The Administration not the Government.

In the common Abolition phraseology of the times, we are daily told that the administration is the government, and to oppose or censure the administration is to oppose or censure the government, and therefore treason. Even the New York Methodist Conference, at its late session, among other "loyal" resolutions, passed one strongly denouncing all who pretended to make a distinction between the administration and the government as guilty of covert treason.

Judge Pearson of the Dauphin District, well known throughout the State as a double-dyed republican, in a recent charge to the Grand Jury, puts a total extinguisher upon the patriotic fire of all this class of "loyalists" whose fidelity is to the administration instead of the Constitution. The judge says:

"Do not misunderstand me on this point; men have the most unlimited right to condemn, and if you please, rail at the national administration, and to object to the manner in which it conducts public affairs.

Parties will exist in every free country, and whether men will sustain or oppose a particular administration, is one in which there should ever be the most perfect freedom of opinion."

This language, coming from a republican Judge, and pronounced "officially," should, we think, take down the self-constituted class of dictators who infest every locality and disturb its peace and order. But the Judge administers a still severer rebuke to these administration patriots in the following pertinent sentence. He says:

"There certainly can be no difficulty with persons of ordinary intelligence in drawing the distinction between sustaining the government itself, and sustaining or opposing those who temporarily administer its affairs (i. e. the administration.) The latter is a question of party, the former of patriotism."

According to Judge Pearson's opinion, then, these men who are denouncing Democrats as traitors, for refusing to support the administration, must be destitute of ordinary intelligence, the meaning of which expression is, that they are natural fools. We have long entertained the same opinion, but not being legally constituted a "Judge," it did not fall within our province to decide upon the matter. Now that the question has been officially settled, we publish the learned Judge's opinion for the benefit of all whom it may concern. Hereafter, when we hear any of these praters talking about the disloyalty of Democrats as evidenced by their opposition to the administration, we shall set them down as natural fools, and quote Judge Pearson as our authority.—Danville Intelligencer.

Vallandigham's Address to the Ohio Democracy.

Military Prison,
Cincinnati, Ohio, May 22, 1863.

To the Democracy of Ohio:

Banished from my native state for no crime save Democratic opinions and free speech to you in their defense, and about to go into exile, not of my own will but by the compulsion of an arbitrary and tyrannic power which I cannot resist, allow me a parting word. Because despotism and superior force so will it, I go within the confederate lines. I well understand the purpose of this order. But in vain the malice of enemies shall thus continue to give color to the calumnies and misrepresentations of the past two years. They little know the true character of the man with whom they have to deal. No order of banishment, executed by superior force, can release me from my obligations or deprive me of my rights as a citizen of Ohio and of the United States. my allegiance to my own state and government I shall recognize, wherever I may be, as binding in all things, just the same as though I remained upon their soil. Every sentiment and expression of attachment to the Union and devotion to the Constitution—to my country—which I have ever cherished or uttered, shall abide unchanged and unretracted till my return. Meantime, I will not doubt that the people of Ohio, cowering not a moment before either the threats or the exercise of arbitrary power, will in every trial prove themselves worthy to be called freemen.

C. L. VALLANDIGHAM.

THE WRONG MAN.—Presence of mind often saves one in emergencies. In the following case, an old toper seems to have been peculiarly blessed:

A good anecdote is told of a man named Bently, a confirmed drinker, who wo'd never drink with a friend or in public, and always bitterly denied, when a little too steep, ever tasting liquor. One day some bad witnesses concealed themselves in his room, and when the liquor was running down his throat, seized him with is wn crooked and his mouth open, and nolding him fast, asked with an air of triumph: "Ah, Bently, have we caught you at last? You never drink, eh?" No one would suppose but that Bently would have acknowledged the corn. Not he; with the most grave face and inexpressible calmness, and in a dignified manner he said, "gentlemen, my name is not Bently."

THE DRAFT.—It has been determined at Washington that while all persons coming within the provisions of the act of enrollment of calling out the National forces are to be enrolled, nevertheless, under the first enrollment, those who were in the military service at the time the act went into effect, namely, the 3d of March last, are not to be included in that class which is subject to the first draft. Those of the second class are not to be called out until those of the first class shall have been exhausted.

For kissing a pretty girl, $1. For kissing a homely one, $2—the extra amount being added, probably, as a punishment for the man's folly. For ladies kissing one another, $10; the tax is placed at this rate in order to break up the custom altogether, it being regarded by our M. C.'s as an inexcusable piece of absurdity.

For every flirtation, ten cents. Every young man who has more than one "girl" is taxed $5. For courting in the kitchen, 25 cents.—Courting in the sitting-room, 50 cents. Courting in the parlor, $1. Courting in a romantic place, $5, and 50 cents for each offence thereafter.

Seeing a lady home from church, 25 cents for each offence. Seeing a lady home from the dime society, 5 cents—the proceeds to be appropriated to the relief of disabled army chaplains.

From a lady who paints, 50 cents. For wearing low-necked dresses, $1. For each curl in a lady's head above ten, 5 cents. For every unfair device for entrapping young men into the sin of matrimony, $5. For wearing hoops larger than ten feet in circumference, 8 cents for each hoop.

Old bach's over thirty are taxed $10. Over forty $20. Over fifty $50, and sentenced to banishment to Utah.

WHAT IS HIS OPINION NOW?—In the United States Senate, on the 7th day of August, 1859, Mr. Wm. H. Seward, the present Secretary of State, delivered a speech in which he asked the following questions:—

"Where on earth is there a free Government where the press is shackled and speech is strangled? When the Republic of France was subverted by the first Consul, what else did he do but shackle the press and stifle speech? When the second Napoleon restored the Empire on the ruins of the Republic of France, what else did he do than shackle the press and strangle debate? When Santa Anna seized the Government of Mexico, and converted it into a dictatorship, what had he to do but shackle the press and stifle political debate?

VERMONT POLITICS.—The call for a Democratic State Convention, at Montpelier, on the 28th day of June next, is addressed to "all citizens who see in the restoration of the control of the General Government to the Democratic party the only hope of a restoration of the Union, of peace, and of liberty and law in this country."

☞ A correspondent of the Boston Transcript, an abolition print of the deepest dye, says, with truth approaching to treason:

"Only those who have been brought into personal contact with the agents of the government, know the utterly corrupt and mercenary motives which control their action. I have little doubt that the government is being swindled as few governments ever were before."

☞ Thurlow Weed says: "I was read out of the Republican party, and driven out of the Evening Journal, for urging that this war should be prosecuted to overcome a wicked rebellion, to reestablish the authority of the Government, and restore the Union. This alone was the ground of "irreconcilable difference with my party. That was the length and breadth of my offending." Every man who labors to restore the Union is sure to come out or get driven out of the Republican party. Such a man cannot remain in, or act with a party whose chief end and aim is to destroy the old Union and establish a new and entirely different one, "with all the modern improvements."
