Thursday, Dec. 31st, 1863

We recently stated that letters to Congressmen must be prepaid—such was the decision of the Montrose Postmaster. This is disputed by some of our exchanges, and intelligence from Washington satisfies. us that such letters ought legally to be sent free; but as there is a dispute about the meaning of the law, it is better for all interested to pay postage than have their letters refused transmission.

The integrity of John P. Hale, an United States Senator from New Hampshire, has been seriously questioned of late. He has been detected in taking bribes of some thousands of dollars for privately getting government treasury thieves let out of prison. He claims to have done only what he thought was right with the advice of Reverdy Johnson of Maryland, who is a regular practitioner in this new business. Heretofore, Hale, by modest pretensions to purity, and by denouncing removed from the command. the robbers who now besiege the treasury and honey the President, as more daninduced many to think he was an instance undergone. of an honest man being an abolition officeholder, but his fellows have smoked him out. It is certainly marp practice for one prison and allow them no hearing; but when they give another officer several thousand dollars, quietly let them go. It honest men, and a nice plan to compel the in that noble body of American soldiers. thieving contractors to divide with rivals; but it is disgraceful to free governments. A committee has been raised to investifavor a dissolution of the Union.

We take the liberty of publishing the following postcript to a private letter addressed to us by a young man from this county who is now attending Eastman's the justice of a nation's gratitude. Business College, at Poughkeepsie, N.Y.:

Gen. Butler has succeeded in effecting an exchange of five hundred prisoners, but the Confederates have notified the Federal authorities, that they will exchange no more prisoners until the questions about negro troops are settled satisfactorily to them. They also notify the authorities that in consequence of Jefferson Davis' proclamation of outlawry against Butler they cannot consent to receive any more flags of truce from him, or hold any further intercourse with him.

The Administration's organ in Washington acknowledges the existence do their leaders now deserve for making of an abolition organization, of a secret, political nature, which has its head-quartess as Washington. General MoUlellan's Report. General McClellan's report was tran-smitted to the House to-day. It consists of seven hundred and sixty-five foolscap pages, and is divided into four parts-

He concludes as follows:--I shall not, nor can I while living, forget that when I was ordered to the command of the troops for the defense of the Capital, the soldiers with whom I had and suffering of the war had not lost their confidence in me as their commander. They sprang to my call with all the ancient vigor, discipline and courage. Hed them into Maryland. Fifteen days after they had fallen back defeated before Washington they vanquished the enemy on the rugged heights of South Mountain, pursued him to the hard-fought field of Antictam, and drove him broken and dispirited down the Potomac into Virgin-

The army had need of rest after the terrible experience of brttles and marches, with scarcely an interval of repose, which they had gone through from the time of their leaving for the peninsula; the return to Washington, the defeat in Virginia, the victory at South Mountain, and again at Antietam, it was not surprising that they were in a large degree destitute of the absolute necessaries to effective

Their shoes were worn out; their blank-ets were lost, and their clothing was in rags. In short, the men were unfit for active service, and an interval for rest and equipment was necessary. When the slowly forwarded supplies came to us. I led the army across the river, renovated, refreshed, and in good order and discip-line, and followed the retreating foe to a position where I was confident of decisive victory; when, in the midst of the movement, while my advanced guard was actually in contact with the enemy, I was

I have not accomplished my purpose if, by this report, the Army of the Potomac is not placed high on the roll of the historic armies of the world. Its deeds officer of "the government" to kidnan annually the nation to which it belongs,—innocent or guilty—thrust them in allow them no hearing; but steadfast and trustworthy. I never called on it in vain; nor will the nation ever have cause to attribute its want of success thousand dollars, quietly let them go. It under myself or under other commands, is new way of levying black-mail upon to any failure of patriotism or bravery

No man can justly charge upon any portion of that army, from the Command-ing General to the private, any lack of fill the ranks of the army. Mr. Ancoua of devotion to the service of the United Pennsylvania, offered a resolution that gate (or whitewash) the affair, but Halo's States Government, and to the cause of "loyalty" will save him—he once voted to the Constitution and the Union. They have proved their fealty in much sorrow, suffering and danger, and through the Aery shadow of death. Their comrades dead on all the fields where we fought. have scarcely more claim to the honor of a nation's reverence, than the survivors to it was adopted.

