Address of the Democratic Committee of New Hampshire.

To the Democracy of New Hampshire: As your representatives, and in vindication of your political principles, not less than your personal character as citizens, we cannot permit a recent transaction to pass unnoticed; nor can we in any degree meet the demands of the occasion, without the expression of our emphatic protest against it. We refer to the dismissal of Lieut. Andrew J. Edgerly from military service, by the President of the United States, in accordance with the following. order :- dated War Dep't, etc., March 13.

Special Order No. 119. (Extract.) 34. By direction of the President, the following officers are hereby dismissed the service of the United States:

Lieutenant A. J. Edgerly, 4th New Hampshire Volunteers, for circulating "Copperhead tickets," and doing all in his power to promote the success of the rebel cause in his State.

By order of the Secretary of War: L. Thomas, Adj. Gen.

To the Gov. of New Hampshire. We ought, perhaps, to apologize for not having, at an earlier day, called your attention to this gross assault upon the fundamental principle so vital to the existence of an elective Government—to this scornful contempt for your rights-to this denial, in the most offensive spirit of unbridled despotism, of freedom of thought and opinion-to this shameful attack upon the elective franchise, in the crushing of which liberty must perish-to this insult without a parallel thrust in your faces individually and collectively-to these offensive terms with which you are assailed. That apology is to be found in the fact that notwithstanding the humiliating experience of the last two years, we did not believe it possible that so extraordinary a paper could be genuine. We could not believe that the President of the United States would exhibit such wanton disregard of the propricties of life as to indulge in vulgar epithets in an official paper, even for the accomplishment of such a purpose. We were inclined, so long as any doubt could exist, to regard this order as the fiction of unprincipled and shameless local partisans, for we were reductant to conclude sive of the Constitution, but fatal to civil that even this Administration had sunk to liberty. so low a level; and were the order to prove really genuine, we desired to wait and see what possible explanation could be offered to lessen the indignation with which it should be visited.

But there is no longer doubt with regard to its genuineness. The order has been carried into effect by the dismissal of Lieutenant Edgerly from the service, and is left to speak for itself, without further explanation than it carries upon its fice.

We have no occasion to say anything in vindication of the officer thus rudely, and with attempted indignity removed from command. His fidelity, capacity, and so ready and swift was the Executive to ty of the grave offence of voting as his trict if a Republican if not, by prominent conscience dictated. No notice was giv- politicians." en, no charge was made and explanation desired, no opportunity for hearing was afforded, no time was taken for examination of the case even by the Government itself. For the intervening period between the offence and the date of the order was barely sufficient for the intelligence to Marshal in each Congressional district, it reach Washington by the ordinary course is said, may appoint "two deputies, or of mail—though in this case, as mothers, more if necessary," and "special officers," a telegram may have been considered a "enrolling officers," and "special guards," a telegram may have been considered a sufficient basis for Executive action.

Under any circumstances such an order indignation; but if anything were want tative in Congress from the district, if a ing at the present time to add to such in Republican—if not, by prominent political account with the Lackawanna & Republican—if not, by prominent political account to the Lackawanna & Republican—if not, by prominent political account to the Lackawanna & Republican—if not, by prominent political account to the Lackawanna & Republican account to the lackawanna & Re dignation, that want would be supplied by the fact that the same administration which so summarily visited its vengeance upon Lient. Edgerly for exercising his unquestionable right of suffrage as a free citizen of this State, week after week, during the late political campaign, allowed-if it did not order-military officers from other states of the highest rank and receiving the largest salaries, to actively participate in the canvass, and assume to dictate to our people both their political principles service. It may be of little consequence to him personally. But it is of the highest importance to every citizen of New Hampshire to understand whether he is to enjoy the rights of a freeman without awe and without punishment; to know whether in becoming a soldier for the defence of the country he ceases to be a free citizen, and becomes the mere subject of an irresponsible despotism! If for voting the Democratic ticket an officer is to be punished by dismissal, what is to be the limit in kind or degree of punishment which officials in power will inflict upon the private for a similar offence? Certainly nothing less than conscription will force the Democrats of this state into the service, if thereby they are to forfeit freedom of opinion and the dearest right of the citizen—the independent exercise of the elective franchise. But this order addresses itself to you directly and individually. In it the Presdent goes out of his way to apply to you, the 32,800 Democratic voters of New we will not repeat. In it, with a degree of falsehood equalled only by its vulgarity, he charges you with laboring to promote the rebel cause. The ticket for the sup-Hampshire, the opprobious epithet which port of which Lieut. Edgerly has been thus officially villified and punished, was the same ticket supported by each of you, and the charge, the insult and the indignity which this order conveys to him, apply and were intended to apply with equal force to you. In your name and behalf we denounce the charge contained in this order as false: and, without descending to the level of its author to bandy epithets, we express, your contempt for any denunciations and threats intended to deter you from the fearless assertion and exercise of your inherited and inalienable rights:

