

Pennsylvania State Teachers Association.

The regular annual meeting of this body will be held at Scranton, Luzerne County, commencing on Tuesday, the 10th of August, and continuing in session three or four days.

In addition to the reading of a few reports, the following questions will be offered for discussion: 1st. What should be the order of studies to be presented in our Primary Schools? 2d. Are there any defects in the Common Schools—if any, what are they and how may they be remedied? 3d. Ought the principle of emulation to be applied to a motive in Education? 4th. How can the labors of this Association be made available to the advancement and improvement of our Common Schools? 5th. What effect on Education has the present great number of Text and School Books in our country? 6th. What is the present state of the science of Arithmetic, as a branch of Education? 7th. What is the present state of the science of English Grammar, as a branch of Education? 8th. What is the present state of the science of Modern Geography, as an instrument in the hands of the Educator? 9th. What is the present state of the science of History, as an instrument in the hands of the Educator? 10th. Is the provision in the 41st section of the School Law, giving the County Superintendent the power to annul teacher's certificates, at ten days notice, upon his own mere motion, without any assigned cause affecting the capacity, integrity or good moral character of the teacher, an arbitrary enactment, not in harmony with the genius of our institutions, and does it demand repeal or amendment? Members who expect to be present are earnestly requested to examine these subjects, with a view towards discussing their merits, in a manner that will be both profitable and interesting to the Association.

It is not expected that the topics here suggested, can or will be discussed at this meeting—not that they will be brought forward in the order as published. Upon such as may arise, short, pungent, well prepared and well digested remarks will be very acceptable.

The inaugural addresses of the President, Prof. J. F. Stoddard, and a lecture from the Hon. Horace Mann, will be attracting features of this meeting.

Arrangements have been made with the different Rail Road companies for a reduction of fare.

The citizens of Scranton, have generously proffered free entertainment to the female members of the Association, and as far as possible will extend the same to male members.

B. M. KERN, Executive Committee. SAMUEL FINEBERG, J. L. LEWIS, W. H. FENNER, WILLIAM ROBERT, J. T. VALKENTZ.

The Executive Committee will meet at the Wyoming House, on the evening preceding the meeting of the Association.

B. M. KERN, Chairman Ex. Com. Pittsburg, June 21, 1858.

Base Fabrication. We ask the attention of our readers to the following wholesale fabrication of the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, with the triumphant exposure of it from the Engineer of that city:

"The fiscal year has now expired, and within a fortnight we shall know the receipts of the quarter which expired on the 30th of June. But all the other data are at hand, by which the operations of the year may be ascertained. And here they are, roughly, for public edification:

Balance in the Treasury July 1, 1857, according to report of Secretary, $17,710,114.27. Receipts first quarter from customs, lands, and miscellaneous, 29,329,819.91. Receipts second quarter, 7,929,658.00. Receipts third quarter, 8,002,148.35. Receipts fourth quarter (just expired, estimated), 8,000,000.00. Treasury notes under act of 32d Dec., 1857, 20,000,000.00. Loan under act June, 20,000,000.00.

Total, $106,734,747.43. It thus appears that there has been received by and granted to the Administration, within the fiscal year, nearly $102,000,000."

Washington Correspondent of the Gazette.

"That figures can be made to lie abominably is conclusively proved by the above statement, which is intended to convey the impression that the expenses of the Government for the year ending 1st July, 1858, were $102,000,000, although it is not so unequivocally stated.

"From the balance in the Treasury of $17,000,000 last July, deduct in round numbers $4,000,000, which was paid on the national debt; also deduct over $11,000,000 to pay deficiencies in debt for 1857, contracted by the last Congress, which was Republican in that branch which has special charge of the revenue service, and which has failed to supply means to pay the same. We must also deduct the $20,000,000 loan, not a dollar of which went to defray the expenses of the year ending July 1, 1858. It is all for the coming year. Of the Treasury notes say $10,000,000 are now on hand, not over $10,000,000 having been applied on last year's expenditures. These various deductions amount to $45,000,000, leaving the actual expenditure of $45,000,000, which is being paid by the sale of millions of dollars in the hands of the last year of General Pierce's administration. Every dollar of the fifty six millions were authorized and declared right by the Republican House of Representatives which elected Banker Speaker."