The report covers the period from 26th of July, 1861, to November 7th, 1862.

Thirty-Righth Congress—First Session.

Dac. 22—In the Senate, bills were introduced for the codification of the Federal statutes, and for the assumption, by eral statutes, and for the assumption, by the codification of the Federal statutes, and for the assumption, by the code of the codification of the federal statutes, and for the assumption, by the code of the c eral statutes, and for the assumption, by government, of the war debt of Kansas, and it was agreed to appoint a selecticommittee of nine on the Pacific railroad.

Mr. Wilson introduced a bill making it illegal for any member of Congress to do what Senator Hale did.

The House resolution for bounty and advance pay was taken up, and was dis-cussed at length, developing much diver-sity of opinion. The resolution amended so as to stop additional bounties on January 5th, was unanimously agreed to.

The enrollment bill was discussed. The Senate refused to exempt married men: and by a vote of nine to thirty-three refased to exempt clergymen. It was agreed to adjourn over until anuary 5th. Mr. Trumbull moved a resolution calling for the names of all generals now out of commands, and for the names of all generals commanding departments in the Northern States. Its tone is rather against the administration. In the House, the bill to pay the Missouri Home Guards was then taken up. It appropriates seven hundred thousand dollars, and was passed.

The military appropriation bill was considered, and passed. It appropriates about six hundred millions.

Mr. Johnson, of Pennsylvania, moved a resolution that it was the duty of the government either to acquiesce in the decision of our Supreme Court against the Conscription act, or bring the case at once before the Supreme Court of the United States for revision. It was tabled, year 80, nays 43: 1

The House concurred in the Senate's amendment appropriating twenty millions for pay, bounties and premiums.

Dec. 23.-In the Senate, Mr. Wade introduced a bill punishing with fine and imprisonment any member of Congress who does what Senator Hale did. Mr. of the Federal statutes. It was adopted. Mr. Trumbull's resolution about idle generals was also adopted. In the House, a select committee of 9 was appointed on a National Bankrupt law. Mr. Spaulding, of Ohio, is chair-

Gen. McClellan's report was sent to the House by the Secretary of War, and a resolution by Mr. Cox to print ten thousand extra copies was referred to the Printing Committee.

Fernando Wood said the present draft was full of defects, and something should the Conscription act was oppressive, unjust and unconstitutional, and that the Military Committee be instructed to report a bill for the repeal of the act, and the substitution of a constitutional one by which the army may be filled. Mr. Stevens, to stop debate, moved to adjourn, and Both Houses adjourned until Monday, January 5th, 1864.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofand's German Blitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city because I was prejudiced against them for many serv, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I amindebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper test, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great-and-long continued debility. The use of 3 bottles of these bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for 8 months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS! And the Friends of Soldiers.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND's German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to campaiffe. In the lists, published almost daily in the news papers, or arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large portion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the diseasive organs are specific removed. We have no German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no healtstion in saying that if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost. We call attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

authenticated care of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

Mestre, Jones & Brans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofmad's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my conrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were cognizant of all the circumstances of my.case. I am, and have lieen, for the lust, four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attended in Nov last, with inflammation of the lungs, and was for 72 days in the hospitait. This was followed by great debility, helightened by an attack of dysontery. I was then removed from the White Honse, and sent to this city on board the Steamer State of Maine." where I landed on the 23th of June. Since that time-I have been about as low as any one could be and still train a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was acareely able to swallow anything, and if I num force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I couldnot even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstancer; and, accordingly, the physicians who, had been, working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to receive the from the grarp of the dread archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me andadrised met as each circumstancer; and accordingly, though unsuccessfully, to receive the from the grarp of the dread archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me andadrised met as each circumstancer; and accordingly, the physicians who had been, working faithfully though unsuccessfully, to receive the from the grarp of the dread archer, frankly told me they could do no make such disposition ofmy limited funds as cet suited me. An acquaintance who virited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinborn, of the help where he had been working faither them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and
