EVENING.

Westward they dart along,
The birds all flying low,
And hearts so full of song
With sweet notes overflow.

The workman's labor o'er,
Dear thoughts of home begin,
His younglings at the door,
Love's waiting eyes within.

Gently, through evening's blush,
The gathering shadows close,
And wildest thoughts grow hush
In such divine repose.

Pure floats the summer air,
Pure, under heaven's blue dome,
Night, bejewled hair,
Sits throned a queen, at home.

Life's day, how sweet and bright,
Thus could it melt away—
Pass beyond realms of night,
And find immortal day.

RECIPES.

To Settle Coffee.—Brown the coffee in the usual manner, and when nearly cool, break an egg upon it, and stir it well, to have each kernel coated. The coffee should not be warm enough to cook the egg. Use one egg to a pound of coffee; let it dry well before grinding. When boiled for use, it will settle without further trouble.

Pork Apple Pie.—Contributed by "L." Line a deep plate with pie crust, pare and slice apples enough to nearly fill it; sweeten and spice to taste. Cut slices of salt pork very thin; lay them over the apple, and cover with the top crust. Bake two hours. [Rather greasy to digest well.]

Cheap Sponge Cake.—One cup white sugar, two tablespoonfuls butter, one cup sweet milk, one teaspoonful cream tartar, half teaspoonful soda, a little less than a pint of flour, one egg, and nutmeg to taste.

Cookies.—One cup butter, two cups sugar, one cup sweet milk, half teaspoonful soda, nutmeg or caraway for spice; mix with flour until quite stiff, roll thin and bake quick. These I think superior to those made with eggs. They improve with age if kept in a covered stone jar.

A Good Plain Gingerbread.—One coffee cup of thick cream, one cup molasses, one teaspoonful soda, ginger to taste, a salt spoonful of salt. Stir quite thick with flour, and bake in square tins.

To Keep Hams in Summer.—Cut in slices and trim off the rind and outside; fry it about half as much as you would for the table. Pack it tightly in jars; pour over it the fat that fries out, and enough lard to cover it; close the jar tight, set in a cool place, and it will keep fresh all summer.

Bread Cake.—To one cup of light bread sponge, add one egg, one cup of flour, half a cup of butter, half a teaspoonful of saleratus, spice to your taste; stir well together, and put immediately in the oven; bake as for bread.

Baked Indian Pudding.—Scald ten table spoonfuls of Indian meal in three pints of sweet milk; add an ounce of butter, and sugar or molasses to sweeten to suit the taste. Bake two or three hours.

THE BEST WEALTH.

The great struggle with civilized men in this world is for wealth. This is called the prime good, the one thing needful, the great desideratum of life. Some men toil for it; sacrifice ease, comfort, health for it; deceive, cheat, defraud for it. The truth is, the estimate upon wealth is too high. Its value is overrated. It is not the great good. It is not the best thing man can have. It does not confer peace of mind, nor purity of heart, nor heartfelt happiness, nor contentment, nor home, nor joy, nor social blessedness, nor any enduring enjoyment.

Wealthy homes are not often happier than those of the poor and comfortable livers. Poverty is always an evil; but a fair supply of the necessaries and comforts of life is quite as apt to confer real peace, as great wealth. It is not gold nor goods, therefore, that make men really wealthy. The best wealth is of the heart, an enlightened mind, a loyal conscience, and pure affections. He is wealthiest who has the largest stock of wisdom, virtue and love—whose heart beats with warm sympathies for his fellow men, who finds good in all seasons, all providences and all men. The generous man who pities the unfortunate: the poor man who resists temptation; the wise man who orders well his life; the loving man who clings closely to his family and friends; the studious man who seeks instruction in all things, are the truly wealthy men.

☞ Night Air.—An extraordinary fallacy is the dread of night air. What air can we breathe at night but night air? The choice is between pure night air from without, and foul night air from within. Most people prefer the latter. An unaccountable choice. What will they say if is proved to be true that fully one-half of all the diseases we suffer from is occasioned by people sleeping with their windows shut? An open window most nights in the year can never hurt any one. This is not to say that light is not necessary for recovery. In great cities, night air is not the best and purest air to be had in the twenty four hours. I could better understand shutting the windows in towns during the night time for the sake of the sick. The absence of smoke, the quiet, all tend to make night the time for airing the patient. One of our highest medical authorities on consumption and climate, has told me that the air in London is never so good as after ten o'clock at night. Always air your room, then, from the outside air, if possible. Windows are made to open, doors are made to shut—a truth which seems extremely difficult of apprehension. Every room must be aired from without—every passage from within.—But the fewer passages there are in a hospital the better.—Florence Nightingale.

☞ A good story was told us the other day about John Van Buren. He had taken some technical legal advantage, by which his opponent's client was non-suited. The man was furious and declared his purpose to give John a piece of his mind when he saw him—he would wither him. Happening to see him one day at Downing's standing by the bar, getting out of sight a dozen New York boys, he boldly confronted the prince, and being a small man, looked up at him fiercely, and burst out;

"Mr. Van Buren, is there any client so low and mean, or any case so nasty, that you wont undertake to defend him in it?"

"I don't know," said John, stopping to put another oyster away, and then bending down confidently, drawing his reply in the little man's ear, "What have you been doing?"

HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS.
The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.
This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.
Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.
Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.
All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.
CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.
☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany.

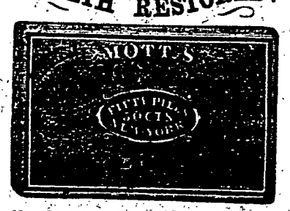
HEALTH RESTORED!



DR. MOTT'S
Chalybeate Pills.
An aperient and stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen, of high medical authority and extraordinary efficacy in each of the following complaints, viz:
DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHŒA, CONSTIPATION, SCROFULA, SALT RHEUM, SCURVY, JAUNDICE, LIVER COMPLAINTS, RHEUMATISM, MERCURIAL CONSEQUENCES, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, NEURALGIA, CHRONIC HEADACHES, FEMALE WEAKNESS, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, etc., PIMPLES ON THE FACE, ROUGHNESS OF THE SKIN, etc.
The IRON being absorbed by the blood, and thus circulating through the whole system, no part of the body can escape their truly wonderful influence.
The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can for a moment be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. In all cases of female debility (fluor albus, chlorosis, etc.), its effects are delightfully renovating. No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use. As a grand stomachic and general restorative it has no superior and no substitute.
Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50; one dozen boxes, $4.00. For sale by Druggists generally. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to
