OURSELVES TO NO PARTY THAT DOES NOT CARRY THE PLAG AND KEEP STEP TO THE MUSIC OF THE UNION." or we join A. J. GERRITSON, PUBLISHER. MONTROSE, PA., MAY 10, 1860. VOLUME XVII, NUMBER 19. [Written for the Montrose Democrat.] the coming election his rival carried the The ceiling was of pale blue, edged with when he got out on the pavement with him he was exceedingly cordial, pressing the old fellow entered with childish de-a silver band. The walls were hung with his friend, who had never seemed more him to call on Mrs. Carlyle very soon. the coming election his rival carried the carried the carried to be obliced in brought his action against the tailor for the value of the office which he had lost was charge the value of the office which he had lost to each the tailor of the office which he had lost the carried to the office which he had lost the carried to the office which he had lost the carried to the the value of the office which he had lost the carried to the tailor of the tailor t THE PHANTOM WIFE WISH. A BY MARY E. LOOMIS. Give me a home where Nature's dress a Earth in her own loveliness; and the jessamine ; The In Where wild bird on willow spray, Half hid in Dossoms, breathes her lay; Where scops the lake, its azure blue Reflecting many a varied hue of moonbcam pale, or sunlight ray, O'er moss-crowned cliff or flowret gay. And lulls the soul to soft repose, Forgetting all its earthly woes In the payment of debts he was equally say, even if it does flatter you, that I end of the apartment was occupied by an negligent. If he had the money in his think you tolerably well calculated to take organ, built in the room, and of as great Give me a true and faithful friend. he, 'I saw-,' and the tears choked up his 'Next to her husband,' was the smiling throat hysterically, 'Pennon Carlyle's lifesour imagination gives to spirits. There Whose every thought with mine may blend : / possession, he generally contrived to put care of a wife.' a volume of tone as the space to be filled had been something preternatural shining behind the outer smiles and brightness of his eyes; and, although his step was so Whose kindly sympathizing tone, reply. They went in, and Throckmorton selectoff-the payment, until his notes were prohope go down beheath the waves. I saw 'Thank you. But you are rather late would allow. Responsive thrills into my own. To joy with me in pleasure's bower, tested, or his hills lodged with a consta-ble; so that, along with the debt, he was month. the hungry waters snatch away forever ing a costly boquet of such flowers as he thought most appropriate, sent them with his regards to the invisible bride. He floating hair. Believe me when I saw And sympathize in sorrow s hour ; In holy friendship, true, and tried, elate and vigorous, there was somthing shadowy and undefined about his manner. almost certain to pay cost. Luther had a wealthy nucle residing in 'You?' Bless my heart and soul! why . 'I am not a performer, although, as you My wavering footsteps Heavenward guide didn't you tell a person of it?. I thought I was in your confidence, my friend.' Nothing of that which characterizes a He appeared punctually to dinner at the noting nar. Beneve me when I saw the hour appointed on the next day, and not scarcely cared for my own safety. But, entirely to his surprise, saw nothing of the as is often the case, the fairest fruit was Give me a book that when I choose Baltimore, who wrote to him, that if he I was in your confidence, my friend.' would be at his house by a certain day, 'There's no one in the city aware sleep-walker-that is marked by profound To turn its pages and peruse, O'er-olden fields of history roam 'There's no one in the city aware of it is my favorite instrument, and Beatrice abstraction from things surrounding it; he would make him appresent of a thou-sand dollars. Luther determined to go; and brought her here quietly, that we sing ? Where martyrs notly met their doom, Or in the conflict stern and dread, Where man for freedom fought and bled, lady of the mansion. shaken down, the withered apple clung to but in consequence of being half an hour might pass the honeymoon in peace. too late in getting to the depot, the cars , "One of your freaks again. Where do went off and left him. "Hang it!" said he, as he turned upon his heel, "what's 'Oh, we are housekeeping. I bought 'I should like to, above all things, when the depot, the cars of the young provide in the determined upon guest, looking at his beaming face. 'Bea-trice! that is an Italian name.' A couple of weeks passed, during which the tree. I reached the shore, in the Carlyle, was becoming insane. And in-deed his strange, conduct gave only too him who had already soon the news to much reason to fear that such whe the And virtue soared triumphantly O'er vice and immorality. The Bible, too, to point the way To Heaven, and teach me when I stray, And then I'd turn to lighter lay, much reason to fear that such was the case: is report of the loss of the vessel, but who 'He has thought, studied and dreamed had hoped Beatrice was saved with me, too much,' musted Throckmorton. 'His I think his reason must have given away the difference of one day? I'll take care and furnished a place before I went for 'And my wife is an Italian. That is studio unannounced, as his previous fathe dimerence of one day? En take care to be in season to-morrow." He did so-her, and took-her directly to it. I've a her, and took-her directly to it. I've a dent-but alas! the old gentleman, who was in excellent health the day previous, had gone off in an, apoplexy, a full hour but mether to be in season to morrow." He did so-dent-but alas! the old gentleman, who had gone off in an, apoplexy, a full hour but mether to be in season to morrow." He did so-beautiful house, fitted especially to an artist's taste and necessities. My studio is in the centre of the building, and is the full height of two stories, with a skylight, but mether to be an tainun. I nat is such our mether soul is a curious combination of names. I suppose our natures are about as unlike as our origin.' 