Love for the Union and devotion to the Constitution are no new emotions to the Democracy of New Hampshire. All your lives long have you assiduously labored, through good report and through evil report, to preserve the national unity by unwavering fidelity to the common bond .-No sixteen-starred flags, with treasonable inscriptions, have been given to the breeze by your hands. In the past you have believed no sacrifices too great to be made for the preservation of the Constitution and the Union, and we know in the. future there will be no defiance too determined to resist aggressions upon either. If the President is "pressed" to issue orders reflecting upon the patriotic integrity of the people, these orders might with greater propriety be addressed to those with whom he is at present politically and socially affiliated and whose whole career has been characterized by unbounded denunciations of the compact which gave to us an undivided country—though in such case we think his "orders" should contain no language calculated to mantle with shame the cheek of every man who appreciates the dignity of our government, or possesses the ordinary pride of au American citizen. Your tried and true devotion to the Constitution and the Union, and your potriotism, are not to be confounded with blind and unquestioning acceptance of the political opinions or policy of any Executive. You have opposed the measures of the present administration, because you believed them to be fatal to the Union-you have denounced its illegal and arbitrary acts because knew them to be not only subver-

An Army of Provost Marshals,

The grand army of Provost Marshals, organized under the Conscription act passed by the last Congress, will soon be in the field. Each day adds a new batch to the list of appointments, and quiets the ravenous appetite of hungry patriots with the honors and emoluments of office. First, there is a Provost Marshal General for the United States. Then, there is a Provost Marshal for each Congressional district; and reliable information from Washington conveys to us the intelligence that " each Provost Marshal may appoint two courage have never been questioned. The deputies, or more if necessary, at salaries order itself expresses the sole reason on of not more than $100 per month each; which his dismissal is based. That reason four special officers for detecting and arconsists in the fact that happening to be resting spies or deserters, at from $40 to at home on the day of our annual election, Lieut. Edgerly, in the exercise of his undoubted right as a freeman, cast his vote ceeding $3 per diem for the time actually ceeding $3 per diem for the time actually employed; and special guards for deserters, at not more than $1 per diem, besides their actual expenses. All these appointments are to be made subject to the approval of the Provost Marshal General, who will unquestionably be guided by the Representative in Congress from the district, if a Republican—if not, by prominent politicians."

It is not to be supposed that the party now in power will, restrict themselves, in any degree, in increasing the ranks of this grand army, as long as its leaders have friends to reward and partisan followers

The result requires to the Reading and Harrisburg: arriving at the Reading arriving at t people pay for it. It would require no ittle labor to calculate the amount of little labor to calculate the amount of money that must come out of the Treasury to meet the enormous expenses of this horde of Republican officeholders; but the good-natured masses must not complain, or they may be deemed contumacious, and be punished accordingly. It may be of little public consequence the bill without a murmur, and calmly whether Licut. Edgerly is in or out of the bear in mind that to grumble, even, may subject them to the pains and penalties of "treason." Indeed, they should feel proud of the grand army of "disabled" politicians that is quartered in their midst. and should regard its presence only as another evidence of the great care which the Jacobin leaders are now taking of the people and their money!
