Independence Ball.

A Ball will be given at the Union Hotel of R.C. Vail, New Milford, on the Fourth of July. The public are invited. Music—Dick Squires' Band. Bill, $3.50.

Wyoming Seminary.

Attention is directed to a card from the Principals of the Wyoming Seminary, at Kingston. The reputation of the institution is so well established that comment would be superfluous.

Silver Lake Schools.

Notice is hereby given that the School Directors of Silver Lake have

Resolved, That we adopt the following Text Books for the Schools under our charge: Sanders' Union Readers and Spellers; Stoddard's Arithmetic; Montait and McNally's Geographies.

M. LAUGHLIN, Sec'y.

Notice.

All persons in Bridgewater desirous of exchanging Books can do so until 29th of June, after which they will be sold at regular retail price. We have Ker's Grammar. The books are left with A. N. Bulard. C. J. CURTIS, Sec'y.

The Rake Party.

John W. Elliott, the Patent Rake man who was held to bail for appearance before U. S. Commissioner McKane, at Scranton, on the 12th, failed to appear—leaving his bail forfeited and his bondsman, John S. Tarbell, responsible for the $500.

A final arrangement of that particular case, however, has since been made, by Elliott paying the tax with a snug penalty of incidentals many times greater.

Two points are therefore gained: One of the gang has been brought to justice for one of his offences; and their scheme of plunder has been broken up in this quarter. The chiefs of the gang dare not now return, as they are liable to arrest upon other charges for violation of the revenue as well as criminal laws.

School Books.

The following resolution was adopted by the Montrose Board of School Directors, June 7, 1867:

Resolved, That we adopt for the use of the Schools of Montrose, Sanders' Series of Union Readers and Spellers.

In order to accomplish the change which the above resolution contemplates, an ample supply of the above lines of Books may be found at the Book Store of W. B. Deans, in Montrose, and all who have Books of this class, now in use, will please call on him and exchange them for the new ones.

Mr. Deans will inform you of the terms of exchange, and we think they are such that all will be satisfied.

This exchange will commence from date, and continue until the 1st of October next. Those having to purchase new Books, will have the opportunity of buying at wholesale prices during that time.

By order of the Board.

B. THATCHER, Sec'y.

Stray Dog.

Came upon the premises of a citizen of Montrose, about a month since, a large black dog. If the owner will inquire at this office he will be directed where to find the animal, which will be given up to him upon proof of ownership, and payment of charges. If not soon called for the dog will be "confiscated."

BINGHAMTON, June 14.—A fire in Conklin last night destroyed a portable saw-mill, the building covering it, and thirty thousand feet of lumber. The mill was owned by Wells, Lawrence & Whitney. The loss is about $50,000. No insurance.

The Democratic Judicial Convention.

This body met in Harrisburg yesterday for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court of the State. The importance of the occasion drew to the capital a large representation of leading Democrats from all sections of the Commonwealth, and also many conservative men who signified their intention of acting with the Democratic party, and insuring its success as the only means of restoring the States, quieting the country, and preventing a general destruction of the material interests of the nation. The Convention was composed of some of the best men of the party, and its proceedings were marked with order and decorum. All were earnest and enthusiastic, but at the same time their actions took shape and color from the responsibilities by which they were surrounded. Each man seems to feel he had an individual work to perform in redeeming the State from the grasp of the spoiler, and the consequences can be seen in the character of the candidate placed before the people, and the tone and scope of the resolutions adopted as the platform of the party.

Those resolutions can be found in full in the proceedings of the Convention. They are plain, forcible, and emphatic, covering the whole ground of difference between the parties, and showing the people precisely what may be expected from the Democratic organization, should power be placed in their hands. It needs no special illustration from us at this time to enable the public to choose between the national position occupied by the Democratic party, with economy, retrenchment, and reform emblazoned on its banners, and the sectional platform of the Radicals, disavowed States, high taxes and all their train of accompanying evils of a national, state and individual character. The people of Pennsylvania are prepared for a change, and that change will date from the Judicial Convention of June, 1867.

The Democratic party of the State having now appointed its leaders, and chosen the field of contest, we call upon all its members to prepare for the struggle. Thousands of conservative men will swell their ranks; but still the ground will be held with desperation by the party in power. They have money, offices and influence. All these will be used. Against them must be opposed honesty of purpose, patriotic devotion to principle, and constant labor. The victory is within our reach. Let it not be missed by want of exertion on the part of the Democracy of the Keystone State.—Age.

