On Tuesday of last week a notorious row dy, named Frank McCabe, committed a violent assault upon Mr. Thompson, 'one of the editors of the News. He called at the office to inquire about an article which denounced the action of certain bullies at Syracuse, and Mr. Thompson arowing the authorship of the article, McCabe struck bim a powerful blow on the temple, and followed him up, striking him repeatedly. Mr. Thompson's nose wa broken, and his face terribly battered. After committing the outrage McCabe escaped; but a warrant has been procured for his arrest. He had a number of "friends" of a well known character, waiting for him at the door, ready to assist him in case of emergency. He was arrested and held in $500 bail to answer

A Correction.

The statement recently made in the columns of the Republican that an Irishman, who was fierce for a fight, was whipped by a negro is so far from true, that the negro was the ouly volunteer for a fight, and he coward-like, committed an unparoked assault upon a stran-ger, without notice, and then meanly fled, not daring to give the injured party a fair chance to deal out to him the handsome flogging he deserved, and which he would have received had be not taken to his heels, and by arrangement with his friends, is kept concealed and unknown, that he may escap the penalty of his cowardly act.
