GROVER & BAKER'S

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES. New Styles-Prices from 850 to $125. EXTRA CHARGE OF $5 FOR HENMERS.

495 Broadway - - New York F. B. CHANDLER, AGENT, MONTROSE.

These machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread; they Hem, Fell, Gather, and Stitch in a superior style, finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the handneedle, as is required by other machines. They will do better and cheaper sewing than a seamstress can, even if she works for one cent an honr, and are, unquestionably, the best Machines, in the market for family sewing, on account of their simplicity durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing-executing t either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

As evidence of the unquestioned superiority of their Machines, the GROVER & BAKER SEW-ING MACHINE COMPANY beg leave to respectfully refer to the following

TESTIMONIALS:

"Having had one of Grover & Baker's Me-I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed —Family Sewing."—Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Indepen-

"I confess myself delighted with your Sewing "I contess myself delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."—Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. V. Christian Adjustate. of N. Y. Christian Advocate.

"After trying several good machines, I prefer yours, on account of its simplicity, and the per-fect case with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience. I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."—Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of Brooklyn Star.

"I have used Grover & Baker's Sewing Maoave used Grover & Baker's Sewing Machine for two years, and have found it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambrice to Drusdooth. Oarswatch have been worked to the giving way of a stitch. The Machine is applied to the control of the c easily kept in order, and easily used."—Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New

"Your Sewing Machine has been in use in my family the past two years, and the ladies reques me to give you their testimonials to its perfec adaptedness, as well as tapor saving quantities the performance of family and household sewing."-Robert Boorman, New York.

Baker's Sewing machine, and have come to the conclusion that every lady who desires her sewing beautifully and quickly done, would be most fortunate in possessing one of these reliable and indefatigable 'iron needle-women,' whose combined qualities of beauty, strength and simplici-ty, are invaluable."—J. W. Morris, daughter of Gen. Geo. P. Morris, Editor of the Home Jour.

[Extract of a letter from Thos. R. Leavitt, Esq., an American gentleman, now resident in Srdner, New South Wales, dated January 12th, 1858. had a tent made in Melbourn, in 1853, in which there were over three thousand yards of sewing done with one of Grover & Baker's Machines and a single-seam of that has outstood all the double seams sewed by sailors with needle and twine." "If Homer could be called up from his murky hades, he would sing the advent of Grover & Baker as a more benignant miracle of art than was ever Vulcan's smithy. He would denounce midnight skirt making as 'the direful spring of woes unnumbered.'"-Prof. North. "I take pleasure in saving, that the Grover &

Baker Sewing Machines have more than sus-tained my expectation. After trying and returning others, I have three of them in operation in my different places, and, after four ears' trial, have no fault to find."—J. H. Hammond, Senator of South Carolina.

"My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's FamilvSewing Machines for some time, and I am satis fied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public."-J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennesse.

"It is a beautiful thing, and puts everybody into an excitement of good hunor. Were I a Catholic, I should insist upon Sainta Grover and Baker having an eternal holiday in com tion of their good deeds for humanity."-Cassing

"I think it by far the best patent in use. This Machine can be adapted from the finest cambric to the heaviest cassimere. It sews stronger. faster, and more beautifully than ary one can imagine. If mine could not be replaced, money could not buy it."—Mrs. J. H. Brown, Nashville,

"It is speedy, very nest, and durable in its work; is easily understood and kept in repair. I earnestly recommend this Machine to all my acquaintances and others."—Mrs. M. A. Forrest, Momphis, Tenn.

"We find this Machine to work to our satisfaction, and with pleasure recommend it to the public, as we believe the Grover & Baker to be the best Sewing Machine in use."—Deary Brothers, Allisonia, Tenn.

"If used exclusively for family purposes, with ordinary care, I will wager they will last one three score years and ten, and never get out of fix."—John Erskine, Nashville, Tenn.

"I have had your Machine for several weeks, and am perfectly satisfied that the work it does is the best and most beautiful that ever was made."—Maggie Aimison, Nashville, Tenn.

"I use my Machine upon coats, dreasmaking, and fine linen stitching, and the work is admirable—far better than the best hand sewing, or any other machine I have ever seen."-Lucy B. Thompson, Nashville, Tenn.

"I find the work the strongest and most beautiful I have ever seen, made either by hand or machine, and regard the Grover'& Baker Machine as one of the greatest blessings to our sex."—Mrs. Taylor, Nashville, Tenn.

* There's no place like home --- except alos to the girl you love! That's so:

THE SONG OF THE BROOK. From the spring beneath the beech-tree, Where the bubbling waters rise;

Neath the blue of summer skies. Like a thread of liquid crystal, By some fairy fingers spun-Lengthning out the tiny current. Day and night I tireless run,

There began my wayward wanderings,

Through the meadow, where the daises Fleck the emerald turf with snew, With the aunshine on my bosom, Singing merrily I go.

Through the wood, with troops of shadows Dancing to the restless leaves; Where the wild vines o'er me streaming Many a quaint, weired chaplet weaves. And the sun, like golden rain-drops,

Where the moss-beds and the litchens Edge my path with tufts of green! Down the rooky hill-side sliding In and out from stair to stair, Till, midway the rocks o'ersweening.

