FOR THE DEMOCRAT. "Come Unto Me."

The wondrous spell of God's glorious presence rested upon the place. The music swelling over and around us, seemed almost angel tones; the soft pure light irradiating the room to emanate from the glory of his countenance. From the lips of his messenger, to whom twas given to break the bread of life to all of us that were an hungered, fell in low, reverent tones. "Come unto us all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you Down into the depths of our soul like oil they fell, calming the troubled waters there, and to our heavy weary eyelids, came refreshing, long repressed tears, watering the arid sands in our heart, and washing away the sinful, half insane rebellion against unalterable destiny, that like some dark, ill venomed spirit, had preyed upon a feverish distorted face, till we had turned shuddering away from the phantom like picture of coming gloom and sorrow, that a morbid imagination ran through the mysterious, mystic veil of the future. "Come unto me." The dear tones of our blessed Saviour seemed repeating them over and over to us, not with stern command, but O so tenderly, and with such pitying, yearning love, till at last with a sudden, wild impulse, our heart broke away from its bonds of selfishness and pride, and bitterness, and with a passionate, pleading cry for forgiveness, bowed herself down at his feet, and there rolled all its burdens off. "" And I will give you rest." How very, very near seemed heaven to us then. Earth's clouds, and cold grey shadows, that had with which he may be favored. Office at L. M. Baldwin's. so lately lowered darkly-round us, melted away into new clear sunlight of hope, and faith, and the complaining cry "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me," that our spirit in its deep sadness had before uttered, changed to the grand beautiful anthem. "The Lord is my light and my salvation." The way that had appeared toilsome, and dreary, and desolate, now to our altered vision grew smooth, and easy to tread; roses showered along the path, whose dewy fragrance breathed of heavenly odors, sweet trilled and warbled their joyous notes, that seemed a prelude to the songs of praise; angel choirs are ever chanting their thrilling melody echoing through the wast corridors of God's eternal church, and lingering even along heaven's vestibule-" the narrow way"till they fall faintly, sweetly upon the ear of the geary traveler, inspiring his heart with new fervor and zeal, giving to his faltering feet fresh vigor and strength to push on in the upward way, till he reach the celestial gate, the "straight gate," of which our Saviour said, 'to him that knocketh it shall be opened.' #### Beautiful Lines.

[The following lines were written by Tyrone Power, the famous Irish comedi an, who perished on the steamer Presi dent. They were inscribed on the wall of the "Old Blandford Church," near Petersburg, Virginia:]

Thou art crumbling to the dust, old pile! Thou art hastening to thy fall; And around thee, in thy loneliness, Clings the ivy to the wall. re continted Who knelt before thy shrine; And silence reigns where anthems rose, In days of "Auld Lang Syne."

And sadly sighs the wandering wind, Where oft in years gone by, Prayers rose from many hearts to Him, The Highest of the High. The tramp of many a busy foot

That sought thy aisles is o'er. And many a throbbing heart around, Is still for evermore.

How doth ambition's hope take wing! How droops the spirit now! We hear the distant city's din,

The dead are mute below; The sun that shone upon their paths Now gilds their lonely graves, The zephyrs that once fann'd their brows The grass above them waves.

Oh! could we call the many back Who've gathered here in vain, Who've careless roved, where we do now, Who'll never meet again: How would our very hearts be stirred

To meet the earliest gaze Of the levely and the beautiful, The lights of other days!

They seldom break or bend, like the single spring and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any single spring and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any single spring and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any single spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful fiexibility, great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, Operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the akirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as casily and convenience of wearing the duplex Elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, misses and young ladies thiy are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all single steel hoop skirts. The three bottom rods on every skirt are also double stell, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when drawing down stairs, stone steps, etc., ct., which they are constantly subject to hen in use.

It does not contain mercury, and hence an absence of the difficulties that in such a variety of ways occars, or are liable to occur with the agent.

Its Qualities and Advantages.

This filling is designed for making perfect and durable plugs, as a substitute for gold where economy is an ob-ject; and for inferior material where the Teeth can be aved, and not for temporarily stopping those which are liseased and worthless. diseased and worthless.

Assuming then that it be skillfully used, the Plastic Metallic Filling posesses advantages above every other material but gold for filling Teeth, while it can be employed in many cases where gold cannot. It can be introduced with facility and accurately secured. It moids closely to the waits of the cavity without recession or shrinkage, forming a perfect plug, solid throughout, thus excluding air and moisture.

It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the Blood. Such a remedy, that could be relied on, has long been sought fer, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bettle will show be the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken. Two tablespeonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a plat of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bettle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarasparkle, or the desoction as usually made. The above Extracts are prepared on purely scientific principles—in Vacuo—and embody the full strength of the ingredients entering into their composition. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properlies with those set forth in the U. S. Dispensatory.