CHANGE OF NAME. The Bedford Gazette says that when political parties are compelled to change their names so frequently have we not good cause to suspect "something rotten" in their Denmark! The thief, the forger, the murderer, as he flies from place to place, to hide himself from the outraged law, changes his name and endeavors to move unsuspected through the world by the aid of his hundred aliases. So with the Opposition. They are so fearful of being detected in their hypocritical trickery, that they assume a different title nearly every year. Therefore, let men who respect themselves at once cut loose from such an organization, and enlist under the broad folds of that flag which, since the days of the immortal Jefferson, has been inscribed with no other name than the eternal and ineffaceable watchword DEMOCRACY.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH, however slight. It is inexorable, when a simple remedy like Wistar's Wild Cherry Balm is within your reach. In nearly all cases this will effect a speedy cure. No family should be without it. None genuine unless signed J. BUTTS.

Only a single copy of the London Times is allowed to enter France, and that is sent to Paris in a sealed envelope from Boulogne, especially addressed to Napoleon himself.

Hon. G. A. Crow, M. C., arrived in town yesterday. He is stopping at Taylor's hotel.—Wilmington Democrat, 21st.

DEATH OF GEN. JOHN A. QUITMAN.

This distinguished patriot, brave soldier, and honest citizen, died at Natchez on the 17th ult. Gen. Quitman was born in New York, but early removed to Mississippi, where he soon became widely known and universally respected for the many admirable traits of character which soon won for him the esteem and confidence of his fellow citizens. In 1847-7 he volunteered for the Mexican war, and was appointed by President Polk a Major General. In this capacity he was prominently engaged in most or all of the sanguinary actions which immediately preceded the capture of the Mexican capital, of which, on its surrender, he was made Governor. After the termination of this war, Mr. Quitman returned to Mississippi, and remained in private life until 1854, when he was nominated for Congress by his Democratic fellow-citizens and elected by a large majority. He was re-elected in 1856 by a vastly increased majority, and during the past session of Congress occupied a most honorable and commanding position in that body. Gen. Quitman was a high-toned chivalric gentleman and a man above suspicion in all the relations of life.

THE PROPOSED NEW STATE.—We find in the Ontonagon Advocate a call for a convention at Ontonagon on the 25th of August next, to consider the propriety of forming a new Territorial government, with a view to the erection of a State, embracing the upper peninsula of Michigan, the northern part of Wisconsin and the Lake counties of Minnesota. The call is signed by twenty-five persons, including Messrs. Mackinac, Chippewa and Mackinac counties, Michigan; St. Louis and Burnell counties, Wisconsin, and Lake county, Minnesota. The Advocate says:—Perhaps the strongest argument that can be adduced in favor of the proposed arrangement, is the fact that our friends are actually disfranchised, from the impossibility of getting their returns transmitted in time to their respective Capitals, and that the same disaster has more than once occurred to ourselves, at Presidential elections.

From the recently published report of the New Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company, it would appear that this Road is in a very prosperous condition. The gross receipts for the last fiscal year, ending on $201,017; the expenses for the same length of time were $376,866 03, leaving a surplus to be carried to profit and loss after the payment of two semi-annual dividends of five per cent, each, of $107,171 18.

The total number of passengers (exclusive of commuters) carried over this Road for the same period were 2,238,130; and the amount of freight was 80,872,1-2 tons. These facts, in view of the great depreciation of all classes of property, and the general depression, which in a measure is brought about by the excellent system of management under which it is placed.