'U do not know about that. You have For lover bold, or maiden gay, ere rustic swain in sylvan grove, brain is over excited; and if he does not immediately under the shock, although I To blushing maiden speaks of love, And lists to hear the low reply, With joyful heart and beaming eye, immediately receive the wisest medical did not suspect it at the time. He shut attrendance, he will become hopelessly himself up away from every living crea-And their young lives seem fraught with joy, Which coming blight can ne'er destroy. ruined in intellect. is look of mute interrogation, shock his I do not know about that. You have head solemnly. 'You need not announce ture for twenty-four hours; when he before the tailor arrived. very secluded, being shut in by apart-Yet his operations were confined to the came from his chamber he appeared un-In almost everything Luther Lapel was ments on every side but one. Come, will been pretty thoroughly steeped in the 'oil In home so sweet mid trees and flowers me : is Mr. Carlyle in his studio?' Upon single object of the phantom wife, whose naturally, I had almost said horribly, calm. Peaceful would glide life's flecting hours, With books, and friends, and rosy health, too late. He was a regular attendant at you go with me now, and let me show it and wine' of a southern clime. Is this receiving an affirmative answer, he went portrait stood ever upon the easel, about He asked for some relic of his bride; I church; but as he seldom arrived until to you? whom he talked to some of his confiden- had nothing to give him. He went home to you? 'I'm all curiosity. Of course I shall see Mrs. Pennon Carlyle?' the consumation of some love analy be inguly up the starts, but upon reaching whom he taked to some of his connecting in an nothing to give him. He went nome the door of the atelier he paused. A tial friends, whose meals he took regularly that night, refusing the offer I made him to tell me all about it. You might realize voice, sweeter than he had ever heard, to her chamber, for whom a plate was of my company. Three days afterward I the consumation of some love affair belightly up the stairs, but upon reaching Unknown the cares of want or wealth, Striving each day a life to live the middle of the discourse, he could make nothing of it; nor could he find a seat, see Mrs. Pennon Carlyle?' That Christ would plead, and God forgive though he took pains to rent a pew at 'I think not this morning; I believe that I, like the fair sex, am 'dying of' cu-she is out. But that need not prevent you riosity." even in his dreams, was pouring forth a always placed at the dinner-table, but who lle, Pa., May 1st, 1860. though he took pains to rent a pew at considerable expense. He was always too late at meals, and was thus obliged to take up with the refuse of the table. The meat, if any remained, was cold;— the coffee was ditto; or run aground; the toast had disanneared; the but-toast had disanneared; the butreceived a trutk, which had drifted ashore never came, who was never seen or heard. and been forwarded to me. It was Beat-LUTHER LAPEL; Ay! but she had been heard—and that rice's and contained her jewels, and many was what puzzled Throckmorton beyond little feminine treasures of the toilette, his OR THE WANT OF PUNCTUALITY. caught his breath like a drowning person, all else. He had heard a voice-a divine several new pictures, my whes portial interfered, she followed me, as she had overcome by the tide. He remained mo-is now on the easel, painted by myself interfered, she followed me, as she had overcome by the tide. He remained mo-since our marriage. The two friends turned and pursued of a mutual friend, and we were married, at that friend's house, very shortly after words in a gentle tone, and in reply, a was empty of her presence. Luther Lapel was apprenticed to a tail the toast had disappeared; the Jut-ter was consumed—in short, no alteror, and, after seven years of thithful attenfor himself. He commenced business un native remained to Luther but to their way into one of the avenues near at that friend's house, very shortly after make the best he could of the scanty der very favorable auspices, and everybo-Broadway, and out of this into a quiet her arrival. If you would like to get an laugh, soft, low and delicious. It was a He remembered too that he had heard lute, and other trifles which you saw, dy thought he would do well in the world. fragments that remained. The tailor had side street, a favorite quarter with people idea of my wife, here is her portrait; laugh such as a woman sometimes repays a rustle of garments, and that the air had He was a good workman, had some mon-side street, a favorite quarter with people idea of my wile, here is her portrait; hugg such as a woman sometimes repays a rustle of garments, and that the air had were, undoutsteally, a part of the contents one contents, and the more florid unobtrusive elegance to the more florid display of the avenue. Throckmorton stopped eagerly forward, display of the avenue. morton, knocking at the door-the did not ble spirit gone out before him, which his . 'But the singing,' said Throckmorton, wish to intrude upon a lady without warn- material eyes were too gross to behold? morton, the first speaker, as they walked and beheld a cision of unanticipated-of ing, notwithstanding his first purpose of A chill crept over him, albeit, he was what can account for that ?' Heaven knows-since it can hardly be expected that you, 'too, are mad.'

