Life in Siberia. Russian Card Playing .- Even the fair sex I have been out in Indiana on a visit and in Ekaterineburg pass much of their time in while there I found a kitten, which I bought card playing. I am acquainted with one and brought home for a plaything for my family where there are not less than eleven two children. To prevent any dispute about children; there is not a day in the year during which their mother does not spend five agreed that the head of the kitten should be or six hours at cards, unless prevented by mine, the body should be the baby's, and sickness; and when once she sits down to the Eddie the eldest,—but only three years should card table, husband, children, and all are be the proprietor of the long and beautiful forgotten. I know another lady here, the tail. Eddie rather objected at first to this principal business of whose life is card play- division, as putting him off with an extremely ing. for many are willing to play. Thus the time is spent until a late hour. At one of the large mining towns in the Altai, there lives a man who has become rich from the gold mines, and is a celebrated card player. It is no unusual event for him to visit St. Petersburgh; and as Ekaterine burg is about midway between the capital and his place of residences he is sometimes obliged to stop on the way to repair carriages, after a run of more than 2,000 versts-in fact, it is often absolutely necessary. long standing, giving health and vigor to the frame; and bloom to the pallid cheek.

JOY TO THE AFFLICTED!!! It cures nervous and debilitated sufferers, and removes all the symptoms, among which will be found indispositions o exertion, hiss of power, loss of memory, difficulty of breathing; general weakness, horror of disease, weak nerves, trembling, dreadful horror of death, night sweats, cold feet wakefulness, dimness of vision, languor, universal lassitude of the muscular system, often enormous appetite, with dyspeptic symptoms, hot hands, flushing of the body, dryness of the skin, pallid countenance and cruptions on the face, pain in the back, heaviness of the evelids, frequently black spots flying before the eyes, with a temporary suffusion and loss of sight; want of attention great mobility, restlessness, with horror of society.—
Nothing is more desirable to such patients than solitude, and nothing they more dread for fear of themselves; no repose of manner, no carnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on-which this medicine invariably removes—soon follows loss of power, fatuity and epileptic fits—In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases—insanity and consump-tion? The records of the insane asylums, and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In innatic asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden & ite destitute-neither mirth or grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.
