

Flood in the Susquehanna

Last Saturday the people residing along the Western Branch of the Susquehanna river were visited by the horrors and devastations of one of the great floods that has occurred since the memorable freshet of 1846.

A gentleman direct from Williamsport informs us that the river commenced rising at that place about midnight and continued to increase with frightful velocity during Saturday, until serious apprehensions of a general inundation began to be entertained.

The most serious effect of the flood, however, is the destruction of the boom at Williamsport and Lock Haven, and the escape of logs valued in the aggregate at about a million of dollars.

These boats were scattered, and small boats began to make their appearance in the stream. The occupants of these boats, however, did not seem to pay any attention to the logs, their efforts being chiefly directed towards the capture of the boards, of which a large quantity were seen.

The United States steamer Susquehanna, from Hatteras, arrived at Hampton on the 29th, with the intelligence of the entire defeat and destruction of some three or four Regiments, numbering four thousand of the rebels, consisting of Georgians and Carolinians.

The rebels were completely surrounded the Indiana regiment at Chickamaucum, when news was sent to the Monticello lying off the light, Lieutenant Braine of the United States Navy, commander, who ordered the Monticello under way.

CONTRACTED.—An officer who was engaged in the defence of Lexington under Col. Mulligan, in an account of the seizure which he furnishes to the Chicago Post, thus gives the gist to several false reports which have obtained a wide currency.

THE PRESIDENT AND GEN. FREMONT.—The Springfield (Illinois) Journal, the home organ of President Lincoln, edited by his nephew, administers a strong rebuke to those Republican journals who oppose the President and sustain Gen. Fremont.

IN VERY GREAT DEMAND.—Republican party demand.

THIRD YEAR FOR ANNUAL IN ADVANCE
A. J. GIBBSON,
EDITOR, PUBLISHER, AND PROPRIETOR.

Result of the Elections.

There being no State ticket this year, the votes have generally been light, and the returns are slow in being reported. The Union tickets have in some cases made good havoc with party majorities.

The Oath of Allegiance.

As there may be persons who do not understand why all holding military commissions should be called on to take the oath of allegiance, as stated in this paper, we copy the appended official letter:

British Neutrality.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune communicates the following intelligence, by which it seems that an English steamer has recently arrived at Savannah, Ga., loaded with cargo of great value and importance.

Cairo, Oct. 7.—The gun-boats, Tyler and Lexington proceeded down the river to-day, and fell in with the rebel boat Jeff Davis. They chased her to within two miles of Columbus, when the batteries on the Kentucky shore opened on them.

William Schelling, a young German, who learned the printing business in England in this office, is now in the war. He is a good Democrat, a good printer, and of course a good soldier.

AN ABOLITION BAZAAR.—S. M. Booth, the Wisconsin slave rescuer, the man who was released by the clemency of Mr. Buchanan from confinement for resisting the laws of the United States, has turned up at one of the Wisconsin fairs as a denouncer of the present war and the bitter accuser of President Lincoln!

Gen. Sigel, who commands our advance guard, had all his preparations made for an attack last night, and had the enemy made his appearance, he would have met a warm reception.
