From the Ohio Statesman

I am no novelist, and have never aspired to be, but I claim to be something of a politician. If there is a loyal man I believe I am one. I made great sacrifices during the war for my country. I did not go to war because I could not. My private affairs would not permit it. But if one person in the United States of America kept up a more galling fire in the rear than any other one I am the man. I have been the mark of the Copperheads. And besides, it has cost me much domestic trouble.

George Washington Harrison Socrates Clay Dobbs, (that's me,) unfortunately married one Amy Maria Louisa Scraggs, and as old Scraggs was a Democrat, my Amy has been a follower of the old rebel sympathizing Copperheaded Butternut, and at times the climate at "Dobb's Cottage" became somewhat tropical. But I have borne it all like a Christian.

Old Scraggs has always been too fast for me in argument, but when he came visiting, and I held family prayer, and got the old reprobate upon his knees, I had all the say, and you better believe I poured grape and canister into Fort Sumter. Amy was a beautiful girl, and I married her because I loved her.

Some said I married her for "Dobbs' Cottage," but that is a copperhead lie.-It is true her father made us a present of the farm and cottage, but what of that? It was his daughter and she had a right to it. I was master of the situation until recently. This suffrage question involved me in a very serious difficulty. I had taken especial prins to tantalize Amy about the copperhead butternuts and sympa-thizers, but when this suffrage question came up she gave me hark upon this negro equality question.

I fended the best I could, but found the position was getting untenable, and so I declared straight out for equality and went at it upon general equality princi-

I went my whole length and declared for outright equality.

Our people had got patriotic and had admitted the Negroes into the public schools, and I had the honor of moving first in that important step.

One evening a few weeks ago I came home and Amy and I had had a set to on the equality question.

The children had been at school that day, and each had a negro next to them. I saw Amy was working her wits, the result of which was an announcement that if the children had to associate with negroes, I should too.

I regarded the threat as an idle boast, and thought no more of it.

A few days after this I notified her that General — and his wife would dine with us. Her eyes sparkled. I knew there was mischief brewing, but could not foresee it.

I advised her that the General, his wife and I would be at the cottage at one .-And sure enough we were.

And Amy was I repared for us. She had prepared an excellent dinner, and met us at the door to welcome us, announcing at the same time that dinner was ready.

a saucy old negro by the name of Crow, only refused to n with his wife and two children that were seated next to our children at school already at the table

She apologized for her haste in seating her first guests, assuming that she had concluded we were not coming, and then proceeded to formally introduce old Crow and the Crow family generally to the General and his wife as brother Crow, sister Crow, master Crow, and the charming little Miss Crow.

I felt a good deal like crowing some myself. My legs began to show unmistakable signs of elasticity. I felt as if I kable signs of elasticity. I felt as if I could heave out any six negroes in the neighborhood. But I fully comprehended the nature of the situation.

The General's wife was about to explode. The General, although an earnest Radical, could not suppress his olfactory from becoming slightly elevated.— My Amy was extremely polite, and chattered away apparently in one of her happiest moods. Old Crow sat back with his thumbs in the armholes of his dilapidated old vest, while his wife, with folded arms, was assuming an air of maiden innocence.

Amy seated the General by the wench, Robert Manner and the could not suppress his olfactory from becoming slightly elevated.— My Amy was extremely polite, and chattered away apparently in one of her happiest moods. Old Crow sat back with his thumbs in the armholes of his dilapidated old vest, while his wife, with folded arms, was assuming an air of maiden innocence.

Amy seated the General by the wench, Robert Manner and the manner and the result is the worthless Ancers, Lepines and so called Patent Levers—which soon cost more in attempted repaid price. Common workmen, boys and women, buy the rough separate perts of these watches from various factories, polith and put them together, and take them to the nearest watch merchant, who stamps and employs over 700 operatives. They produce 75,000 Watches a year, and make and sell not less than one-half of all the watches sold in the United States.

The difference between their manufacture and the European, is briefly this: European Watches are made almost entirely by hand, and the result is of necessit is of necessity a lack of that uniformity, which is indispensable to correct time-keeping. Both the eye and the hand of the mass skillful operative must vary. But it itself and the result is the worthless Ancres, Lepines and called Patent Levers—which soon cost more in attempted repair the work of the cheapest labor of Switzerland, and the result is the worthless Ancres, Lepines and called Patent Levers—which soon cost more in attempted there, and ordered him to leave.

