.

FOR THE CURE OF Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.
PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.
DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.
Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.
DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.
SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.
Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.
POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.
GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood
From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.
DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.
DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system, and purify the fountains of the blood.
JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.
From a Farmer of Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.
From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church.
PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.
HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.
SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.
DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.
For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.
Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.
Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL FOR THE RAPID CURE OF COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.
We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious agency that steals upon the unwary [illegible] on its mostly grounds to believe [illegible] by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
