DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.

FOR GOVERNOR:

HENRY D. FOSTER, Of Westmoreland County.

CAMPAIGN DEMOCRAT.

As the extensive circulation of papers is one of the most effective means of calling out a FULL VOTE, we propose to offer our paper to such as may wish to subscribe during the campaign, at very low rates. The Democratic nominee for President will be announced in June, and the campaign will fairly open about the first of July; and we suggest that clubs be made up to commence with that date and January, 1861. We make the following the candidate of the Black Republicans.

weakness long drawn out." -

ABE LINCOLN.

A brief outline of the fellow put up at rentage, his early education was limited of their respective salaries. to a few months of rude schooling such as the backwoods afforded. At the age of twenty he wandered westward to Illinois, where he served as a hired hand on a farm, and proved that efficiency in splitting rails, which was alluded to at Chicago by way of recommendation for the high office to which his Black Republican friends desire to clevate him. Later, it appears, he volunteered in the Blackhawk war, an occupation that must have proved very congenial to one reared in the backwoods. At one time he worked for his living as a flatboatman, which occupation he changed for that of grocery keeper; in the flourishing town of Salem, Illinois.

Politically, his fame is of an exclusively local character only, he having never become prominent before the country until continue six months-until the first of pushed into the foreground at Chicago as

> In 1846 he was member of Congress for Sangammon District, when he stood outin violent opposition to the Mexican war, taking, decidedly, side with the enemies of his country, which roused the indignation of his constituents to such a degree that he saw himself reluctantly compelled to retire to private life, and for some years he was entirely forgotten. Eight years later, in 1854, when the dissolution of the Whig party, and the confusion that event occasioned, seemed to offer a favorable opportunity to reenter the field of politics. Mr. Lincoln turned up again as one of the framers of the Black Republican platform, in company with Lovejoy, Giddings, Chase, and the mulatto statesman, red. Douglass.

His sentiments in regard to slavery are more extreme than even Seward's. He is in truth the originator of the irrepressible conflict doctrine, which he pronounced in a speech delivered in Springfield, Illinois, The following passage of Lincoln's speech contains the doctrine:

"I believe this government cannot en-dure permanently, half slave and half free. It will become all one thing, or all the other. Either the opponents of slavery will arrest the further spread of it, and place it where the public mind shall rest in the belief that it is in the course of ul-By the new time table of the D. L. it forward, till it shall become alike lawful in all the States—old as well as new—North as well as South."

A fair interpretation of this commits him to the forcible abolition of slavery; for no one can imagine that slavery will ever come North, and if it is ever abolished in the most Southern of the slave States, it must be by fire and sword.

In another speech, at Chicago, on the 16th of July, 1858, he said:

with another such chance to save money. banks of the Ohio and throw missiles into now and never was a citizen of the Uni-The Montrose Democrat comes to us Kentucky, to disturb them in their domestic institutions."

In another speech at Galesburg, Oct. friends in Grand Haven, and readily en-7th, 1858, he said: I believe that the right of property in slave is not distinctly and expressly af but all of them are residents of Grand Ha-firmed in the Constitution." It is claimed for Mr. Lincoln that he son was one of the secretaries of the Conwas a distinguished member of the old Whig party, but, as far as the records show, he was connected with that party with no more prominent or influential cator in Illinois in nearly or quite every Presidential contest from 1836 to 1852."

TYLER'S. DYSPEPSIA AND FITS. DR.90. PHELPS BROWN, the great curer of Consumption, was for several years so hadly afflicted by Dyspepsia that for it part of the time he was confined to his bed. He was epintually cured by a prescription furnished him by a worng clairvoyant girl. This inescription, given him by a mere child, while in a state of trainc, has cured everybody who has taken it, never having failed once. It is equally sure in cases of Firshas of Dyspersia.

An engraving is here given of the principal herb used it this medicine, and all of the incredients are to be found if any drug store. If will send this valuable prescription to any person, on the receipt of one stamptic pay postage. Dr. O. PHRLPS BROWN. 21 Granded, Jersey City, N. J. All of, Dr. O. Phens Brown.
