Aged Pedestrian.

Mr. John Pratt, now 88 years old, walked from near New London, Conn., to this place, he says, in seven days; a distauce of 250 miles. He may be mistaken in the time, as he is not of sound mind. "Uncle John" served in the defence Connecticut made against British invasion .-His friends are in hope the government may yet do something for him. It may be comforting to tobacco-eaters, for me to inform them that this aged veteran will eat a pound of the "weed" every week, perhaps, if he could get it. Lathrop, June 20, 1867.

Aged Seamstress.

Mrs. Sally Bissell, wife of Dr. Bissell, dec'd, of Brooklyn, this county, now 75 years old, last season in less than eight weeks pieced a bed-quilt containing 3,002 pieces. She is now engaged on a similar work, a quilt called the "Roman Cross." She does her own cutting, fitting, sewing | ance. and putting together. Who has done bet-

"Mother Bissell" is too well known by "everybody" for us to make comment; save only that she is a hale, matronly specomen of the mothers and women of the E. M. T. last century. Lathrop, June 20, 1867.

More Aged Still.

Mrs. Rebecca Merrill, living near Hop-bottom, Pa., is now nearly 97 years old. Her mind is good still, though weak in body, and till within a few weeks was able to visit her young friends. Mrs. Merrill was born in the times that "tried men's souls." She is the only person in the county probably that was born in "good old colony times when we were under the king." She was born in 1770, in Massacousetts, I think the year of the "Boston Base Ball. Congress, in Philadelphia; five years be-score: fore the battles of Lexington and Bunker Hill. She was six years old when the Declaration of Independence was signed, and thirteen when the articles of peace were signed at Paris.

Truly this woman has seen troublous and glorious times. Her history is the history of our country, socially, religiously and politically. May her last days be her best days. She is cared for in her declining years by her only son and child living, A. B. Merrill, of Hopbottom, Pa. Lathrop, June 20, 1867. E.M.T.

Fence Laws.

Mr. Editor: With your permission as there seems to be some misapprehension of the laws relative to fences and cattle in this county, I will refer briefly to the several acts of Assembly relating thereto.

The act of 1859, Pamphlet Laws, page 51, prohibits horses, cattle, &c., from running at large upon the highways of this county. This I believe to be generally conceded a very good law; but many of my brother farmers interpret this law in a manner that is to their disadvantagethat they are under no obligation to keep School Books. up any street or enclosure fence. The act referred to only makes such horses, cattle &c. running in the highways, strays, tors, June 7, 1867: which must be treated as such. See act Resolved. That w of Assembly, Purdon's Digest, page 572, and it seems that persons not having such fence cannot obtain damages from the owners of such horses, cattle, &c.

Persons owning land, separated by a highway, are as much bound to keep a sufficient fence along said highway, as said fence was to be kept along the line and in repair by the parties respectively.

The references given above are I believe correct, and the inferences drawn therefrom are most certainly just; for if neighbor A is bound to restrain his cattle, and keep them within enclosure, certainly neighbor B. should protect his crops with a sufficient fence.

Respectfully yours, INCLOSUBE.
Lathrop, June 20, 1867.
