Appointment.

E. N. Willard, Esq., has received the appointment of Register in Bankruptcy for this District.

Cancellation of Stamps.

Commissioner ROLLINS calls the attention of the public to the means whereby stamps can be legally canceled. He quotes the provision of the law, that the person using the stamps must write or print thereon in ink, his initials, and the date of the year, month and day, upon which the same is attached or used. Each stamp must also be separately canceled.

The Rake Swindle.

It is stated that there are about two hundred men engaged in the great hay-rake swindle, through which so many of our Eastern farmers have been victims.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

If every newspaper would expose the swindle it would soon come to grief.

Herrick Ahead.

Mr. Editor :—I saw a statement in an issue of your paper not long since, that Mr. Davis, of Auburn, has had a Ewe that dropped 2 Lambs weighing 17¾ lbs. with the inquiry, "Who can beat it?" I think I can. I have a Ewe that dropped 2 Lambs weighing 19¾ lbs.

Truly Yours, HENRY LYON.

Unfortunate Affair.

A Welshman named John Jenkins, while intoxicated, on Tuesday night of last week, stumbled into the house of Levi Phillips on Commercial Alley in Scranton. Mr. Phillips hearing the noise supposed all was not right, and arming himself with a pistol proceeded to the lower story of the house, where he found a man groping about in partial darkness. He supposed, as he certainly had a right to do, that the man was a thief or robber, or both, and accordingly leveled his pistol on him. The ball passed through the man's heart, killing him almost instantly. The evidence elicited before Esquire Jay went to show that Jenkins and his chum, Thomas Meredith, had been on a spree the day before, and in wandering about town in drunken bewilderment, Jenkins blundered into Mr. Phillips' house, thinking, perhaps, that he was at home. No blame is attached to Mr. Phillips for shooting.

Law of Estrays.

The following is the law with reference to estrays:

"Persons having stray cattle or horses in their possession are liable in the sum of five dollars, and will receive no compensation for damages or costs, if they fail to report the fact to the Town Clerk within four days, and it is his duty to make record of the same, subject to the same punishment in default thereof. If the owner of the estray presents himself to the Clerk within ten days, he is entitled to receive his property on payment of charges. If, after the expiration of that time, no owner is found, the person posessing the estray is required to advertise it; and if within sixty days thereafter no owner appear, the person taking up the same shall apply to a Justice of the Peace in the township, who is required to issue his warrant to a Constable, who after giving ten days' notice, is required to sell the same—the money for which is to be paid into the hands of the Justice of the peace, who is to pay all reasonable charges for the cost of keep, registering, advertising, selling, &c., and the balance, if there be any, to be paid into county treasury.—Ex.

Soldier Peddlers.

Disabled soldiers who peddle, must pay the special tax under the Internal Revenue Laws of the United Sates, just as other persons do; but they are exempt from State license. We call attention to this fact because we learn that people have understood that soldiers are entirely from peddlers, tax and license.

They are required to pay the tax to "Uncle Sam" for whom they have done so much; but need pay no state license as shown by the act of Assembly quoted hereunder:

An act to Permit disabled Soldiers to peddle, by Procuring a License Therefor, Without Charge.

Be it enacted, &c., That every honorably discharged soldier, who is a resident of this State, and who from wounds, or on account of disease contracted while in the military, or naval service of the United States, and, on account of such disability, is unable to procure a livelihood by manual labor, shall have the right to hawk, peddle and vend any goods, wares, or merchandize, within this commonwealth, by procuring a license for that purpose, to be issued without cost: Provided, That before any such soldier shall be entitled to the benefits of this act, he shall obtain a certificate from an examining surgeon of the United States, that he is unable to procure his living by manual labor, and shall also procure a certificate from the prothonotary of any county in this State, that he has filed in the office of said prothonotary his affidavit, setting forth that he is the bona fide owner, in his own right, of all the goods, wares and merchandize which he proposes to hawk, peddle and vend, and that he will not engage to sell the same for any other person, or persons, whatever: And provided further, That the aforesaid certificates, together with such person's discharge from the military service, or an exemplified copy thereof, shall be full and conclusive evidence of such person's right to the benefits of this act.