brave, and not in the least superstitious, . Come in,' was the almost instantaneous when he puzzled himself about this matter. Was his own imagination so excited that His visitor smiled sadly. "Alas for Pennon?" he sighed, "it is a-1 beg your pardon; I thought it was he fancied the singing when there had melancholy termination of his career, and Hannibal coming for orders,' exclaimed been no sound? he had such a genias! I tell you." Pennon, advancing and holding out his

At the end of two weeks he was in continued with fervor, Tlove that man. Pennon's rooms again; and found in him like a brother; I can not give him up;-Before he took it, or before he even said the highest state of joy and triumph possi- my friendship shall leave no resource uned to marry him. The day was fixed, not wonder at that when you see her- eighteen, the complexion fair as that of an a word, the visitor glanced eagerly around ble to conceive; he looked like a person tried for salvation. Will you not return Luther Lapel began to exhibit his un-fortunate trait—first, in disappointing his the wedding-cake was made, the lady was fixed, not wonder at that when you see her-fortunate trait—first, in disappointing his the wedding-cake was made, the lady was fixed, not wonder at that when you see her-fortunate trait—first, in disappointing his the wedding-cake was made, the lady was fixed, not wonder at that when you see her-fortunate trait—first, in disappointing his the wedding-cake was made, the lady was fixed, not wonder at that when you see her-fortunate trait—first, in disappointing his the wedding-cake was made, the lady was fixed, not wonder at that when you see her-fortunate trait—first, in disappointing his the wedding-cake was made, the lady was fixed, not wonder at that when you see her-fortunate trait first, in disappointing his the wedding-cake was made, the lady was fixed, not wonder at that when you see her-fortunate trait first, in disappointing his the wedding-cake was made, the lady was fixed in her best the brides-maids were before a handsome mansion. 'This is the a tilly transfused with sunlight. The hair but the artist visible—not another living 'Tom, my friend,' he said, 'you have be done? In the first place, I would like ondly, in disappointing those with whom he had pecuniary dealings; and generally, in not being exact in the fulfillment of his in not being exact in the ful cards are being sent out this morning for torious a sort of military turn, and few men lookey, considerable credit, and a great many friends. ed better in regimentals than he; but he was generally on the parade ground so late as to incur a fine. "Alas!" said he display of the avenue. I might have known something had happened to you, said Thomas Throck Concealed a canvas still upon the easel, But there was one trait in Luther's character, which had not previously de- "a stitch in time saves nine, but I am al-veloped itself, and which was to prove ways too late in threading my needle." veloped itself, and which was to prove the ruin of his hopes, and to disappoint Luther Lapel was a very personible along. 'Your step is as buoyant as that marvellous-loveliness. The figure was fellow to look at, and became quite a of a child, and your face absolutely radiant girlish and slender, yet rounded and lithe, the expectations of his friends-and this favorite with the fair sex. He was also with joy. The light of the bridal lamp is glowing through every curve and outline, was the want of Punctuality. And here a fellow of some spirit, and laid a siege to shining out of the 'window of you soul.' with triumphant, irresistible beauty. The the heart of a belle valued at terrthousand. I need not ask you if you are as happy as arms were bare to the shoulders, and the let us observe, that, no mechanic, no tradesman, no person who depends on the good opinion of the public for a livelihood, dollars. His success was almost beyond you probably anticipated being-your robe which covered her bosom was simply his hopes; for he took his measures so whole air is that of exultation.' well, that in a short time the lady engage 'I AM gloriously happy, an can expect to thrive without the necessary virtue of punctuality. Luther Lapel began to exhibit his un-customers of work he had promised; sec- arrayed in her best, the brides-maids were before a handsome mansion. promises in the ordinary concerns of life. Lapel the happiest man alive. But he ed with all the brilliancy, peculiar to his eyes always disclose more of the soul than tered. cental in ever that th By gathered in at the waist by a girdle. 'I'AM gloriously happy, and you will The countenance was that of a girl of disappointing his customers of the prom- got out of all patience; and before he arised work, he lost business; by disappoint- rived, she had struck up a bargain, and ing his creditors in the payment of money, he lost-credit; and by failing to 'fulfil his | But, as we sam just now, internet here first floor. promises in the miscellaneous concerns of man of spirit, and, though but a failer, he first floor. These furnished with richness and even the field to take an exhe lost credit ; and by failing to fulfil his Thus he lost business, friends, and credit. But this was not all. His want of punctuality not unfrequently subjected him to the immediate loss of money, of time and of the tailor, he mustered courage and acof labor.

