The Caban question is now occupyingthe attention of Congress and the country There are some objections to its acquisition, the chief one, at present, being the scarcity of funds, but that the Island must finally come into our hands, is a foregone conclusion, Of course it will afford petty abolition politicians a chance for a few shricks, but the pecuniary and maritime interests of our country are not to be overlooked on that account. Give us Cuba, at all bazards, before giving tier up to France or England.

We learn from the Binghamton Simudard that the patients of the Binghamton Water Cure, and about one hundred citizens gave Dr. O. V. THE CUBAN QUESTION.

The report recently made by Mr. Branch, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, traces the several acquisitions by the United States from the close of the Revolution-when they had no Territory in the Gulf of Mexico, to the present time-they now own all its shores, except Mexico, together with a transit right at Tehuantepec, in Mexico. The report estimates the present commerce in the Gulf at two handred millions, independently of the constwire trade between the Atlantic and five hundred millions. The question is asked whether those Nations which have for an adequate consideration placed us in a position rendering the free use of the Gulf a necessity to us, can justly refuse any concessions necessary to secure enjoyment. Thereport shows from the position of Cuba in reference to the Gulf and the trade of our navigators, that it commands the trade of all the Gulf ports just as completely as Louisiana does that of the Missi-sippi, and that it is as important to remove Spain from Cuba low as it was to remove France from Louisiana in 1803. It comments upon the action a veritable "mice" under that hypochisy, and and motives of Napoleon Bonaparte in 1803, and contrasts with it the uniform reluctance of Spain to make amicable territorial arrangements with us, while making no objec-20.00 tions to sell Territory to France and Eng. The report cites certain acts passed by Congress in 1811 and 1812 in secret session, instructing the President to seize Florida, and placing the army and navy at his command. and appropriating money for the purpose. The bills establishing Territorial Governments for Arizona, Dacotah and Jefferson, were introduced by Mr. Stephens in the House on his own notice. They are not, therefore, reports from the Committee on Territories though exactly similar to those agreed in the committee excepting the name of the Platte River country, which in his bill he called Jefferson instead of Colona or Tohosa. As adopted by the committee, Jefferson runon the one hundred and first degree to the Rocky Mountains, and from the forty-third degree to the Mexican line. The object of introducing the bills in this way was to have them printed, so that when the Committee on Territories is reached in the call, the bills then printed can be put on their passage, the House in the meantime having the oppor-
