Solid Wisdom.

'Twas the hour of prayer, and the farmer stood,
With a thankful heart, and a lowly mind,
And prayed to the Author of every good,
That the Father of all would be very kind,
And bless His creatures with raiment and food;
That every want might find relief,
And plenty for hunger, joy for grief,
Be measured out by the merciful One,
To all who suffered beneath the sun.

The prayer concluded, the godly man
Went forth in peace to inspect his farm;
And by his side delighted ran,
Glowing with every healthful charm,
His little son, a sprightly boy,
Whose home was love, and whose life was joy,
And they rambled over the golden fields,
And the father said, "The harvest yields
A plentiful crop, my son, this year;
My barns are too small for the grain I fear."

And they wandered on through row and row
Of plumy sheaves, and at length the child,
With earnest look and rosy glow
On his shining cheek, looked up and smiled,
And said, "My father, do you not pray
For the poor and needy, day by day,
That God, the good, would the hungry feed?"
"I do, my son." "Well, I think, as you plead,"
His eye waxed bright, for his soul shone through it,
"That, if he had your wheat, God would do it."

—The cup of tea we drink, according to chemical analysis, contains volatile oil, clorophyl, wax, rosin, gum, tanin, theine, extractine, apotheine, albumen, sulpher, phosphorus, chloride of potassium, oxyde of iron, carbonate, sulphate and phosphate of lime, carbonate of magnesia, manganese, and silicia—twenty different articles. The peculiar flavor of a tea depends on the volatile oil, which is lighter than water, and has a lemon yellow color, and the smell of tea. Liebig is of the opinion that tea is not only an astringent and dilutent, but possesses nutritive properties of no mean kind. A great deal of profound chemistry is connected with the subject of theine, as it exists in tea, and, caffeine in coffee; both of the same property, or substance, contained in dissimilar vegetable productions—the leaves of one tree and the berries of the other. Tea and coffee act upon the nerves and upon the brain, and have a quickening and refreshing influence; but taken in excess, result in excitement prejudicial to sleep and rest. Green tea is considered more injurious to persons of a highly nervous temperament than the black.—Chemical News.

—A man newly married, being about to leave home, said to his wife: "Now, Julia, you may do anything you please while I am away, except ride Jowler the house dog." "Ride Jowler! what do you mean?" "Never mind, only I warn you not to ride Jowler." When her husband came Julia had a black eye, and an arm in a sling. "Why Julia, what's the matter!" "Well you told me not to ride Jowler, and I thought it would be very nice or you wouldn't have told me not to do it, so I got on his back and he threw me down stairs."

—"My dear boy, said a young lady to a precious youth of eighteen, "does your father design that you should tread the thorny and intricate path of a profession, the straight and narrow way of the ministry, or revel in the flowery field of literature?" "No, marm; dad says he's gwine to set me to work in the tater patch."

—A person who was recently called into court for the purpose of proving the correctness of a doctor's bill, was asked by the lawyer whether "the doctor did not make several visits after the patient was out of danger!" "No," replied the witness, "I considered the patient in danger as long as the doctor continued his visits."

—On Thursday evening last Mr. Wendell Phillips delivered a lecture in Boston on "The perils of the Hour." This eminent Radical spoke as usual with boldness and clearness, and clamored with great earnestness for the impeachment of the President. In the course of his remarks he took occasion to assail General Grant, and suggested the propriety of denouncing him as a "traitor" if he did not carry out the Radical programme.

FOUTZ'S

CELEBRATED

Horse and Cattle Powders.

For Sale in Montrose by Abel Turrell. Nov. 2, '65

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly reinvigorate broken-down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite, gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It increases the quantity and improves the quality of the milk. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

Price 25 Cents per Paper, or 5 Papers for $1.
