

Manifest Destiny. As a people, we are firm believers in manifest destiny... THE MONROSE DEMOCRAT. A. J. GERRITSON, Editor. MONTROSE, SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY, PA. Thursday, Feb. 10, 1869. $1.50 For Annual in Advance.

Maonitic.—Hon. H. M. Phillips, Grand Master, has appointed George H. Ball as his Deputy for the Masonic District composed of the counties of Bradford, Susquehanna, Tioga and Sullivan.

Opposition.—The term "Opposition," as applied to the enemies of the Democratic party, is quite as appropriate as any that could be selected; and, in fact, is the only one that could apply to them during any two successive political campaigns, as they invariably change their name on the eve of each and every important election, for the purposes of avoiding the disgrace attached to their late career, mounting a new hobby in the place of the old one, and catching such weak minded voters as are always tickled by whatever appears novel, and are misled by shallow pretences.

Compulsion to the Democratic Party. Mr. Washburn, of Maine, one of the leading and most noted Republicans in the House of Representatives, in his last violent and sectional speech, passed the following comment to the Democratic Party. He said: "Let us, Mr. Chairman, learn wisdom from our opponents. Look at the Democratic party and note its policy. It has held possession of the Government, with short intermissions, for more than a quarter of a century; not because it has been always right, but because it has been always strong; and it has dared to trust itself, it has never paid court to its opponents, or stopped to speculate upon their weakness and divisions; always bold and uncompromising, it has never doubted its own sufficiency, and invincibility, and so it has ever been a mighty power in the land."

Compulsion to the Democratic Party. Mr. Washburn, with all his bitterness against it, had to confess that no other political organization stood by its principles as bravely and unflinchingly as the Democratic Party.

Yankee Locomotives in Egypt. On the railroad between Alexandria (Egypt) and Suez, recently finished, there are four locomotives of them of English manufacture, and the other two were built at the Taunton Works in Massachusetts. It seems that the Pasha's cars are open to flattery, and the English engineers, through their consul, use every means to get rid of the American company that the engines would not be used, and their services would just as well be needed. The excuse for hauling them up was that they were not strong enough to haul the heavy trains.

Important to Females.—Dr. Chase's Pills, Prepared by Cornelius L. Chase, New York City. The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are said to be of great value in correcting all irregularities, painful menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature.
