Palpable Hit.

The Charlottsville (Va.) Chronicle thus good humoredly speaks of the straits to which the Southern States are driven by the radical disunionists:1

"It seems to us to be as hard to get in the Union as it is to get out. The South respectfully asks to move one way or the other. We are like the fellow that was forced to go to the show, and then not allowed to go any further than where he had paid for his ticket. We have been dragged into the doorway of the Federal tent, and are not allowed to see any of the performance, except to settle with the tax collectors. We can hear the animals growling inside, and the cracking of the ringmaster's whip, but we can't see the show, unless we pay for two, and take in a colored lady. And the worst of it is, they keep a great eagle perched over the entrance, which, if you attempt to go hole in your head. We justly think this is unreasonable; they ought either to let us pass in or refund our money and tie up the eagle.

A Pair of Patriots.

I will not stultify myself by supposing that we have any warrant in the Constirestoring the Union as it was, and under the Constitution as it is, is one of the absurdities that I have heard repeated until I have become sick of it. There are many things which make such an event imposssible. The Union never shall, with my consent, be restored under the Constitution as it is .- Thad. Stevens.

Let me say that the Constitution of the United States, as I understand it, exacts no passive obedience, and no man who is not wholly lost to self-respect, and ready to abandon the manhood which is shown in the heaven-directed countenance, will voluntarily aid in enforcing a 'judgment' which, in his conscience, he solemnly be history. Thus guided by wisdom and lieves to be against the fundamental law. prudence, he has brought us along until The whole dogma of passive obedience now the admission of loyal representamust be rejected—in whatever guise it may assume, and under whatever alias it may skulk-whether in the tyrannical usurpation of king, parliament, or judicial tribunal .- Charles Sumner.

-These are the worthics who assert that the Southern people have no right to be represented in Congress because they are not loyal.

Nicely Caught.

On Saturday last George V. Lawrence, Disunion member of the Rump from this State, attacked Mr. Clymer, saying that, two years ago Mr. Clymer denounced President Johnson as a "ruffian, an incendiary, a hireling, an Abolitionist," &c. and, after so saying, sent Mr. Clymer's prominently identified with the rebel speech to the Clerk's desk to be read. government or rebel army should be im-The congressional proceedings tell the rest of the story in this way :

"The speech was sent to the Clerk's desk and read, but it did not contain any of those expressions, an omission explained by Mr. Lawrence, who said that the objectionable parts had been suppressed by Mr. Clymer."

Evidently Lawrence had never read the speech himself, but had taken as true the lying statements of his party press upon citizens, and then promised them that the subject. Of course, when he found they should not be disturbed. the actual record would not bear out his statements, he had no other resource than to lie himself out of the scrape by charging mutilation of the record.

The speech in question has never been republished from the Legislative Record by Mr. Clymer or the Democratic press; consequently, if it has been mutilated it toration. Well Said.

The Hon. Samuel J. Randall, Repreedthe House on the report of the Recons'ruction Committee, and in the course of his remarks put an interrogatory to Mr. Stevens, Chairman of the Committee, which the latter failed to answer. The silence of the great Rump leader is significant, and pretty clearly establishes the fact that there is a snake of very large dimensions in the second section of the report. Mr. Randall thus unearthed the monster:

TAS permanently located at Friendsville for the purfact post of practicing medicine and suggery in all its branches. He may be found at the Jackson House. Office hours from 8 a. m., to 9 p. m. janiett Friendsville; Par., Jan. 15th, 1850. fact that there is a snake of very large di-

The second section, to my mind, is ambiguous, and is liable to a doubtful construction. What does this amendment mean? Does it mean that those males over twenty one years not allowed to vote shall not be counted in the basis of representation? If so, why not say so in back, swoops down upon you and picks a terms; but if it means, as it may, that the diminution of representation is to be in the proportion they bear to the voters, it may deny all or greatly abridge representation. Suppose, for instance, a State with one hundred thousand voters, and a similar number excluded, if proportions are considered this State would seem to have no representative. I desire that my colleague (Mr. Stevens,) the gentleman tution for this proceeding. This talk of having charge of this legislation, shall answer what they claim it to mean, so that the issue, when before the country, may be rightly understood.

> The concluding remarks of Mr. Randall comprehend the whole of President Johnson's policy in a few words, as fol-

The President, immediately upon his accession to the Presidency, took up the plan which Mr. Stanton informs us was the mode which Mr. Lincoln had marked out for himself; and he has steadily pursued it regardless of threats and clamor, exhibiting a moral courage of the equal of which we have but rare instances in tives in Congress from the late rebel States is all that is required to complete and make perfect our Union.

His plan is simple and effective, just and equitable; and acceptable, as I believe, to a vast majority of the people both North and South. What is this policy?

1. That the Southern States are in the Union. Their ordinances of secession being null and void, they have never been out, and are legally entitled to representation in Congress.

2. That whenever the people in any of hose States elect Union men, of whose loyalty there can be no question or doubt, it is the duty of Congress to admit them.

3. That all those claiming seats in Congress from the Southern States who were mediately rejected and their constituents requested to elect loyal Union men in their places.

The issue is now made up, and to the people we must appeal. It rests with them whether we shall at once permit the people in the eleven States to do as Genrals Grant and Sherman told the soldiers of their disbanding armies to do-go home, resume their occupations, be good

No real and hearty peace can for years me from the course House are pursuing. You are continuing to do with the loyal people of the South what the rebels did during the wat, per-secute and contemn them. All this is unjust, and is not the way to approach res-

Complaint is made, Mr. Speaker, of the support which the Democratic party, as a party, throughout the country is giving to the President in his plan of restoration. That should not surprise any one. The Dr. Cheever, one of the leading radical Democratic party, during the period of disunionists, lately delivered a discourse the war, have closely adhered to the Condoes not emanate from any seeking for office, or from any other sordid motive.
