We made some comments upon the resolutions of the confusion State convention last week, but we are not yet done with the subject. Aside from their general and unfounded charges upon the Administration. there is an evident attempt at evasion and uon-committal in them, to which we desire to call the special attention of the public. But we will first consider the leading reso-Intion, which declares :

"1. That the Federal Constitution, the sover eign rights and the union of the States, and the liberties of the people, must and shall be preserved."

If they are in favor of "preserving" the Federal Constitution, we must certainly ex pect them to labor for the carrying out of for the present year, that August term of each and every part of it, as well as all the Court will afford them an opportunity of Jaws under it. They must not be allowed to sending us the amount. Don't fail to attend forget that one clause in the Constitution says : been published very regularly and promptly,

"No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into an-other, shall in consequence of any law or regu-lation therein; be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be risk. Ask the Postmaster to mail it for you, Here we have the authority for the Fugitive Slave Law, and all good citizens who are favorable to the preservation of the Con stitution as it is, cannot but stand pledged to see it fairly executed, at least, until that clause be stricken out, and he who repudiates the Law, repudiates that clause, and practi-'cally, the whole Constitution.

The first resolution, then really endorses the Fugitive Slave Law, although many of the confusionists will of course deny. it. There are three questions of great public interest to which the resolutions refer, and which it was expected the convention would express opinions upon. But in this, as well as in everything else, they have failed to act

"My DEAR. SIR : It has been deemed advisoable by a number of gentleman lately here from different quarters of the Union, opposed to the present Administration, to open a correspondence with prominent individuals in various States, whose general sentiments accord with theirs, i order to interchange opinions, learn their views what public sentiment is in their locality in refer-channel of the press. "They are of opinion that, without giving nationality to the opposition party, by whatever name it may be called-though the term 'Union Party' is deemed appropriate-it will be idle to think of defeating the party now in power in crop of wheat in that State will exceed that 1860; and that such nationality cannot be given

"Such a man could only receive; the suppor of the distinctive organization to which he has belonged; and it is clear that such a nomination would drive the Democratic party into unanimity, whereby a Democratic would be elected by even a larger monthly than Mr. Buchanan obtained." Mr. Sargent, after thus giving cognovit o the irresistible strength and pristige of the Democracy upon existing issues, asks whether a new combination cannot be made, and a new set of principles be put forward, to unite the opposition? He then answers his own questions by proposing: I. A new name, "The Union Party." 2. A new platform, "The Crittenden amend nent.
