Fatal Accident.

Last Tuesday, one of our village lads, named Lafayette Millard, who was employed by the D. L. & W. Railroad, met with an accident which proved fatal, in stiempting to get on a coal train in the yard at this place, while it was in motion. In catching hold of the car his foot slipped, and he was thrown against the wheel. One of his legs became fastened between the wheel and brake, and the flesh was torn from it as far as the bone. He was dragged more than twenty rods, and his back was terribly lacerated. Drs. Bigelow and Wilmot at once cared for the sufferer, and for a time it was thought he would get the better of his terrible wounds, but he became delirious during the night following the accident, and sank rapidly. He lived in great agony for for-ty hours, dying not far from midnight of Wednesday. He was aged 16. He was a member of the Mothodist sabbath school, in this village. He was one of the most faithful and studious scholars, and by his good qualities gained the friendship of all who knew him .--

Short Hand.

As the age in which we live is fast approaching a very expeditious way of doing almost every kind of labor-every one ieels the need of a more rapid method of minunication ; a system of writing that will save at least three-fourths of the time required by the old. We would not. however, have it supercede entirely the use of long hand. " Standard, or American Phonography" meets the demand as well, or better, than any other system of short hand.

It is desirable that the phonographers, and friends of e incation generally, should come into communication with each other, for the parpose of adopting measures to advance this very useful branch of education.

It has been suggested that a Phonogrephic Missionary be appointed in every county in the U.S. Susquehanna ought not, and we trust will not be behind other counties in this important movement. The subscriber wishes to make a list of all the phonographers of the county, and also, of all those who wish to become such. For this purpose let each one send his or her name, with postoffice address plainly written. We hope they will suggest what course to them seems most proper to pursue, to advance the cause most rapidly. Those wishing a reply will please enclose a stamp for return postage.
