the Bouth Hopes for Liscoln's Re-election.

[From the Richmond Inquirer, Sept. 5.]
The Democratic motininees in the Uniced Staves are McChellan for President; and Pendleton for Vice President. What emeent have the people of these Confedence States in the people of these candidates at the approaching election? In our opinion, the interest and hope of peace is nor greatly advanced by these nominations. From General McClellan our peo-ph oin have but little hope of peace, oth-er than a reconstruction peace. What hope do his antecedents hold out that should encourage our people to believe that be would yield our nationality any sooner than Mr. Lancoln and it is by far the more dangerous man for us; had his policy been persistently followed, and the war conducted on the principles of civilized war-fare, he might have divided our people, and perhaps conquered our liberties. With con-summate abilities he clearly foresaw that emancipation might possibly free the negroes, but could not unite the sections; that confiscation might enrich his soldiers, but could not reconcile our people hence, with an earnest and honest love for the Union, he avoided those fatal acts and conducted the war for the restoration of the Union, rather than the destruction of the South. His policy was the olive branch in one band and the sword in the other, to conquer by power and conciliate by kindness. It was a most dangerous policy for us; for if the ameliorating hands of federal kindness had softened the rigors of war, our people would not have been subjected to those terrible fires of suffering by which Mr. Lincoln has hardened every heart and steeled every sentiment against our merciless foes. As a sincere secessionist, preferring war and nationality to peace and the Union, we looked upon the fact of a difference between Mr. Lincoln and Gen. McClellan as to the proper policy of conducting the war, as peculiarly fortunate for our cause. We hailed the proclamation of estancipation and confiscation, and the policy of plunder and devastation as sure pleages of our ultimate triumph; they were terrible ordeals, but they most effectualty eradicated every sentiment of Union, and arousing the pride as well as the interest of our people, inflamed the patriotism of the whole, until they would have accepted death as preferable to ultimate defeat.

Now, between McClellan and Lincoln there are many points of difference—the former is a man of talents, of information, of firmness and great military experience of humness and great military experience and ability—the latter is a supple, pliant, easy fool, a good but vulgar joker.—While McClellan has the interest of the Union only at heart, Mr. Lincoln has the fanatical object of freeing negroes for his inspiration. Between "my plant" as Gen. Grant has conducted it, and one by Gen. McClellan, there could not have been the same success that has already attended our arms, for we lost more men fighting the science of McClellan on the Peninsula than we have in repelling the furious but ill-conducted assaults of Gen. Grant.

Thus, whether we look of this nomination in the light of peace or of war, we prefer Lincoln to McClellan. We can make better terms of peace with an anti-slavery fanatic than with an earnest Unionist. We can gain more military success in a war con-ducted on "my plan" than one of a real soldier like McClellan, and sooner destroy the resources and strength of our enemy where they are managed and manipulated by the light-fingered gentry of Messrs. Chase and Fessenden, than when husbanded and skillfully controlled by such a man as Guthrie. Our best hope is from the honest fanatics of the United States, men who believe in their hearts that slavery is the "sum of all villanies," and who really and sincerely believe it to be their duty to separate their country from this "relic of barbarism." Such men, when they find that their people are tired of the war, will end it by a peace that sacrifices territory to free-dom, and will let the South "go," provided she carries slavery with her. These men believe no less that the just powers of government are derived from the consent of the governed, than "that all men are created free and equal." The two postulates are of like importance to an abolitionist.

Both the abolitionist and the Democrat is our enemy-the one, because we have slaves, the other because we are disunionists. Nor does their enmity differ in degree; they both hate us most intensely. The Chicago platform is, that "peace may be restored on the basis of the federal Union of the states"-that is, reconstruction of the Union as it was, with slavery protected by the nominal laws, but warred upon by a real sentiment, ag-gravated and embittered by the war. The reconstructed Union of the Chicago platform would be the certain destruction, first, of slavery, and next of slaveholders. With Lincoln and the Baltimore platform we of the confederate states know where we are—outside of the pale of mercy, de-voted to ruin and destruction, with no hope save in the justice and protection of God, and the courage and manfiness of our soldiers. With swords and muskets and cannon we fight Lincoln, and the past affords no reason of apprehension of the future. But in the reconstructed Union of the Chicago platform we would be deprived of our weapons without being reconciled to our foes.

There is no question that between th two men General McClellan enjoys far more of the respect of the people of these states than Lincoln, and the Democratic party far more of our confidence than the party far more of our confidence than the Republican, and that if reconstruction were possible it would be more probable under Gen, McClellan and the Democracy than under Lincoln und the Republicans. The North west inspires one; and New England the other; but is long as New England imwest inspires one; and New England the other; but is long as New England imposes the dogmas of her civilization, and the lengts of her lanaticism upon the mind and propis of the morthwest, there may be peace and separation, but there

Tankers and separation and the colors with directions how mind and propis of the morthwest, there may be peace and separation, but there never can be Union and harmony. Northwest desires the restoration of the Union, let its people shake off the bondage of New Fargund, and show to the world that a new era of toleration and fratonalkindness has arisen in the place of fap atical Puritanism and selfish ostracism.

Manufacture of Woolen Goods.

CHAPTER 8. In answer to numerous inquiries as to when we could make up wool into cloth if brought hereafter, we have to say: There is all the wool taken in that can be done before next spring. As most persons want their goods for the coming winter, we thought best to notify them of this fact to prevent disappointment.

In the meantime we shall do this season's work as satisfactorily as possible, and make additions to our machinery and fixtures, so as to be able to do all that is offered another year. We shall as usual full, color, and mish cloth for customers during the fall.

HAWLEY'S SOLIDIFIED Dental Cream, POB CLEARSING, WHITENING & PRESERVING THE TEETH.

Tills article is prepared with the greatest care upon scientific placeples, and warranted not to coutain anything in the dilghtest degree deleterious to the Teeth or Gamas. Some of our most caminent Pearlis Surgeons have given their sanction to, and cheerfully recommend is as preparation of superior qualities for cleansing, whitening and preserving the Teeth. It cleans them readily, rendering them beautifully white and pearly, without the slightest injury to the enamel. It is healing to the gams where they are ulcerated and sore. It is also an excellent disinfector for old and decayed teeth, which are often exceedingly oftensive. It gives a rich sud creamy taste to the mouth, cleansing it thoroughly, and imparting a delightful fragrance to the breath.
