Economy in Coal.

As the wintry weather is with us once again, and fires are getting necessary to domestic comfort, a few hints condensed from a diffuse scientific article, will be found of interest. Some housekeepers, in the management of their fires, seem to suppose that an addition of fuel will insure increased combustion, and develop additional heat. Coal, and especially an thracite coal, should always be furnished with a sufficient amount of oxygen to keep the fire bright. It is only smothering and retarding the fire to put in a thick layer of coal, as some do, fill the fire box from a layer of two inches of ignited coal to its utmost capacity, with fresh fuel. No more coal should be put on a fire at one time than will readily ignite and give off a pure white blaze-not a blue flame which denotes also the presence of unconsumed gases—and the fire should be undisturbed on the top. Another point of contents o undisturbed on the top. Another point dicles. Public Aver of coal economy; in clearing the grate in A. B. Burms, the morning there is a quantity of unburned coal, which has been externally subjected to combustion. It is covered with ash, and looks like cinder. It is often dumped into the ash box. The fact is, that the lump is only roasted on the outside, not even cooked, and is in better condition for igniting than the green coal. Never waste it. Attention to these few hints will save many dollars in a winter.

-A private soldier, stationed at Ottawa, received fifty lashes for asserting that Canada would be annexed to the United States before two years.

-A negro named Reuben was arraigned in Gasgow, Ky., on last Saturday, on the charge of murder. He had cruelly murdered his own son, alad about twelve years of age, " because he could not pull corn fast enough."

-The Chicago Times, which caused such rejoicing in the Radical camp by its articles in favor of "impartial saffrage," halts at the first application of its own doctrine. It will not support the bill giving the elective franchise to the negroes of Washington.

-A visitor to the New Haven Almshouse finds there an old gentleman, formerly well off and respected, whose case is particularly noticeable from the fact that he has a daughter, a talented author, who has made a handsome fortune with her pen, and who charms her readers with tales and poems, and the eloquent, pathetic manner in which she pleads the cause of poverty, and defends the humble from "the proud man's contumely."

-A dutchman, of Decatur, Ill. married a second wife a meek after the death of wife No. 1. The sabbath following the bride asked her lord to take her riding, and was "cut up" with the following response: "You tink I ride out I spose mit anuder woman so soon after the death of mine frau? No, no."

-Cable news is beginning to become unreliable. A telegram was recently sent across the ocean announcing the death of the Empress Carlotta, but later dates indicate that the rumor was illfounded. It was also announced that James Stephens, the Fenian Chief, had been captured by the British authorities. This, too, turns out to be a canard.

-A wealthy farmer living near Crab Orchard, Ky., killed some hogs a few days since and presented his neighbors with a few choice pieces of ment. Next day all who had eaten were taken ill, and five have already died. None of the others give promise of recovery. The remainder of the drove were taken sick the day after the killing of the few choice ones, and are dying rapidly. The disease is surposed to be hog cholera.

-An English jury has decided that when a man who is smoking in a railroad car refuses to remove his eigar at the request of his fellow passengers, they have International Fire Insurance Co. of N. Y., the right to knock it out of his mouth, and Gland Fire and Marine Insurance Co. of the judge thought that the blowing of tobacco smoke in the face of a fellow passenger might be considered an assult.

And they have been furnished by special command to the Empress of France, Empress of Austria, Empress of Russia, Empress of Brazil, Queen of Spain, and Queen of Bararia.

The Grover & Baker Elastic Stitch Sewing Machines are superior to all others for the following reasons: 1. They sew direct from the spools, and require no rewinding of thread.

winding of thread.

2. They are more easily understood and used, and less liable to derangement than any other machines.

3. They are capable of executing perfectly, without change of adjustment, a much greater variety of work than other machines.

5. This stitch, owing to the manner in which the un-critread is inwrought, is much the most plump and contiful in we, and retains the ylumpness and beauty cen upon articles frequently washed, and ironed until they are worn out.

6. The structure of the scam is such that, though it be cut or broken at intervals of only a few stitches, it will neither open, run, or ravel, but remains firm and durable.

7. Unlike other machines, these fasten both ends of the seam by their own operation.

8. With these machines, while silk is used upon the right or face side of the seam, cotion may be used upon the other side without lessening the strength or durability of the seam. This can be done on no other machine, and is a great-aving upon all articles stitched or made up with silk.

9. These machines, in addition to their superior mer-ts as instruments for sewing, by a change of adjust-nent, easily learned and practiced, execute the most reagiful and permanent embroidery and ornamental
