THE FIREMAN-HIS NORLE MISSION !-At the Fireman's Anniversary Celebration in Jackson, Mississippi, Gov. McWillie, after speaking of the Fireman as a public benefactor-that his was a mission of love, said : I have often looked with astonishment upon the daring conduct of firemen. I have soch them encountering danger greater than that of the soldier, who amidst the storm of war, enters the deadly breach, trampling down the wounded and battling with the armed and living. I have seen you on the burning roots of lofty buildings, standing as it were upon the very crater of a rolcano-almost tonching the hery lava-nobly doing hattle-and exposing rour lives to the most imminent peril-when 1 have seen you thus struggling , and imperiled. I have been conscious that many of you did not even know the name of the person for whom the sacifice was made. And in your further praise and as illustrative of the pobility of your con-duct, let it be told that it often happens that the poor fireman has no house either to burn or save he knows no motive of action but that of doing goed to others. Such services come fresh and warm from the heart-they cannot be bought ! I have always understood that every effort to organize fire companies on the basis of pecuniary compensation has atterly and entirely failed to be efficient. Such service must be voluntary-without money and without price. Such conductbenevolence as yours, gentlemen-relieves the whole race of man from the charge of cold, sordid selfishness.

Truly, gentlemen, your self sacrificing ELEGANT STYLE, the interesting situations iconduct is but the image of heaven reflected and BEAUTY of INCIDENT, which have renthrough your motives and actions.

EVÁNS & WATSON Have had the surest demonstration in the plowing certificate that their manufacture of Salamander Safes has at length fully warranted the representations which have been made of them as rendering an undoubted security against the terrific element : Philadelphia, April 12th, 1856.

Messrs, Evans & Warson,-Gontlemen: 1 affords us the highest satisfaction to state to you, that owing to the very protective qualities of two of the Salamander Safes which we urchased of you some months since, we save a large portion of our jewelry, and all our books papers, &c., exposed to the enlamitous fire in Ranstead Place, on the morning of the 11th

When we reflect that these Safes were located in the fourth story of the building we occupied. and that they subsequently fell into a heap of burning ruins, where the vast concentration of burning ruins, where the vast concentration of heat caused the brass plates to melt, we cannot but regard the preservation of their valuable contents as most convincing proof of the great security afforded by your Safes.
