

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS.

MAY 19.—Major-General Hurlburt yesterday informed the general-in-chief of the capture of Jackson, Miss., by Gen. Grant. The news-halls from rebel sources. On the 12th inst. General Grant is reported to have defeated Gregg's brigade at Raymond, the enemy losing about 700 men. The next day, Wednesday, Gregg was reinforced by Gen. Walker, of Georgia. He was then attacked at Mississippi Springs and driven toward Jackson on Thursday. A telegram from Canton gave information of the fact that Jackson was taken by our forces on the 14th inst. The Chattanooga Rebel of the 16th stated that the town was captured after a hard day's fighting.

A dispatch from Cincinnati states that the rebels are collecting a large cavalry force south of the Cumberland river, and a large infantry force in East Tennessee, and intend to advance into Kentucky this month under General Breckinridge. A letter from Russellville, Ky., says that on Wednesday a party of sixty guerrillas fired on a train near South Union. The guard on the train returned the fire and routed the rebels with the loss of one killed and one wounded.

A report has been received in Memphis from Arkansas that about ten days ago General Marmaduke had a fight with the federal force on Crowley's Ridge, near Francis river, Arkansas, forty miles west of Memphis. Rebel reports claim a victory for Marmaduke.

MAY 20.—A Cincinnati report says that the defeat of the rebels at Raymond, Miss. is thought to have been highly disastrous to them. After taking Jackson on the 14th, General Grant burned the state capitol. The rebels were being reinforced heavily at last accounts, twelve miles east of Jackson, and a great battle was considered imminent.

On the 14th General Grant telegraphed again from Raymond; that McPherson took that town on the 12th inst., after a brisk fight of more than two hours. Our loss was 51 killed and 180 wounded. The enemy's loss was 75 killed (buried by us) and 186 prisoners captured, besides wounded.

A telegram from General Hurlburt, at Memphis, was received in Washington yesterday, corroborating previous information concerning the capture of Jackson and burning of the capitol.

Affairs on the Rappahannock remain unchanged. An ex-changed Union prisoner, an officer, reports that new and extensive earthworks have been erected on the turnpike road between Richmond and Fredericksburg, heretofore unknown to us.

A letter from Richmond, Ky., says the rebels have crossed the Cumberland, and are advancing on that place. There is no question but that another invasion of Kentucky is contemplated with a view to flank Rosecrans, and compel him to leave his strong position at Murfreesboro'.

Dispatches from Somerset say that the rebel forces in Wayne and Clinton counties is increasing. They are said to have 17,000 men, with 15 pieces of artillery.

MAY 21.—A Cincinnati dispatch says that, according to intelligence received there, General Grant, after destroying the State House and rebel stores in Jackson evacuated the place.

Major-General Milroy reports from Winchester that his cavalry had a skirmish on the 19th inst. with the rebel cavalry six miles from that place. The enemy lost six killed and seven taken prisoners, including a captain and lieutenant. There were no casualties on our side, and our force was still in pursuit when the dispatch was sent.

An official dispatch from Admiral Porter, dated May 14, states that on the evening of the 6th inst., he took possession of Alexandria, La., without resistance. General Banks arrived there the day following, and the city was forthwith handed over to him.

The United States bark Roebuck captured, on the 3d inst., while attempting to run the blockade at St. Andrew's Bay, Florida, the British schooner Emma Amelia, of eighty-five tons, loaded with wine, flour, &c.

MAY 22.—A letter from Suffolk, Va., states that the Eleventh Rhode Island and the One Hundred and Fifty-second New York Regiments on Tuesday morning were advancing to a given point by different roads, when mistaking each other for rebels, a brisk fight was commenced and continued with spirit until the fatal blunder was discovered. A number of each regiment are said to have been killed and wounded.

On Monday two companies of the New York Mounted Rifles were suddenly attacked by the rebels, and before they could be reinforced were badly cut up.

The Navy Department has been officially informed that the United States steamer Octorara, on the 22d ult., captured the English schooner Handy.

The gunboat Pembina captured the sloop Eliza Beckworth, from Havana, while trying to run the blockade at Mobile, with an assorted cargo.

On the 24th ult., the same vessel captured the schooner Joe Flanner while trying to run the blockade at Mobile. She had an assorted cargo.

The U. S. steamer Monticello on the 16th ult., captured on the 16th ult., off the Otter River Inlet, N. C., the schooner Odd Fellow, loaded with rosin, turpentine, &c.

Hon. John Cassma. Since the adjournment of the Legislature Mr. Cassma, who so ably filled the Speaker's chair, has made two speeches, one at Huntington before the Democracy there assembled, and the other at a mass meeting in the town of Somerset. Mr. Cassma is a prominent candidate for the nomination for Governor, and would make a most able and efficient Executive officer. We clip the following notice of his speech at Somerset from the Somerset Democrat:

Hon. John Cassma was next introduced and made a capital speech. He reviewed the policy of this administration in a most masterly manner. He convicted it upon its own testimony of the greatest inconsistencies, treachery and imbecility.

He showed that as long as the war was prosecuted for a constitutional purpose, that the Democracy, although doubting the war policy, rallied around the administration—ready to give it their undivided support. But since the war has been diverted from its original purpose, and the powers that be have lost sight of all constitutional obligations, the South has become united and the North hopelessly divided, just as Mr. Lincoln had declared it would do, but nine short days before he determined on the emancipation policy—the policy which he declared would work disaster and ruin to the country. He said as soon as the administration would return to its original policy, repudiate its abolition schemes and respect the provisions of the Constitution that the Democracy would again sustain it earnestly and heartily.

He paid a beautiful compliment to the Democratic party, whose great heart always beats in unison with the great interests of the nation and which for three-fourths of a century moulded and directed the affairs of this government. His speech was applauded throughout.

Thanks.—At a meeting of the Soldiers' Aid Society, May 14th, a special vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Samuel C. Morton for his generous gift of $25.
