THE SLAVERY QUESTION IN CONGRESS. The reception accorded to Mr. Douglas in Boston on Tuesday evening, was very cordial. In the course of his address to the thousands who had assembled to welcome him, he thus spoke of the slavery discussions in Congress: For the last few years, the whole time of Congress has been employed in the discussion of the slavery question, to the exclusion of the important business affecting the whole country. [Voices—"That's so," "That's good."] Whenever you ask your represensatives why they did not revise the revenue system in ofder to defray the expenses of Government without borrowing twenty millions of dollars a year, they tell you they had no time. [Laughter.] The whole time was occupied in the discussion of slavery, and there was no time to raise money to pay your honest debts, ["Good," "goods" and applause.] When you asked your representatives why it was that the Pacific. Railroad had not been made, you were told that there was no time because the slavery question had absorbed the entire session of Congress. When you ask your representatives how it is that the mail system has not been reformed and carried on with vigor, throughout the country, you are told that the bill was lost for want of time. [Laughter.] When you ask why it is that you have no overland inail route to the Pacific, and no steam lines, you are told that the slavery question occupied the whole session, and the bills were lost for want of time. [Renewed laughter.] Thus you find that all the great measures shipping interests, the manufacturing in-terests, the industrial interests of the supposition that the per centage of in-country, have been lost for want of time. crease since 1850 will be the same, 34 per which the government was made unless; and a single state of the connection of the people of each State and remand it large as the Roman states before the retrothe people of each State and remand it large as the Roman states before the retrothe people of each State and remand it large as the Roman states before the retrothe people of each State and remand it large as the Roman states before the retrothe people of each State and remaind the large and the Roman states before the retrothe people of each State and state and innis, disturbed step, &c., which and State aloresaid, bounded and described as tollows, to wit: beginning at a post, a corner of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and observed to a structions which have consigned so many thousands of the south, 69° east, 100 perches to a young the beautiful and beloved to a remarker enave post; thence south, 21° west, 117 perches to a young the beautiful and beloved to a remarker enave post; thence south, 21° west, 117 perches to a

Mr. Hickman has been for several years substantially a Republican, and he is not so well calculated to play a deceitful part, pretending to be a Democrat when he is not, as some of his political associates. He is no more 2 Republican now than he was in the fall of, 1858, when Attorney General Knox stumped the Chester district in his behalf and vouched for his Democracy! CELESTIAL PHENOMENON. At about half past nine b'clock last evening; a meteor of the most singular character passed | through the beavens' from the west towards the east. It was preceded by a radiance similar to that of an aurora, and progressed slowly, lingering for some time within the range of vision. It consisted, apparently, of several bodies of a greenish hue, connected with a belt of flame. A long streamer of fire was in its wake. Crowds were, gathered at the street corners, discussing and speculating upon its supposed influence on mundane affairs. In the neighborhood of Fairmount it seemed to touch the top of the reservoir mound, while those who witnessed it from the wharf described it as sinking into the bed of the Delaware, whose surface was illuminated with its brilliancy. Of course this was, in reality, not the case, as accounts from some distance below Camden represent it as still pursuing its flight towards the orient. It is seldom that such an eccentric visitor breaks in upon the harmony of the spheres in the view of so large a crowd of spectators, and we may expect much astronomical discussion up on the subject. -Phila Inquirer.

Reliable Testimony.

We call the attention of the reader to the following letter from President Smith, formerly of Wesleyon University, and now of Annapolis, Md.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Feb. 23, 1859 SETH W. FOWLE & Co. - Gentlemen: -- I first made use of the Orggenated Bitters some seven of eight years since. Having suffered for twenty years nervous headache, on an average of not less than one day in a week, I was induced, by the unpretending recommendation of Ur. Green, "to try one bottle, and if no benefit was received to discontinue the sac.".

The use of one bottle warranted a further trial, to the extent of some three or four, with a careful observance of the accompanying directions. The result was, an almost entire relief from the usual dyspeptic symptoms and their depressing, painful consequences. Libelieve and their depressing, painful consequences. Libelieve these flitters produced an entire change in the habits of my system, and upon the active energies of the digestive organs. I now doom invsolf as exempt from Dyspansis as most persons. These Bitters have also been of ser vice to other members of my family.

Very respectfully yours, AUGUSTUS W. SMITH.

RICHMOND, Tioga Co., Pa., Aug. 25, 1828. - CENTLEMEN, - After suffering for more than thirty years with Dyspensia, and trying many remedies reommended for that diverse without any good result, I was induced, by Dr. F. H. White of Mansfield, to give the Oxygenated Bitters a trial. I took two bottles, which gave me so much relief that I purchased two more, which have nearly or quite effected a cure. I am' now nearly seventy-five years of age, and for three months part have felt no inconvenience from my food: I take great pleasure in recommending the Bitters to all affilicted with Dyspensia and its concomitant disease

MARSFIELD, Tioga Co., Pa., Aug. 26, 1858. I have used the Oxygenated Bitters in my practice with decided success in debility and general prostration &c., and confidently recommend them in general de-bility, and diseases of the digestive organs. F. H. WHITE, M.D.

MONTROSE, May 9th, 1800. DYSPEPSIA AND FITS. DR. O. PHELPS BROWN, the great curer of Consumption, was for several years so badly affiled by Dyspepsia that for a part of the time be was confined to his bed. He was eventually cured by a prescription furnished him by a young clairvoyant girl. This prescription, given him by; a mere child, while in a state of trance, has cured everybody who has taken it, never having failed once. It is equally sure in cases of Fire as of Dyspersia.

An engraving is here given of the principal herbused in this medicine, and all of the ingredients are to be found in any drug store.
