LATEST WAR NEWS! HOOKER DEFEATED RICHMOND CAPTURED!

Gen. Hooker crossed the Rappahanhis army, and engaged the Confederate forces under Lee. On Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, there was, according to all accounts, very severe and destructive fighting, with heavy loss on each side and with varied success, -sometimes the Federals driving the Confederates, and at others the Confederates pushing back the Northern troops.

Our loss is not over 15,000. Many of the reports are terrible gloomy. One says: We have sad and disheartening news from Virginia. The grand army of the Potomac is in full retreat, and has recrossed the Rappahannock. Terri-ble battles were fought, in which thousands of noble lives were sacrificed, and all to no purpose.

A brilliant eavalry raid was made in the rear of the rebels by Gen. Stoneman, who succeeded in breaking up Lee's communications with Richmond, both by railroad and turnpiker. He destroyed the Ashland Bridge on the Fredericksburg road, then proceeding to Hanover Court House he five other bridges of the Fredericksburg and Stanton violated no law in maktore up the Central track and destroyed road, and then, pursuing his route to the over the Chickahominy.

Hooker is severely criticised on all no time from Friday morning to Monday pure national patriot, holding himself anight but that Hooker could have attacked and defeated Lee's army. He lacked the ability to give the order." field, and anticipating better news, we prefer not repeating the crude tales of disaster, and await the clearing up of the Buell. dread mysteries.

HARRISBURG, May 8-The following despatch has just been received by the Governor, from Washington:

The President and General-in Chief have just returned from the army of the Tod on deserters,) failed to conscript Potomac. The principle operations of them out of tender regard for age and General Hooker failed, but there has been see no serious disaster to the organization and efficiency of the army.

It is now occupying its former position on the Rappahannock, having re-crossed the river without any loss in the move-and the enemy's communications have butter, come.' been cut in every direction.

The Army of the Potomic will speedily resume offensive operations. EDWIN M. STANTON, (Signed,)

We have reports that Gens. Keyes and Peck have advanced from Suffolk, and taken Richmond, (which Stoneman reported to be undefended.) This is since doubted. Hooker re-crossed the river on Saturday night, but found Lee gone.

A Little Good News.

We have a scrap of good news from the West. Grand Gulf has been captured and with it 500 prisoners and all the guns amunition and stores. Gen. McClernand's corps and Gen. Logan's division were, on advance of General Hooker upon Richmond, the rebels intend to evacuate the place, draw him into it, and then, by a rapid flank movement, get behind him and dash into Washington, and so on.— This is an old story; but at this day it is a very absurd one.

The better nations become acquainted with each other, the fewer will be they be to love and respect each other-Just so with Herrick Allen's Gold Medal more you want to, and the more anxious no equal. Most of the Grocers have it.

Union League Proscription.

Last week, when the Democracy of their prejudices, and the more likely will Huntingdon county assembled in their county seat, for the purpose of holding a Democratic County Convention, the Saleratus-the more you know of it, the Union Leagues of Huntingdon circulated a petition, and got Abolition names on it, you are to have your friends become its praying the commissioners not to allow patrons. On the morning of the day of GREAT her death, among other passages she quo-ted, was that which the Revelator was bidden to write, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord." It was spoken in anticipation of the rapidly approaching hour of her dissolution, which she seemed more distinctly to apprehend as near at hand than did those who anxiously watched at her side. To the writer, a few minutes before she breathed her last, taking his hand in hers and looking up with a smile, she said, "I am going to my Saviour." These were the last words she spoke, except to ask for water, which being taken, into the hands of that Saviour, we believe, she yielded up her spirit. *
