Forney and the House Clerkship, "State Rights" Committee, a Republican competitor for the Clerkship of the House. This petitor for the Clerkship of the House. This might account for the repudiation of the Democratic State ticket by the State Rights Chair-octatic State ticket by the State Rights Chairman. Black Republican support may require a consideration. The Enquirer's correspond

"The Republicans are gaining confidence in their ability to elect the Speaker and Clerk Messis Sherman and Cerwin of Ohio, and Mr. Grow of Pennsplvania, are the most prominent candidates for Speaker, and Mr. William Schouler of Mass., Mr. Underwood, Whig member for Kentucky in the last House, are the last flower of Philadelphia, are the last competitors for the Clerkship. My schooler, from his ability, his firm attraction to Republican and American prisciples, and his popular manners, perhaps stands, best as a competitor for the remination, but the Clerkship will be made the subject of compromise with reference to the Speakership."

THE Washington Constitution says that the Post Office Department will not allow a postmaster to give a part of his commissions. or other allowance to a party as a consideration for mailing matter, at his office; nor will it allow, on his part of any other arrangement or device the intent or necessary resul of which is to undermine or draw legitimate lasiness from another office. Such a proceed ing on the part of a Postmaster will be con sidered a good cause for his removal.

The Boston Post, the leading Democratic journal, in Massachusetts, compliments very highly the recent address of our Democratic State Committee, both on necount of its sound poli ical views and doctrines, and the ability with which they are presented. After giving several extracts, it thus concludes its remarks :

"The citations we have from this address speak for themselves, and are specimens of its logic and precision. It is a calm appeal to the reason and must command the confidence of the candid and intelligent. Victory, with such principles, will be victory worth having: and the Democracy of the whole country will gladly welcome a triumph of their cause in the old Keystone State as the friumph of the old fushioned Democracy of Jefferson and