Approved the 8th day of April.

Patent Right Raids.

Every year the country is overrun by bands of Patent Right Dealers, who plunder the people of large sums of money under various pretences. One year it is a patent Ox-Yoke, then a Churn or Pump; last year it was a lightning-rod, this year it is a Horse Hay Rake.

The operators go in bands of from five twenty to various counties, make their head quarters at the county seat with a hotel-keeper who is fond enough of what he can make by it to introduce them to his friends. They employ one or two lawyers to cook up opinions favorable to their operations and cover their schemes by some legal sophistries. They privately bargain with men who have more money than conscience, and who, in order to make $10 to $25 per day, agree to buy up such notes as the raiders may obtain, at a heavy discount, and aid the system of robbery by going about the streets to engage in conversation in defence of the raiders, and in denunciation of any officer or citizen who attempts to break up or expose the swindle.

Thus arranged, the gang send out their runners, furnished with the names of such honest, unsuspecting farmers as it is thought can be deluded and robbed. The victim is shown a confused mess of papers which he does not understand, and perhaps a list of "good men" in town who are said to have invested in and recommended the patent. He is told that if he will become a shareholder, he need pay nothing until he makes $200 clear profit. His signature is obtained to a negotiable note, in return for which they give what seems to be a receipt and agreement specifying that the note need not be paid until the buyer clears $200; but an examination shows that no reference is made to any note in the receipt or agreement. In some cases the notes have an agreement on the margin or back, that it is not payable until the $200 is cleared; but as soon as the sharper leaves his victim the margin is torn off or the double paper upon which the note is printed is split, and the agreement destroyed. So, in any case, the note is negotiable, is brought to head quarters and sold to the local confederates of the raiders. When due it is owned by some other person who knows nothing about the swindle; and although the victim presents the papers given to him, he finds he has no defence against the note, but must pay it, with costs, if sued. Meantime the patent proves to be a humbug, and the victim gets nothing—not even a Rake unless he buys one at a high price.

The rake may or may not be patented; it may or may not be a good thing; in either case the buyer pays $100 and loses it, for he gets no Patent Deed giving him a right to make or sell the rake. If a Deed was given, the victim could perhaps build a factory and try to make money in manufacturing and selling the rakes; or could buy a quantity at wholesale and try to sell at retail. But in this event, five or ten manufacturers or dealers in each town would find a slim show of getting rich.—So we fear that the cheapest way each victim can get out of the scrape is to redeem his note when he can, and keep out of future humbugs.

Esquire Avery issued a warrant for James S. Ireland and Dan. Wheeler, on Monday, for swindling; but Ireland, the chief salesman here, was kept concealed and fled from arrest. Wheeler was not the man who went out to sell with Ireland, and was discharged without a hearing.

On Tuesday U. S. Commissioner McKune, at Scranton, issued warrants for Ireland, Wheeler, J. W. Elliot and C. R. Hayward. Ireland had escaped, and Hayward seemed to be only a sort of bookkeeper for the gang. Elliot was arrested for two separate offences; was discharged arrest under one warrant on account of an alleged defect in the wording of the warrant, but was held to bail for further hearing upon the other offence by depositing the amount of required tax, and giving J. S. Tarbell as security in the sum of $500. Wheeler had fully and freely admitted that he was liable as a Broker, but was discharged upon the evidence of his confederates, who swore that they did not sell notes to him, but gave them to him as collateral security for previous indebtedness. In making the discharge, the Commissioner stated that the arrest was proper, and the prosecutor entitled to credit for causing it. But when the gang returned they and their local confederates here, gave out that ALL were released UNCONDITIONALLY, and that the prosecutor was censured by the Commissioner. So it can be seen that truth is as much a stranger to some of them as honest dealing.

One point is fully accomplished: The raiders will find no more victims in this quarter. Other localities, however, will be infested. And we trust the people of this county will cease to deal with all patent swindlers in future.
