

The Tribune learns that Colonel Fish, the former provost-marshal at Baltimore, has not been released from the Albany Penitentiary by President Lincoln, as was reported. The same paper adds: We are glad that this is so, for Fish's testimony means, anything, for Fish is one of the most unprincipled scoundrels in the country. He collected false bills of the treasury, received black mail and bribes, stole private property, passing officially through his hands, stole government horses and sold them, habitually frequented disreputable houses dressed in his uniform, and made his name and office a by-word and reproach. The Tribune does not tell all the story. This vagabond was one of the most blatant loyal-leaguers in the country. He was a loudmouthed patriot, and manifested an intense dislike of the World. He tried to injure our circulation, and at one time issued an order forbidding the Baltimore papers from copying articles from our columns—this, too, at a time when he was sending abroad confederate bonds for sale. From this and hundreds of other pretty safe to set down every fellow who bawls himself hoarse in denouncing Democracy, as disloyal as an unmitigated scoundrel.

Lincoln's Supporters. Wm. Lloyd Garrison, in a speech in 1856, said: "The Union is a lie. The American Constitution is an imposture and a covenant with death, an agreement with hell—I am for its overthrow." This same Garrison is an ardent supporter of Lincoln's re-nomination and re-election. "Show me the company you keep and I'll tell you what you are," is a Spanish proverb peculiarly applicable to this case. Another of old Abe's supporters is Fred Douglas, a negro voter, who, in a speech over the hanging of that old murderer, John Brown, said: "From this time forth I consecrate the labors of my life to the dissolution of the Union, and I don't care whether the bolt that rends it comes from heaven or from hell." And yet these creatures have the audacity to call themselves "Union men."

Never a Good War—Never a Bad Peace. The following is the letter written by the illustrious Dr. Franklin, alluded to by Mr. Long in his speech in Congress. It was written to Sir Joseph Banks in 1783, after the termination of the Revolution: "DEAR SIR—I join with you most cordially in rejoicing at the return of peace—I hope it will be lengthy, as they call themselves reasonable creatures, have reason and sense enough to settle their differences without cutting throats, for in my opinion there never was a good war or a bad peace. What vast additions to the conveniences and comforts of the living mankind have acquired, if the money spent in wars had been employed in works of public utility! What an extension of agriculture, even to the tops of our mountains; what rivers rendered navigable or joined by canals; what bridges, aqueducts, new roads, and other public works; edifices and improvements, rendering England a complete paradise, might have been obtained by spending those millions in doing good, which in the last war have been in doing mischief, in bringing misery into thousands of families, and destroying the lives of so many thousands of working people who might have performed this useful labor."

Some Copperhead has started such "disloyal" questions as the following: After a war of 64 years duration, Russia with a population of 75,000,000, has at last subjugated Circassia, with a population of 400,000. If it takes 75,000,000 Russians 64 years to subjugate 400,000 Circassians, how long will it take 20,000,000 Americans to subjugate 8,000,000 Americans?

ABEL TURRELL. Goods! New-forged for sale one of the largest and best selections of Goods in Susquehanna County, and probably comprising the greatest variety of most different articles of any Store in the Northern part of Pennsylvania, and perhaps of the entire State. All accommodations kept in about thirty different branches of trade, and the selections are made from about fifty of the best Houses in New York, and more than thirty Dealers and Manufacturers out of New York. A large proportion of the Goods are brought direct from the manufacturers, thus insuring genuine articles. Customers on entering the Store do not expect to find everything in sight, but nearly every article wanted will be procured by inquiry. Some idea of the stock may be gathered by the following general outline, but enumeration is impracticable.

Drugs and Medicines, Paints and Oils, Dye Stuffs, Groceries, Crockery, Glass Ware, Wall and Window Paper, Jewellery, Silver Ware, Perfumery, Fancy Goods, Musical Instruments, Brushes, American Pocket Knives, Table Cutlery and Silver Plated Ware, Lamps, Materials for Lights, Hardware, Bed Cord, Stone Ware, Dry Goods, Mirrors, Window Glass, Lithographs, Vegetables, Bird Cages, Spectacles, Whips, and Lashes, Brooms, Guns, Pistols, Ammunition, Tobacco, Medical and Surgical Instruments, Salt, Soap, Potash, Umbrellas, Porcelain Teas, &c. nearly everything to restore the sick, to please the taste, to delight the eye, to gratify the fancy, and also to conduce to the real and substantial comforts of life.