The Surratt Trial.

A Washington dispatch of Friday says:

The first week of the Surratt trial closes to-morrow with about one-third of the jury obtained. Judge Fisher was too ill to preside to day, and unless he recovers by Monday this term of the court ends, and all of the proceedings of this week will go to naught. The new term commenced on Monday, and the Judge of the Supreme Court, Chief Justice Carter, is not here to hold it. It now looks as if the trial, owing to the law regulating the court, may be postponed for some time. Judge Fisher is confined to his room but may recover by Monday.

Thousands have been changed by the use of the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. For Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific.

Wyoming Seminary and Commercial College.

THE Trustees of this Institution are proceeding rapidly with the erection of a spacious additional building, two hundred and thirty feet in length, three and four stories high, to be called "Centennial Hall," and are also making very important changes in the present buildings so as to make them all properly connected. Hereafter we hope to be able to accommodate all who apply for admission, and refuse no applications as heretofore for want of room. In consequence of the changes being now made in the Seminary buildings we are compelled to dispense with the usual anniversary exercises. The approaching vacation will be lengthened three weeks, and the Fall term will commence Sept. 5th. KINGSTON, Pa., June 18, 1867. W. E. SMITH.

The Union Pacific Railroad Co.

ARE now constructing a Railroad from Omaha, Nebraska, westward towards the Pacific Ocean, making with this connection an unbroken line ACROSS THE CONTINENT. The Company now offer a limited amount of their first MORTGAGE BONDS, bearing thirty years to run and bearing annual interest, payable on the first day of January and July, in the city of New York, at the rate of six per cent in gold, or thirty cents on the dollar. This road was completed from Omaha 365 miles west on the 1st of January, 1867, and is fully equipped, and the trains regularly run daily. The Company has now on hand sufficient iron, ties, etc., to finish the remaining portion to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains. It is a rare opportunity to secure a first mortgage on the Union Pacific Railroad, and it is expected that the entire road will be running before Omaha to the western coast, and the bonds of the Union Pacific being rapidly sold eastward from Sacramento, at a discount of 10 per cent.

Means of the Company.

Estimating the distance to be built by the Union Pacific to be 1,565 miles, the United States Government invests its six per cent bonds to the Company as a mortgage on the land at the average rate of about $2,500 per mile, amounting to $4,418,000. The Company is authorized to lease its own first Mortgage Bonds to an equal amount, and at the same time, which by special Act of Congress are made a first mortgage on the land line of the United States being subordinate to them. The government makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, amounting to $2,000,000. The total value of the land cannot be realized. The authorized capital stock of the Company is one hundred million dollars of which five millions have already been paid in, and of which it is not supposed that more than 25 millions at most will be required. The cost of the road is estimated by competent engineers to be about one hundred million dollars, exclusive of equipment.

Prospects for Business.

The railroad connection between Omaha and the east is now complete, and the earnings of the Union Pacific for the first three months of the year last past, show that the road is now profitable. These sectional earnings as they progress will much more than pay the interest on the Company's bonds, and the through business over the only line of railroad between the Atlantic and Pacific must be immense.

Value and security of the Bonds.

The company respectfully submit, that the above statement of facts fully demonstrates the security of their Bonds, and that the Bonds now offered are less than ten million dollars on 57 miles of road, on which over twenty million dollars have been expended. These sectional earnings of this road the care are now running, and the remaining 187 miles are nearly completed. At the present time on gold these bonds pay annual interest on the present cost of

and it is believed that on the completion of the road, like the Government Bonds, they will go above par. The company intend to sell a limited amount of the present low rate and retain the right to advance the price at their option. Subscriptions will be received in New York by the Continental National Bank, No. 7 Nassau st., Clark, Dodge & Co., Bankers, 51 Wall st., John J. Cisco & Co., Bankers, no. 23 Wall st., and by Banks and Bankers generally throughout the United States, of whom maps and descriptive pamphlets may be obtained. They will also be sent by mail from the Company's office, no. 20 eastern street, New York, on application. Subscribers will select their own Agents in whom they have confidence, who alone will be responsible to them for the safe delivery of the bonds.

JOHN J. CISCO, Treasurer, New York.

Estray.
