

News from Charleston.

By way of Fortress Monroe we have dispatches from Charleston to rebel papers, stating that on Thursday Cummings Point was severely bombarded by the Ironsides and two of the monitors. The bombardment lasted from half past 10 till 3 o'clock. The rebel batteries Gregg, Simpkins, Wagner, and Sumpter responded. There was no firing on James Island, and very little from Fort Wagner. Beauregard had visited the James Island works on Friday.

The steam transport Belvidere, from Port Royal on the 29th of July, arrived at New York on Saturday. Her news, which is important, shows the steady progress of our troops in their efforts to capture or reduce the cradle of the rebellion. A large number of batteries had been erected by General Gilmore within 250 yards of Fort Wagner. Three heavy guns have also been mounted within one mile and a quarter of Fort Sumter, and were to open fire shortly after the Belvidere sailed.

Gen. Gilmore was confident that when he mounted all his heavy siege guns he would soon reduce Sumter.

No engagement of any account has taken place since the assault of the 19th of July upon Fort Wagner. Our losses since that time have not averaged more than four per day. Gen. Gilmore has now fourteen Parrott guns and mortars in position on Morris Island.

For the present the prospect of taking Fort Wagner seems slight, shells causing but slight impression upon the sand of which that work is composed; the breach made by one shell was soon filled up by the explosion of another. Gen. Gilmore is confident that with his heavy siege guns he can breach Fort Sumter.

The Tenth Connecticut Regiment occupies the rifle-pits within 250 yards of Fort Wagner.

The Belvidere has on board the 174th Pennsylvania regiment, numbering 477 non-commissioned officers and privates, whose term of service has expired.

Indian Expedition.

Chicago, July 30.—Special despatches from St. Paul give the report, from Captain Fiske's Expedition state that positive information has been received of the complete discomfiture of Little Crow and the desertion of all his followers but sixty, and his flight to the Yellow Stone beyond the Missouri. The other chiefs are awaiting the opportunity to surrender themselves and their followers.

At Spencer, N. Y.—The draft excitement is still of long discussions and personal encounters. At Spencer the other day a fight was provoked by the exultations of certain persons who were not drafted over those who were. The parties were Leonard Nichols (conscript), and Sylvanus Shepard and Elder Marshal (baptist minister), not conscripts. The fight commenced between Nichols and Shepard, when the Elder coming to the rescue of his friend Shepard, both were badly whipped by Nichols.—Quebec Gazette.

Moss in Maine.—The Lewiston Journal states that a spirit in opposition to the draft has exhibited itself in various parts of Maine. In Kingfield and Freeman, mobs collected and destroyed the rolls of the enrolling officers and threatened vengeance on parties concerned in executing the law. The mob seemed to have the idea that if they are not notified their habeas corpus.

Lies' Cattle Train.—A gentleman from Williamsport reached Wheeling last night, who states that he saw the drove of cattle, horses, hogs, &c., taken by him while in Pennsylvania, and that it was from two to three miles long. He says it would be a difficult matter to form an estimate of how much cattle was captured by the rebels during their raid.

DEATHS.

In Vestal, Broome Co., N. Y.—July 18, 1863.—Diphtheria. Harriet M. wife of Orin E. Green, aged 20 years, 10 months and 15 days.

Ten short weeks before, the marriage vow was spoken, and they were one. Youth and health gave promise of life and happiness; but alas! bright hopes, fair prospects; all have passed. Now, instead of bridal wreaths, and loving words, the pall, the coffin, and the new-made grave, with sad hearts tell the mournful story. To friends around lie dying bed, her words were: "Born nor ever for me I am happy; I am ready to go." Her trust was in Christ.

A few short years of evil past, will reach the happy shore;

Where death-divided friends at last Shall meet to part no more."

In New Milford, July 12, of diphtheria Henry L. son of Lemuel M. and Mary Green, aged 13 years, 3 mo. and 4 days. Henry no more will join our number. He has passed from earth away.

In the church yard now lies lying.

Mingling with his kindred clay.

But the grave, it hath no power.

It hath gone to God who giveth.

Now in Heaven we trust to share.

He has lost brother and sister.

Who but one short year before,

Lent us here in deepest sorrow.

For that bright and happy shore.

In Brooklyn, July 22, of scrofula fever, Jessie Anex, daughter of Lyman B. and Malina Tiffany, aged 2 years, 3 mo. and 11 days.

Also died in her womb, and will be buried in Cheyenne cemetery.