Filters through the oaken screen,

One swift plung, the last, I dare. Then, from out the white foam stealing, Past the mill I make my way, Where the ponderous wheel hangs dripping. Green with moss for many a day;

Underneath the little foot-bridge Where the sunburnt children fish. With their bare feet dangling downward For my cooling lips to kiss. Hiding in the rocky shadows,

Murmuring by the lowly cottage, Whispering 'neath old turnets gray. Chiming this refrain forever, As I tinkling ripple on; "Tis the heart we bear within us

Maketh life a sigh, or song.

Shining by the dusty way;

HOPE. Sweet cheerer of the weary heart. Spread thy sweet sunlight o'er my way, And bid each gloomy thought depart

Before the brightness of thy ray. The past with all its weight of woe. Like a dim spectre baunts my path, Where the dark shadows come and go

And storm clouds pour their frightful wrath The mystic future darkly lies In clouds and mists, whose murky gloom Shrouds, like a pall the leaden skies, Drear as the midnight of the tomb.

I stand in doubt and trembling dread, With shaking trust and shrinking fear, And hesitate the path to tread That leads me on life's journey here.

O, Hope, I would thine aid invoke, Till my imprisoned thoughts are free, And the dark apell of gloom is broke, Which melancholy cast o'er me. Come, with the healing on thy wings,

And images of joy and love-Sweet as the song an angel sings And I will look with hopeful trust .In the far future yet to come,

Till I shall drop my weary dust,

And soar to my eternal home. For the Democrat. THE BLIGHTED BUD.

MOCH TRIALS IN ENGLAND .-- Dr J. C. Note ... ow in England, in a recent letter to the Mobile Register, says:

"To descend from the sublime to the ridiculous, I must tell you of a scene I saw last. night in an ale house. It was an exhibition called judge and jury, got up every night by a set of broken-down blackguard lawyers— men of decided talent, but whose talent, as unfrequently bappens, is linked with such low and groveling moral sense as not to be able to sustain itself in a decent position in society.

"They get up mock trials, regularly conducted. The judge and lawyers wear wige and gowns, after the style of the English bar. Cases after the fashion of the Sickles case are brought before them-this case was actually introduced, I understand last week and argued at great length—Mr. and Mrs. Sickles were arraigned—a number of witnesses, male and female were examined—the facts all brought out in the most glaring colors, and then argued with signal ability—the audience, a bundred or more, sit around at little beer tables, drink beer and smoke at leisure. The case I witnessed last night was one of a gouty old gentleman by the name of Flunkey, whose young wife had treated him somewhat after the manner of Mrs. Sickles, and he stied for a divorce—you cannot conceive of the wit and fun drawn out by these rascals in the case-my rides are sore now from laughingthey had as many female as male witnesses, and you may imagine that they were a choice set of ladies—their testimony was given in inimitable style. A very handsome young lawyer closed the argument, in one of the most impassioned and eloquent speeches of an hour and a half I ever heard, in defence of the much injured Mrs. Flunkey-you never saw a lawyer more in earnest, and exhibit more deep feeling, and he drew down most rapturous applause from the whole of us."

A nice question for the lawyers has just turned up in France. An old man liv-ing near rais, rich, but coarse, querulous, and exacting, could keep none of his servants over a month. They succeeded each other like travelers at an inn. Puzzled to know how to attach one to his service, he at length hit upon the idea of letting a newcomer understand that he had left in his will two thousand francs a year to the one who should "close his eyes." Informed of this. testamentary clause, the new servant bore and forbore, sticking manfully to his post. He had not to suffer long. At the end of five months the old man died, and Pierrie chuckled at the thought of his handsome income for life, easily enough earned. "But, my good fellow," said the notary in reply to his inquires, "I cannot put you in possession of a your fortune. The heirs of Mr. C. have opposed the will and put it in suit." In suit! Why! Isn't the bequest clear enough!"
"Well, yes, Mr. C. left two thousand frances "Well, yes, Mr. C. left two thousand france a year to the one who should close his eyes, two the belief itshu that you have not fulfilled the condition." "Who closed his eyes, pray, if I did not?" "The heirs say you couldn't fulfill it." "And why not? What do you mean?" "They say that as Mr. C. was a one-eye dman, you could only have closed one eye, and not 'his eyes." And so poor Pierrie's legacy "hangs by the eye-lids," until the Courts settle the question. DESCRIPTION OF A YOUNG DEVIL-Noth ing can be more instructive to a thinker than the manner in which the devil is personified to some good people, who seem to have rather too good a knowledge of him for their own comfort. A worthy farmer, at a country meeting for the relation of the religious experience of its members, said he had been severely tried by a young devil. Said he, "He come last night and sot down on the side of my bed, and grinned at me as I was saying my prayers. He wa'ant the old devil, dear brethren, but a little young one that would weigh about forty pounds. He tot down on the side of the bed, and I could jest see his tail and huffs a stickin out under his cloak. It was terrible cold that night, and he looked as though they tuk good care on him to hum, I had a good chance to look at him, but I went on prayin.' He did'nt frighten me a bit-I'd seen his daddy afore; so I looked out of a corner of my eve, and I could see his leetle borns; they was jest a beginnin' to start, like a little bull-calf's; they was'nt more than two inches long, but they looked as though they might git to be terrible pokerish