cepted the challenge. He was punctual For example, having promised a suit of to the minute; but the discarded lover clothes to an alderman, who was to dine was an hour too late, so he lost the pleason a certain public occasion, Luther was ure of shooting his rival. half an hour too late; the turtle soup was Luther finally got married; but his wife in danger of cooling, and the alderman informed by his negro boy that "missus" went to dine in his old clothes. The new suit was sent home as soon as finished, had fallen into the fire. "In the fire!"exclaimed the tailor, who was just then and the garments were all well made ; but the die was cast-the alderman was vexpressing down a seam-"in the fire! did ed, as well he might be, and the clothes you say, Pomp?" "Yes, massa, she in de fire." were returned upon the tailor's hands. What was to be done? The alderman "Well, go back, and tell her I'll come being a man of some twenty score weight, in a minute." He finished pressing the and of a very peculiar configuration, the seam, hastened to the house, and found clothes would fit no other person, and Mrs. Lapel so burnt that she survived but therefore the tailor was obliged to keep a few hours.

The affairs of poor Lapel were now gothem. The cloth was of the finest qualitv. which, taken, together with the uning fast to ruin. His credit was entirely gong, his customers had forsaken him, his griends were estranged, his matrimonial disappointments and misfortunes preved unon his mind. He became dissuption common quantity contained in the garments, rendered the loss a severe one. Luther endeavored, by coaxing, and by promises of greater punctuality in future, to prevail upon the alderman to take the clothes; but the official dignitary was a mountain not to be moved. From coaxing and promises Luther proceeded to ment for the suit of clothes. But it was into the water and was drowned. very justly argued by the defendant's counsel that half an hour "pudding time" counsel that half an hour "phdding time" was not to be lost; and that inasmuch as obliged to-dine in sold in practices than hand-his client was obliged to-dine in sold in practices than hand-ins client was obliged to-dine in sold in practices than hand-his client was obliged to-dine in sold in the sexten of the same opinion. The tailor appelled, and that is saying as incohanic and will english for the base dining the sexten of the same opinion. The tailor appelled, and the pleaking in the sexten of our peace of the same opinion. The tailor appelled, and the pleaking in the sexten of our peace of the same opinion. The tailor appelled, and the pleaking in the sexten of our peace of the same opinion. The tailor appelled, and the pleaking in the sexten of our peace of the same opinion. The tailor appelled, and the pleaking in the sexten of our peace of the same opinion. The tailor appelled, and the pleaking in the sexten of our peace of the same opinion. The tailor appelled, and the pleaking in the sexten of our peace of boding is urrouted the bed. In the boudoir was half an hour too late, Mr. Lapel not only ease dim to the based him to the sexten of the section was noney into the based in the this badhad not left the more of y but would call on the laddord and peak with. An old fashioned lation the laddord and peak which made a luxtrious recease of the gase which was not the based of the matter excelly touched, upon the custom of the adderman; and seve eral other gentemen withdrw whier part. eral other gentemen withdrw whier part in starts asoon the height for the set append. eral other gentemen withdrw whier part in the andlord and peak which was not cleaked in the laddord and peak which was not the set append. eral other gentemen withdrw whier part in starts asoon is he, could coller or the signed and that is any the coller de receive the feat date of the signed the matter excells the this starther of the start date and that enditor and peak HE MADE A MISTAKE -- A landlord. But this mistoriane did not cure him of tardiness in the fulfillment of his bromises. A fond lover was abliged to defer his happiness for the space of twenty-four hours—an age to him—in consciouence of twenty-four happiness for the space of twenty-four full if she would give him one kiss. The person had sat down to it. hours—an age to him—in consequence of little wife was boiling with wrath in an A faint fragrance floated

