

Anti-Slavery Journalists are criticising what is deservedly a noble defence of Winchester by General Milroy. Next to the surrender of Harper's Ferry and Holly Springs it was the most disgraceful minor reverse of the war. It has not a redeeming feature. Milroy's record is very bad one, and his being in command of so important a position is discreditable to the administration. Like most feeble men, he has been violent and tyrannical. His cruel severity to the unfortunate confederate soldiers in his department led to the prompt halting of a number of poor Union soldiers by the Richmond authorities, and the administration was compelled to interfere and put a stop to his bloodthirsty proceedings. He is an abolitionist of the most violent type, and our readers will remember a letter he wrote not long since, threatening to set his soldiers upon the track of those received at the battle of Chancellorsville. His funeral services will be held at the Universalist Church in Brook-o'clock, Montrose, at half past one Porter.

Soldier's Funeral.—C. C. Wilmarth, of Co. F, 141st P. V. died June 9th from injuries received at the battle of Chancellorsville. His funeral services will be held at the Universalist Church in Brook-o'clock, Montrose, at half past one Porter.

The above named are now taking orders for trees, &c., to be delivered October next. Those wishing to make a collection of trees and shrubs, or add to their present stock, will find this a good opportunity. They may be found at Tuck's Hotel, in Montrose, on Saturday of each week.

Soldier's Funeral.—Funeral services of 1st Lieut. L. O. Tyler, Co. H, 141st Reg. P. V. killed at the battle of Chancellorsville, will be held at the Universalist Church, in Montrose, on Sunday, the 5th of July at one o'clock. P. M.
