If you would learn, study. If you would become learned,-practice what you learn.

Duties of Educated Men. The Rev. Bethune in an oration on the Duties of, Educated Men, used the following glowing language, which is worthy to be inscribed in letters of gold: "But especially devote your untiring energies to the improvement and increase of Common Schools. The Athenian pointed to the splendid Acropolis with exulting pride because he believed that there in the matchless Parthenon, whose pure Pentelicon and and exquisite proportions are still beyond the dreams of the architectural genius, was enshrined the Palladium of his country, the symbol of heavenly knowledge; but were usked to declare the preserving charm of our own beloved country, I would lead the inquirer not to the Capitoline height where legislators but express the popular opinion, nor even to the halls of more erudite science under God, the destinies of the nation are determined. I have more fear and more hone from the troops of sturdy youths that ply their tasks within, or their sports without its humble threshold, than from all the mine ing fops of fashion, or mere rich that emulate at a ridiculous distance the pride and airs of foreign aristocracy. If you would serve your country well, if you would guard the suffrages of our free people from the arts of the demagogue, and nerve their hearts against the swindling encroachments of those who would buy themselves into power with the very money of the state, let the common school system be your most earnest care: and especially the country common school, for whatever be the noise and pretension of our cities, and however necessary it may be that the youth within them be trained, it is the country, the hardy yeomanry, who eat the bread of their own honest sweat, that rule, ever have ruled, and will rule the state."

Responsibilities of the Teacher.

When we turn to the pages of history, and take a retrospective view of the lives, characters and professions of the most eminent men of ancient times, we find that the wisest and best of them were teachers. Such was the case with Confucius, Aristotle, Plato, Newton, Bacon, Berkley and a host of others-intellectual giants-who have done much to enighten the nations of the earth.

"Through the history of the Jews, their most venerable men were teachers. Our Saviour was first known as a teacher of ghteousness; and is still our teacher."

There are also many engaged in teaching at the present day who adorn their profess -are stars of surpassing brilliancy, shining o'er the ocean of life. Still the importance and responsibility of that office are sadly undervalued. And while other professions that deal with inanimate nature only, receive confident that he can do the most difficult jobs the utmost attention, the teacher, he who is on short not to mould the character of the coming generation, to purify the life-blood of the Republic, to prepare the minds of men for the various time, and I can recommend him as a careful and duties of life, and for a long eternity, enters skilful workman, competent to do as good work upon his school-room duties, and, thereby as can be done in the country, and worthy of takes upon himself this great responsibility. confidence. - Perfection of the Mind.-Mental perfection should be the great aim of life. To this end should all our labors, struggles, and prayers tend. In youth, in manhood, in age, we should seek to render more perfect our powers of mind. We are never too old, and but a few are too young for mental improvement. JOY TO THE AFFLICTED!!!
It cures nervous and debilitated sufferers, an removes all the symptoms, among which will be found indisposition to exertion, loss of power, loss of memory, difficulty of breathing, general weakness, horror of discuse, weak nerves, trembling, dreadful horror of death, night sweats, cold feet, wakefulness, dimness of vision, languor, universal lassitude of the muscular system, often enormous appetite, with dyspeptic symptoms, hot hands, flushing of the body, dryness of the skin, pallid countenance and eruptions on the face, pain in the back, heaviness of the cyclids, frequently black spots flying before the cycs, with a temporary suffusion and loss of sight; want of attention, great mobility, restlessness, with horror of society.—
Nothing is more desirable to such patients than solitude, and nothing they more dread for fear of themselves; no repose of manner, no carnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follows loss of power, fatuity and epileptic fits—in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases—insanity and consumption? The records of the insane asylums, and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In unatic asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden & uite destitute-neither mirth or grief ever vis. ts it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic & poisonous properties most dangerous in their ef-lects, which by entering the blood derange the functions and operations of the heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be diseased.

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever ased the weed will testify-in lassitude, nervous Ribbons, Bonnets and Flowers, Broadcloths, irratibility, water brash, dyspepsia, and many Cashmeres and Summer Stuffs, with a full va-other disorders of a similar character. The TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved completely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the entire system, restoring the taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the throat —which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the stomach, invigorate the whole system. successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to zure HIMSELF perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the adventions and shortening their lives, should use these troches immediately and throw off the injurious & unpleasant habit of chewing tobacco. injurious & unpleasant habit of chewing tobacco.
