Gen. Jas. M. Ashley of Ohio, is a member of Congress who is very apt to say what he thinks. He is an uncompromising Republican, but this does not prevent him from baving a most contemptuous opinion of Mr. Lincoln, and his demagogical trick for getting voters for his own reclection, by the farce of holding elec-tions in rebel states, where we have only a most precarious footing for our armies, and where, the instant that they are withdrawn, the whole community are a unit in expressing their attachment to the rebel cause. Recently, in a speech delivered in Congress, Gen. Ashley made the following statement with reference to the late elections in Louisiana. He said:

"The farce of an election was gone thro' with, and of course the men representing an organization whose loyalty was never questioned, were defeated. It could not well have been otherwise. A military commander who announces that 'martial law is the fundamental law of the State. and that all must vote, would not find it difficult to elect any one he may designate, especially when the aggregate vote didn't exceed ten or twelve thousand, with three candidates in the field. Hahn's whole rote in the State, as claimed by his friends, is only 6,171—less than one fourth of my congressional district.

"There are fifty-four parishes in the State, only twelve of which are under our control. Of the number who voted for Hahn, I have been credibly informed that over 1,000 were employed in the quartermaster's department; about 550 are the policemen in the City of New Orleans; city laborers 1,100, and other city officers 100; some 1,600 were soldiers, claiming to be citizens of Louisiana. The acting mayor of New Orleans was removed by Gen. Banks, and one appointed who co'd and would control the votes and influence of the 550 policemen, city laborers and city officers. With all the military power of the department to support. Halm, with the votes of all the Government employees, the Louisiana soldiers and policemen his entire vote in the twelve parishes was but 6,171, and yet this insignificant vote is paraded before the country, and unblush ingly called the voice of the entire State of Louisiana, which in 1860, gave a vote of over 50,000. Habin had hardly as many votes in the entire State as Mrs. General the macine of hardly or receive work, and will be stand to the rest to be found in work and will warman all introduced to the rest to be found in cool and work and will warman all introduced to the rest to be found in cool and work and will be stand to the rest to be found in cool and work and work and will be stand to the rest to be found in cool and work and work and will be stand to the rest to be found in cool and work and wor but 6,171, and yet this insignificant vote city of New Orleans a day or two after. this election."

The Beginning of the End

Somebody has got up the tollowing list of "fixed facts" in agriculture, and for once in a consendation of the sort, has hit. Government is rapidly on the water and sorts have been sort to the most of them. once in a consendation of the sort, has hit the nail on the head in most of them:

1. All lands on which clover or the grasses are grown, must either have lime in them naturally, or that mineral must be artificially supplied in the form of lime, stone, cyster shells, or marl.

2. All permanent improvement of land must look to lime assits basis.

3. Lands which have been long in oulture will be benefitted by the application of phosphate of lime, and it is important whether the deficiency be supplied in the form of bone-dust, guano, native phosphate of lime, or marl, the land needs lime also.

4. No land can be preserved in a high 4. No land can be preserved in a high rebels, and similar movements are state of fertility unless clover and the announced in some localities in the East-grasses are cultivated in the course of rotataion.

When we reflect therefore, upon the number and condition of Grant's army, 5. Mould is indispensible in every soil, the steady reinforcements he is receiving, and a healthy supply can only be preserve and the certainty of the Administration's ed through the cultivation of clover and hearty co-operation, there can be no mis-Pittsburg Post, are sure to win, especially 6. 9. All wet lands should be drained,
10. All grain crops, should be harvested before the grain is thoroughly ripe.
11. Clover, as well as the grasses, intended for hay, should be mowed when in blossom.

12. Sandy loams can be most effectually improved by clay. When such lands require liming or marling, the lime or marlis most beneficially applied when made into compost with clay. In slacking lime, salt water is better than fresh.

13. The chopping or grinding of grain 13. The chopping or grinding of grain in the present emergency. It will be remembered that the States have elected delegations packed with the parasites of the present dynasty, so that all other aspirants are ruled out at the beginning; and all that was considered necessary not only to insure Mr. Lincoln's nomination, but his enthusiastic endorsement, was decided military success by Gen. Grant.

The time had arrived for victories; the programme: the tapture of the rebellion, and that was not the purpose of the Administration. Prolong the war was the idea of the contractors, and it has been prolonged until the Administration's necessities demand military successes. Now, upon the eve of the Abolition National Convention, we find the Administration giving General Grant a carte blanche, backed by such an army as puzzles one's brains to compute and comprehend. Thus the nation's patience and resources have been exhausted; hundreds of gallant fellows have given up the ghost, and a like number of wid-ows and orphans mourn their losses, and all because of the schemes of Abolitionism to retain power in the Government.-Harrisburg Patriot & Union, 23d.
