

ITEMS.

According to the Richmond papers of Thursday, all is quiet at Charleston.

Our troops still occupy Coles, Kiawah, and Seabrook Islands in considerable force.

We have lost two gunboats and three transports on the Cumberland River. They were destroyed by Wheeler's rebel cavalry.

The rebels in their advance upon Suffolk had a fight with two of our gunboats on the Nausumet River on the 14th inst.

The Connecticut Democratic journals are showing that if the 3,000 troops used to take Connecticut, the 1,000 to take Rhode Island, and the whole regiment with the stragglers, ordered on to New Hampshire, had been ordered to join Gen. Hunter, Charleston might have been taken by land.

We have good news from Gen. Foster. Advice from Newbern to Sunday, the 12th inst., state that a communication had been received from him, to the effect that he had plenty of supplies, and that he believed he could withstand all the force the rebels could bring against him for three weeks if necessary.

It is reported in Havana that Admiral Wilkes is a prisoner, on parole, of the Spanish Government, and will so remain until he can explain the affair of the Vanderbilt firing into a Spanish coasting steamer a short time ago.

There has been skirmishing within the last few days on the Peninsula at Yorktown between our forces and those of Gen. Wise, and in front of our lines at Suffolk, where Longstreet's Division of over 50,000 men has advanced.

Among the various reports of the shooting of Lieut. Col. Kimball by Gen. Corcoran, this seems to be the line of statement most generally adhered to.

We learn from two sources entitled to credit that the iron-clads at Charleston with the exception of the Montauk and Passaic, are to be sent to the Mississippi to swell the squadron of Farragut.

On the 10th inst. a body of Charleston rebels crossed over to Folly Island from the mainland, pounced upon 30 of our troops and carried them off a bloodless prey.

The presence of our iron-clads at Charleston Harbor does not seem to intimidate the blockade-runners. A ship from Nassau, loaded with merchandise, including a large quantity of Havana cigars, slipped in on the 10th, only three days after the bombardment.

A meeting of the officers of the 16th Regiment Drafted Militia of this State at Beaufort, S. C., the Colonel states that there are but seven republicans among the thirty-six officers, and that the proportion of Democrats in the rank and file is even greater.

The Springfield (Ill.) correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, writing from Mr. Lincoln's home says: As far as heard from in the county, the Democrats are carrying everything before them.

Mrs. Jane G. Swishelm, of Minnesota, has been appointed to a position in the War Department, with a salary of $1000 per annum.

The New York Express of Thursday says, "another difficulty was in progress this afternoon between the longshoremen and negro laborers whom the white laborers have determined shall no longer receive employment."

According to the Richmond papers of Thursday, all is quiet at Charleston. Our troops still occupy Coles, Kiawah, and Seabrook Islands in considerable force. They are protected by gunboats.

THE CHARLESTON REPULSE.

The attack on Charleston was a carefully prepared, deliberate attack, and not a reconnaissance.

No official gazette, no collocation of words, will set aside the naked, shameful fact that after two years of careful preparation, with the most invulnerable ships of war the world has ever seen and guns double and triple the caliber of those heretofore used in naval warfare, with money and material without stint and the best and most available mechanical skill on the globe, the administration has failed on the point that place which above all others at the South it could least afford not to take.

Two years ago the rebellion was formally opened by the bombardment and subsequent capture of Fort Sumter. The whole naval power of the government has been employed devising means to capture this rebellious stronghold.

Knowing, as they must, the prestige the nation would lose and the rebellion gain in case they failed, it became their imperative duty to leave no means untried to capture the city.

What a record it will be in history that with an army of 70,000 soldiers in the field barely 7,000 were employed to co-operate with the greatest enterprise of the whole war!

The moral of this disaster is so obvious that it need scarcely be mentioned. It is the story of Bull Run, the Virginia campaign, and Fredericksburg over again.

During the battle a drummer boy, named Adams was killed at Fort Sumter, and five men wounded, two severely in the head, the others slightly.

Colonel Rhett was in command of Fort Sumter, Colonel Butler of Fort Moultrie, Captain Sitgraves of Fort Beauregard, Lieutenant-Colonel Simkins of Battery Bee, Major Inger of Battery Wagner, and Lieutenant Lesene, with a detachment from Fort Sumter, of the battery on Cumming's Point.

Fort Sumter was hit thirty-four times, but received no damage. We learn that six men belonging to Captain Mathews' artillery company, stationed at Battery Wagner, were wounded. Two of these have since died.

DISOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.—It will be seen by a notice in our columns that Lowell & Warner have dissolved partnership in the Commercial College.

DEATHS.

CHARLES H., son of Edward and Sarah Beebe, of Bridgewater, Pa. was in truth a lovely child.

THE last night here, through the night, he watched him breathing through the night. As in his heart the wave of life, kept heaving to and fro.

And when the morning came death had stamped his seal on his brow. He lingered through the day, then passed into the spirit world November 1st, aged 5 years 10 months.

Rest be to his earthly form in the burial vale, on the banks of the winding river and long cherished be the memory of him in loving and affectionate hearts. [Cov.]

SPECIAL NOTICE. On and after July 1st, 1863, the privilege of converting the present issue of LEGAL TENDER NOTES into the new issue of LEGAL TENDER NOTES, commonly called "Five-Twenty" Loan, must be exercised before the first of JULY next.