A SIXTEEN GUN CORVETTE RAISED AT SEASIDE, N. J. A letter dated Sabatod, May 16th, in the Boston Courier, says:—During the last week, the American Company, which is at work in the harbor of this place, under Col. Goswold, of Boston, has succeeded in raising from her former submerged position, a corvette of sixteen guns, in an entire condition, and in a good state of preservation. The vessel was raised by means of the caissons of the company, which, until within a few days, have not all been ready for the work required of them. The corvette is the first vessel that has been raised, whole, and now that the machinery for raising the vessels is in order; it is confidently expected that the remainder of the work will be prosecuted without delay. During the past ten months the Company have been engaged in destroying certain of the vessels under water, and in raising the pieces, and in erecting the same on the shore. About fifteen ships of war have been broken into fragments by blasting, and the greater portion of the materials of which they were composed has been raised."

DISBANDING OF THE FLORIDA ARMY.—General Scott has issued a General Order from Head Quarters, directing the Second Cavalry to disband in Texas, instead of proceeding to Utah, ordering the department of Florida to be broken up on the first proximo, and bestowing great commendation on Col. Loomis, Fifth Infantry, for having brought the Florida troubles to a successful close. The Colonel is charged with the duty of closing up the affairs of the Military Department in that State.

FIRE BARRING IN IOWA.—The free banking law of the State of Iowa has received a majority in its favor of the votes cast at the recent election, and will go into immediate effect. It is somewhat similar in its provisions to the general law of New York, but differs from it in forbidding payment of checks to cash on demand, and requiring each bank to keep on hand, in specie, an amount equal to twenty-five per cent. of the deposits, in specie. No bank can be organized with a capital of less than $50,000, nor can one be located in a "city, town or village" having less than five hundred inhabitants.

THE "NO PRINCIPLES" PARTY.—The Monongahela Convention, which was in session at Harrisburg last week made a platform without a principle. They gave the protective tariff the "cold shoulder," and nominated for Supreme Judge an old Free Trader. They also entirely ignored the watch word "Americans to rule America," and say they only approve of the enactment of proper laws to protect us from the introduction of foreign criminals in our midst, by returning them to the places from whence they have been shipped, and to the shores of their own country. No wonder the Daily News has not endorsed the platform. Anybody else going to kick over the traces? What a harmonious opposition!

THE ELECTIONS IN ALABAMA, ARKANSAS, KENTUCKY, MISSOURI, TEXAS AND TENNESSEE in their Denmark! The thief, the forger, the murderer, as he flies from place to place, to hide himself from the outraged law, changes his name and endeavors to move unsuspected through the world by the aid of his hundred aliases. So with the Opposition. They are so fearful of being detected in their hypocritical trickery, that they assume a different title nearly every year. Therefore, let men who respect themselves at once cut loose from such an organization, and enlist under the broad folds of that flag which, since the days of the immortal Jefferson, has been inscribed with no other name than the eternal and ineffaceable watchword DEMOCRACY.

GETTING Tired of MISERABLE.—The "People's" Mayor of Philadelphia, is managing so miserably that several of the papers are calling on him to resign. Murders and robberies are committed in broad day light, without the least hindrance or interference by the cowardly pack of Police he has appointed. This is the first fruit of the new organization. Let the people of this State take warning, and elect the wings of this amalgamation party before it does further harm.

From the reports of the recent debates in the English House of Lords, we clip the following item, which explains itself:—"The Earl of Malmesbury said the Government intended, for reasons which it was unnecessary to refer to, to remove from Cuban waters the squadron now stationed there; but there was no intention whatever of discontinuing the blockade of the coast of Africa."

FIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

A party of ladies and gentlemen left this city on Saturday on a visit to the family of Major Henry S. Kupp, near Birdboro. They spent the day very pleasantly at this gentleman's hospitable house, and between 10 and 11 o'clock at night, started on their return home. As they were passing the bridge adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces. Those who witnessed the fall, were astonished, and adjoining the canal bridge at Birdboro, one of the carriages, containing seven of the party—Mrs. Knabb, wife of the editor of the "Journal," Miss Daniels, Miss Wells, two Misses James, Mrs. B. F. Owen and Mr. Richard Rogers—was precipitated over an almost perpendicular bank 12 or 13 feet high, together with the horses, which fell on the top of the carriage, and broke it to pieces.