Regulations.
The Grounds will be open on Wednesday at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the reception of stock and all articles for exhibition. It is very desirable that all animals and articles intended for exhibition, should be entered on the Secretary's book the first day of the Fair, or as early as 10 o'clock a. m. of the second.
Cards will be furnished at the Secretary's office on the ground to place upon all animals or articles for exhibition.
A sufficient police force will be upon the ground day and night to maintain order and protect the property of exhibitors.
The Judges are requested to meet at the Secretary's office at 11 o'clock, a. m., on Thursday, and receive their books before entering upon their duties.
The payment of one dollar for membership, entitles the person to exhibit in all the classes. Competition for premiums in the domestic and ornamental departments free for all.
No animal or article shall receive more than one premium, and the judges may withhold a premium when the article is not worthy though there be no competition.
Arrangements will be made for keeping stock over night.
The Annual Address will be delivered on Thursday at 2 o'clock, p. m., by S. P. Longstreet, Esq., of Wilkesbarre.
Music will be provided for the occasion.
Ample refreshments will be furnished on the ground.

Strange Coincidence.
Andrew Jackson was born in North Carolina, emigrated to Tennessee, and was elected President of the United States. During his administration the opposition were wonderfully exercised because he dared to remove men from office who opposed "the government."
Andrew Johnson was also born in North Carolina, emigrated to Tennessee, and is now President of the United States. The opposition are just now wonderfully exercised about his removing men from office who are opposed to "government." Philadelphia was the only city in the Union whose municipal authorities refused to extend hospitalities to General Jackson on his visit to the west, and Philadelphia is the only city whose municipal authorities refused to extend hospitalities to Andrew Johnson on his visit to the west.
But the people turned out en masse to welcome Andrew Jackson, and by a decided vote at the polls sternly rebuked the municipal authorities for their contemptible meanness. The people of Philadelphia also turned out en masse to welcome Andrew Johnson, and will administer a similar rebuke to the present municipal authorities at the ballot-box. Strange coincidences sometimes happen in this wicked world of ours!
