Truth Well Spoken.

In a speech recently delivered in Congress by the Hon. Philip Johnson, of the Northampton District, he says: "We must save this country," said Mr. Johnson, "and I assert here to day, that there is no hope for the country except in the deep rooted Democracy of the people. You will have no thirty years war. Two years more and your power will vanish from you as the snow before the warm sun of spring. I know that this bill and other kindred measures are intended to enable you to hold on, but as well try to dam the waters of the Mississippi as to prevent the people of this great country from resuming the power of this govern ment, which has been so much abused in your hands. 'The people want the Union restored, and this government maintained and administered according to the Constitution, because it is their Union, their government, and their Constitution and the Democracy are with their and they know
