DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

JUDGE QE SUPREME COURT, HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD.

The Vacancy in Congress.

The Luzerne Union has an article on the subject of the vacant seat in Congress from this District, which must be filled in October. Its suggestions that the candidate should be a Democrat of unvielding and the Democrats of this county should themselves to favor those who may solicit their support for a nomination.

We must elect a man who not only has been and is a firm and fearless advocate of Democratic principles, but who has the ability to promulgate his sentiments before the people and the House of Representatives.

A nomination is to be made in a few weeks, and as this county will probably furnish the candidate, our people should begin to reflect upon the subject, and discuss it among themselves, or through these columns if they wish to. If candidates names were announced, it would give the masses a chance to consider the comparative ability of the men, and choose for themselves.

THE Montrose Republican was very careful to mention the fact that the Democrats are not in favor of negro suffrage; but its statement upon that point was made when it anticipated that its own party would openly adopt the measure.-When its party dodged the direct question, the organ became silent; and hesitates to speak upon the subject. But we trust the Editor will study the platform of his party and tell us where it points on the suffrage issue. "One thing is clear." Can the other be made clear; or must it remain obscured with clouds and darkness?

Doings in Congress.

The Radica's are developing their Disunion theories in fine style in the/Rump Congress. Duly elected members who do not agree with the majority are deprived of seats, to enable the fanatics to rush through their iniquities with more haste. Bills to destroy the little remnant the States have passed both branches, and our readers the final passage of an act to the late war in this nation. establish unqualified military despotism.

The subject of negro suffrage in northern states is also to be adopted or perhaps postponed to a future day, and then forced upon the people utless they rebuke the Radicals at the polls.

The Death of Mr. Denison.

In the United States House of Repre sentatives on the 10th, Mr. Boyer (Pa.) announced the death of his colleague, Mr. Denison, paying a high tribute to his pubcondolence.

Remarks were also made by Messrs. Randall, Miller, Getz and Van Trump. The resolutions were agreed to unanimously, and the House at half-past three o'clock adjourned. In the Senate, the Clerk of the House announced the action of that body on the death of Hon. Charles Denison, Representative from Pennsylvania.

Army.

The New York Tribune publishes an abstract, from documents which fell into the hands of the United States at the downfall of the Confederacy, of returns of all the Confederate armies, from their organization in the summer of 1861 down to the spring of 1865. It appears from these documents that the number of Confederate troops at the east and the west was throughout nearly equal, and that, with the exception of September, 1863, when Longstreet, with his corps, was sent from Varginia to Tennessee, no considerable body of soldiers was ever transferred from one army to the other. The greatest number on the Confederate muster-rolls at any one time twas 550,000, and this was when every male from 17 to 50 was enrolled in the army. The greatest number present for duty at any one time in whole Confederacy, and that only for a brief poriod, was 300,000. There were not three periods of a mouth when they had 250,000. At only three periods did the Army of Northern Virginia, under Lee, number 100,000 men fit for duty.

In October, 1861 when McClellan confronted Johnson at Manassas, the actual force of Johnson was less than 40,000, and in December, only 54,000. When, in April, 1862, McClellan assailed Yorktown the Confederates had on the whole Peninsula less than 50,000, men. When he reached the Chichahominy the Confederfidelity and a man of ability, are timely; ates had at Richmond but 47,000, increased at the close of May to about 60,000 eflook well to these points before pledging fectives. On the 26th of June, when Lee began his movements against McClellan, the Confederates numbered a-little more than 100,000 effective men. When, after We have plenty of good Democrats the battle of Gettysburg, Meade reached who are clever men, could vote regularly, the Rappaliannock, Lee had 41,000 men. ### To Holders of 7-30 Notes.

Parties who hold United States 7-30 notes should take notice that they have only until August 15 to present them to the Treasury Department for conversion into 5.20 bonds. After that time the department will hold that the holders of the 7-30's have elected to be paid rather than to convert the notes, and the government will then proceed to pay off the unconverted balance. As there are many persons interested in this matter who usually procrastinate attention to their affairs, they ought to bestir themselves at once, and obtain the advantage which the government holds open to them.

The Vacancy on the Supreme Bench. Numerous inquiries are being made concerning the existing vacancy on the Supreme Bench, occasioned by the death of Judge Wayne. It is proper to observe that during the first session of the last Congress an act was passed providing that Best boar, no vacancy in the Supreme Court (by death, resignation or otherwise) should be filled until the number of judges was reduced to seven. The death of Judge Wayne leaves eight judges on the bench; consequently there is no vacancy within the meaning of the act above referred to.

Negro Suffrage in the North.

It is now quite evident that the Radicals ase drepaired to force negro suffrage npon the people of the North by Congressional action. At the last meeting of the National House of Repesentatives the Dry Goods, Groceries, Hardwere, Boots & " 1 Indiciary Committee was, instructed to " 1 inquire whether, under the Constitution, Congress has power to prescribe the giralification of voters in the several States, and if deemed expedient, to report a bill prescribing the same. This is a movement in the same direction as that made by Senator Wilson, and the adoption of the resolution shows that the majority are wiking to take this advaced ground, and hold it, if possible.
