By looking over a map the reader will perceive that it enjoys the lest market in the Union, and has direct communication with New York and Philadelphia trice a day, being only thirty-two nules from the latter. Produce in this market brings double the price that it does in locations distant from the citles. In this location it can be put into the market the same mornine it is gathered, and for what the farmer sells he gets the highest price; whilst graceries and other articles he purchases he gets at the lowest price. In the West, what he sells brings him a pittance, but for what he buys he pays two prices. In locating here the settler has many other advantages. He is within a few hoors, by ratinoad, of all the great cities of New England and the Middle States. He is near his old friends and are sociations. He has chood for his-children, divine service, and all the advantages of civilization, and he is near a large city.

Advantages of Farming near Home—Vineland—Remarks upon Marl—Soil, its great Fertility—The Cause of Fertility—Amount of Crops Produced—Practical Evidence.

It is certainly one of the most extensive fertile tracts, finan almost level position, and saitable condition for pleasant farming that we know of this side of the western prairies. We found some of the oldest farms apparently just as prolitably productive as when first cleared of forest fifty or a hundred years ago.

The geologist would soon discover the cause of this continued fertility. The whole country is a marine deposit, and all through the soil we found evidences of calcareous substances, generally in the form of indulated calcareous mant, showing many distinct forms of ancient shells, of the tertiary formation—and this marly substance is ecattered all through the soil, in a very comminated form, and in the exact condition most easily assimilated by such plants as the farmer desires to cultivate.

Marl, in all its forms has been used to fertilize crops in England, from the time it was occupied by the Romans and in France and Germany a marl bed is counted on as a valuable bed of manure, that can be dug and carted and spread over the field. How much more valuable them it must be when found already mixed through the soil, where new particles will be turned up and exposed, and transformed to the owner's use every time he stirs the carth.

Having then satisfied our minds with the cavee, they arth. Having then satisfied our minds with the cause, they

In other cases the corn crop of last year was followed with oats this season, not yet threshed, but will average, probably forty to fifty bushels. Sweet potatoes, beans, melious, and in fact, all vegetables, as well as young peach and other fruit trees planted this year, show very plainly that fithis long neglected tract of land should remain so no langer, and there is now a strong-probability that it will not; for under the auspices of Mr. Landis, it will be divided into small lots, with roads located to accommodate; all—the surveyor is now busy at this work and all pirchasers will be required to build neat comfortable hod-es, and either fence their lots in uniformity, or agree to like without fence, which would be preferable, by which means a good-population will be secured who will eshablish churches, schools, stores, mills, machine shops an shomes—homes of American farmers, surlounded by gardens, orchards, fields and comforts Gerling in the content of the preferance of the commodate of the contents of the conten

Holloway's 'Ointment! Bad Logs, Bad Breasts, Sores and Ulcers. Bad Logs, Bad Breasts, Sores and Ulcors.

LL descriptions of sores are remediable by the propagation of the interimable preparation. To attempt to cure had logs by plastering the edges of the wound together is a folly; for should the skin unite, a longy discased condition remains underreath to break out with tenfold fury in a few days. The only rational and successful treatment, as indicated by nature, is to reduce the infammation in and about the wound, and to soothe the neighboring parts by rabbing in plenty of the Ointiment as sait is forced into ineat.

Piles, Fistula, Strictures.

The above class of complaints will be removed by nightly fomenting the parts with warm, water, and then nost effectually rubbing in the Ointment. Persons suffering from these direful complaints should be not a moment in arresting their progress. It should be understood that it is not sufficient, merely to smear the Ointment on the affected parts, but it must be well rubbed in for some considerable time two or three times a day, that it may taken into the system, whence it will remove any hidden sore or wound as effectually as thouch palpable by the eye. There scalar-bread and water ponitice, after the rubbing in of the Ointment, will do great service. This is the only eye treatment for females, cases of cancer in the stomach, or where there may be a general bearing down.

Indisporations of Youth:—Soves and Hiere. Indiscretions of Youth; -- Bores and Ulcers.

DIOTCHES, as also swellings, can, with certainty, be radically cured if the Ointment be used freely, and the Pills be taken tinght and morning as recommended in the in the printed instructions. When treated fit any other way they only dry up in one place to break out Instruction whereas this Ointment will remove the humor from the system, and leave the patient a vicerous and healthy being. It will require time with the use of the Pills to ensure a latting cure. Drepsical Swellings, Paralysis and Stiff Joints. A L'HIOU'GH the above complaints differ widely in A their origin and nature, yet they all require local treatment. Many of the worst cases of such discuser, will yield in a comparatively short space of time when this Gintment is difficently rubbed into the part—Lected, even after every other means have failed. In all serious mandadies the Pills should be taken according to the printed directions accompanying each box.
