Our friend the Counsellor is still extant; Day by day matters grew worse and worse still moving in the ranks of professional life with the much abused and long suffering If you deare to see him, take your stand on landlord. The solace to his feelings which the City Hall steps; (in the rear) at ten o'clock

The O'Gallagersstill live, and live in the Sixth Ward. They own another dog. They were settled to the mutual satisfaction of, both the high contracting parties, though the representatives of the landed interest made the Counsellor's abandonment of his Sevastorest.

Hands and feet and garments soiling-Who would grudge the ploughman's toil3 Yet there's lustre in his eye, Borrowed from yon glowing sky : And there's meaning in his glances That bespeak no dreamer's fancies-For his mind has precious lore, Gleaned from Nature's sacred store. Tolling up yon weary hill, He has worked since early morning, Ease and rest and pleasure scorning-And he's at his labor still-Though the slanting western beam, Quivering on the glassy stream, And you old elm's lengthened shadow Flung athwart the verdant meadow. Tell that shadowy twilight gray, Sec! He stops and wipes his brow-Marks the rapid sun's declining-Marks his shadow far extending-Deems it time to quit the plough, Weary man and weary steed Welcome food and respite need ; "I'is the hour when bird and bee Seek repose-and why not he ! Nature loves the twilight best-Let the toil-worn ploughman rest!

Cannot now be far away.

Ye, who nursed upon the breast, Of ease and pleasure enervating Ever new delights creating, Which not long retain their rest Ere upon your taste they pall; What avail your pleasures all ? In his hard but pleasant labor, He, your useful, healthful neighbor Finds enjoyment, real, true-Vainly sought by such as you.

Nature's open volume lies, Richly tinted, brightly beaming, With its various lessons teeming, All outspread before your eyes; Dewy glades and opening flowers. Emerald meadows, vernal bowers, Sun and shade and bird and bes, Fount and forest, hill and lea-All things beautiful and fair His benignant teachers are.

Tearing up the stubborn soil-Trudging, drudging, toiling, moiling, Hands and feet and garments soiling-Who would grudge the ploughman's toil? Yet 'tis health and wealth to him-Strength of nerve, and strength of limb Light and fervor in his glances, Life and beauty in his fancies, Learned and happy, brave and free ; Who so proud and blest as he !

TRUE PIETY.

To be the thing we seem ; To do the thing wo deem Enjoined by duty ; To walk in faith, nor dream Of questioning God's scheme Of truth and beauty; Casting self-love aside, Discarding human pride, Our hearts to measure; In humble hope to bide Each change in fortune's tide. And God's good pleasure; To trust, although deceived ; Tell trath, though not beleived; Falsehood divdaining; I Patient of ill received, To pardon when aggrieved, Passion restraining ; With love no wrong can chili, To save, unwearied still, The weak from falling;---This is to do God's will On earth --- and to fulfil Our heavenly calling.

A lover once wrole to a lady who reected him, saving that he "intended to relire to some secluded spot and breathe away his-life in sights;" to which the lady replied, by inquiring whether they were to be small, me-dium, or large sized. The man has not since been heard from.

"Suicide is becoming very prevalent in my city," said a gentleman to an inhabitant of a neighboring town. "Well, really, sir, I don't know of any city where it could prevail, with greater advantage to the world at large." .

kar'A parson cornered a farmer whom he had seldom seen at his ministration, by asking him directly, after a little reproof of his sin of omission-"Shall we see you at church next Sabbath !" "Yees," he replied slowly, yes, I'll go or send you a hand."

"Nothing OBIGINAL-A young genileman being asked to write some lines in a young lady's album, perpetrated the follow-MARING FOOLS OF THEMSELVES .- "Gentlenen of the jury," said; an Arkansas lawyer, would you set a rat trap to catch a bear ? Would you make fools of your sives by en-deavoring to spear a buffalo with a knittingneedle ! No, gentlemen, I am sure you would not. Then bow can you be guilty of the gross absurdity of finding my client guilty of manalanghter for taking the life of a woman !"-