Another man lost his election to an im- again for the rent! portant office in consequence of attending a public meeting in a thread-bare coat; for the want of a new one which Linther had lately, a wag met a very bashful young he heaved a sigh at which he laughed a seen, the work-basket and the embroidery. promised. He was expected to address lady of his acquaintance, and, looking her moment after, and was ready to follow 'Who let her out the door this morning the transmission to be address lady of his acquaintance, and, looking her moment after, and was ready to follow 'Who let her out the door this morning the transmission to be address lady of his acquaintance.

tal failure; and the result was, that in on her way.

loved one

was at first considerably frightened; but sented nothing peculiar in their arrange quired that glowing concentration of ex-presently recallecting the unfortunate trait ment, unless it might be an excellence of pression,' he remarked after a few min-you.' taste and harmony of combination not al- utes' silent contemplation.

'Thus!' murmurea Femon, assume together common, 'While I was in Italy I spent not a ly; 'I have not caught a hundredth part Luther finally got married; but his wife more than supported me; and since my excluse my shortening your visit. I have an instant, as if for a reply. 'She has gone some day return I have been fortunate in disposing an engagement at two o'clock in Broad- to her boudoir for a book of which we be had during his last call as of my real estate for ten times what I gave for it: Besides my wife is rich.'

'It sounds oddly enough to hear you I left,' said the visitor, as he followed his speaking of your wife. I regret very host to the lower hall. much that I am not to have the pleasure of seeing her to-day; though you have promised to introduce me to her portrait, disappointments and misfortunes preved can be expected in a city residence. The he had known ever since his mind. He became dissupated, roses and honeysuckles in the garden be with his master; not from any motive of is more lovely than the body.' arriving some time during the evening at shut up his shop, and resolved to go to neath are in full bloom now. They have curiosity, and certainly not anticipating 'Her voice, at least, is beyond praise, Mr. Mazzini's villa, spent the night there, recently have stood before them. He saw only his own homely, genial countenance; playing the organ?' asked Throckmorton,

>. \

. د عنه معر

•

'I saw no one.'

response. He entered.

hand

Pennon hastened to the entrance. 'I hear the rustle of her garments now way. 'I had hoped she would come in before be followed his door open, to bow them out with African like her.' Throckmorton turned to the portrait.

flourishes, Mr. Carlyle thought of a letter which is something. Let us go to your which he was to mail, which he had left It seemed to him even more beautiful than studio.<sup>3</sup> studio.<sup>3</sup> They ascended the winding staircase. turning aside at the first landing. 'This is our sleeping apartment; and this is Beatrice's houdoir onemity and this is one.' 'I do not believe there is another in

'Have you never heard her singing or alone.

IT'S ALL OVER TOWN .- One rainy day, and after another half-covetous survey, recalling the musical instuments he had promised. He was expected to address the people on the occasion, and, indeed, he did mount the rostrum—but his diquence was salud y in the yees, said, with a solemn was salud y marce by the consciousness of the geople on the occasion, and, indeed, he did mount the rostrum—but his diquence was salud y in the yees, said, with a solemn was salud y in the yees, said, with a solemn was salud y in the yees, said, with a solemn was salud y in the yees, said, with a solemn his shot to his atelier. He did not repress an exclamation of seek in an old coat; any more than a lawyer in England can without his wig. The attempt was pronounced to be a to tal failure; and the result was, that in on her way. He did not meters and the entry of its mistrees, into all of which tal failure; and the result was, that in tal failu and with an the brinning of peculiar to his even always discusse more of the son than the son than the brinning for torious that, if he is ever restored, it will to the delicate lineament. Pure and re-heard her singing for some time before I is to take place on Thursday evening. I know of no other way than just to get have invited all my friends; and intend it him off somewhere, and have Hannibal rived, she had struck up a bargain, and was married to one of the grooms-men. But, as we said just now, Luther was a man of spirit, and, though but a tailor, he called his rival to the field to take an ex-mage of cold lead. The grooms-man was at first considerably frightened; but have his splendid prospects destroyed in expecting to reach it at four o'clock; but, this manner is too cruel! and he is unaware as usual upon emergencies. the sterme as usual upon emergencies, the steamer of his own danger, so of course will not broke her paddle wheel, and it was after summon the medical experience which nine p. m. when they landed. Troubled dollar of my income; it accumulated, of their light and love and beauty. But —she is going down the stairway. Bea-with interest, for three years. My art we must go now, my friend, if you will trice!' he called in a tender voice, waiting an instant, as if for a reply. 'She has gone sponsibility of procuring advice.' to her boudoir for a book of which we were speaking,' he said, as he returned within, take will be body proceeding of the friend whom Pennon star voices of music and mirth within, carriawithin; 'she will be back presently. It ted had brought his bride across the ocean, ges still arriving, although the rooms is strange that you did not observe her. and at whose house he was married. Be- seemed already crowded. Hannital open-I had hoped she would come in before is strange that you did not observe her. I her is strange that you did not observe her. host to the lower hall. Here, while Hannibal stood, with the her picture, and I think it a fittle more it best to consult this friend, and find out white kids and a new suit. His sable as much as possible of the causes which countenance reflected all the splendor of led to his singular delusion. Mr. Mazzini the loccasion; despite the dignity of his was an Italian, gentleman whom he had position, he chuckled with satisfaction pon the preceding day. If there are any more women in Italy who had recently returned from a visit to when he beheld who were the new arrivals. 'How are you getting on?' asked Throckmorton, anxiously. "Oh, massas, yoù jis go in! jis go in and see!" was all the answer they could elicit. They pressed forward into the throng shut up his shop, and resolved to go to shut up his shop, and resolved to go to California. The ship was to sail at cight o'clock on a given morning, but Luther did not arrive at the wharf till nine, when, finding the vessel gone hemuttered some definition of self-content for the vessel gone hemuttered some definition of self-content for the vessel gone hemuttered some definition of self-content for up his shop, and resolved to go to california. The ship was to sail at cight o'clock on a given morning, but Luther to a brawn oy canosky, when had been betroth-for the vessel gone hemuttered some definition of self-content for the vessel gone hemuttered some definition of self-content definit everybody who had been asked was there: threats; but the man mountain stood fast. finding the vessel gone, he muttered some-Legal measures were resorted to, and a thing about being always too late, and in mit at law was brought to may a sudden fit of despair almost allow for despair almost allow for the balance of English and Italian parentage; the larch which separated the first two a sudden fit of despair, plunged headlong into the water and was drowned. ous glance at the sumptuous yet delicate plenishings. The draperies were of white and we shall be reprind to the greet of stand of plied to the greet of stand of plied to the greet of the sake of our peace of the sake of ronage through the alderman's influence. But this mistritume did not make her he in the standing near the win-But this mistritume did not mistritume did not make her noticed, upon a shadder 3 and to tell de whole trute, I would not have told you have been all over the house and cannot find ure he had secured. In due course of time 'Come into this recess a moment, my her. She never goes out without letting there arrived the letters so engerly anticifriend ; the company must excuse as for

'I cannot comprehend it,' multered Maz-A faint fragrance floated in the air, as to his forehead. 'He was berry strange Throckmorton's eyes fell upon the ebony mer, and to him, as a personal friend, and ashore; insensible. The wreckers picked hours—an age to him—in consequence of not receiving his wedding suit in season; and though he did not finally refuse the clothes, the recollection of this listers, and the laugh of his friends, so chagrined him that he repudiated Luther forever Another man lost his election to an im— a would compel them to restore it, and they would not release me until after you had wishing to surprise and delight his friends 'It is very singular,' said he, 'I have by a sudden revelation of the great treas, started for your home.'

· . ' .

1.1.1