The General called her a dirty huzzy for insulting his wife, and at this old Scraggs hit him with the knot end of a butternut limb. I sprang between them to protect my guest, when old Crow placed the General and me on an equality. In the melee the wench assailed the Gen- $20.

who was just then the especial object of a charge from the General.

and attempted to raise him. I flew up. Making a charge upon old manhood, I ruined a calf skin.

Mrs. Crow patted me on the back with DRY GOODS, FANCY GOODS a chair, whilst the young crows set up a regular down South jubilee.

But I cleaned them out. I did, indeed. The last words I heard from old Crow were, "you're no gemman." Scraggs enjoyed it. Amy was exceedngly sorry, and could not comprehend what had caused the row. The General and his wife were off in a flurry.

And I-I was the maddest and mutest Radical in the State.

I pursued the General to apologize and explain, and ran into old Crow. He gave me an exhibition of his "manhood," and seeing I was flanked, I wheeled to retreat.

In my haste I encountered the wench and over we went.

Take great pleasure in informing their friends and the public in general that Dry Goods have taken ANOTH-ER TUMBLE, and that they have purchased a more than usual large stock of

I partially recovered and started on all fours, when old Crow came to my assistance, and by an attack upon the rear enafours, when old Crow came to my assistbled me to make the fastest time on record.

As I came down the pavement I discovered a waving handkerchief. It was Amy's.

Scraggs had assumed a belligerant position, and as I passed him, set Crow to trotting in the opposite direction. He made good time, but nothing in comparison to what I had done.

Since which time I have been been dubbed "Dexter" by Amy and her father, and at the least intimation that I intend to vote the Radical ticket, Amy insists upon rehearsing her story of the race between Manhood and Radical. I have partially succeeded in reconciling the General and his wife, but my suggestion to play the same joke on Scraggs and Amy, at their house, brought to the Generative mind such a vivid recollection of old al's mind such a vivid recollection of old Crow's muscular powers, that he concluded that negro equality would answer for electioneering purposes, but was a decidedly dangerous experiment by way of practical jokes. I thought so too.

-Prof. Hamilton, a sharp Yankee, who had charge of a prosperous freedmen's school at Corinth, Mississippi, lately disappeared from that place with a fund of $180 which had been subscribed by the whites and blacks to purchase a school lot; about $500 which he raised on forged Government checks, and a "yaller gal" named Asia. He took the train North, but the strike on the Memphis and Ohio railroad checked him at Jackson, where he was intercepted and taken back to Corinth and placed in custody of the military authorities. Forging checks upon the United States and running off with Asia are considered rather heavy trans actions.

-Radical organs are constantly reiterating falsehoods to the effect that during the war Judge Sharswood "encouraged rebellion," "sympathized with treason," "aided the confederacy," and all such stuff. If all that these organs say about was ready.
So soon as we were prepared she led the way to the dining room, and to my surprise had spread a large table, and had a saucy old negro by the name of Crow.

Starswood's disloyalty be true, then the whole membership of the Radical party of Philadelphia were and are dis'oyal, for, whilst the war was progressing, they not Patented May 7, 1867. against the Judge, but actually gave him their votes, and he was elevated to his present position as the almost unanimous choice of the voters of Philadelphia.

A CARD FROM THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY

Waltham, Mass.

Amy seated the General by the wench, which filled up that side of the table, and burriedly seated the General's w fe by old gums and ivory. Then gathering up the children seated them by the side of their school fellows, after which she took her seated the head of the table, and requested me to be seated at the farther end to wait upon the guests.

The American Waltham Watch is made by no such incertain process—and by no such incompetent workmen. All the Company's operations, from the reception of the raw materials to the completen of the Watch, are carried on under one roof, and under one red, in the feature of their Watches, is the fact that their several parts are all made by the finest, the most perfect and delicate machinery ever brought to the aid of human industry. Every one of the more than a hundred parts of every watch is made by a machine—that infallibly reproduces every succeeding part with the most unvarying accuracy. It was only necessary to make one perfect watch of any particular style and then to adjust the hundred machines necessary to reproduce every part of that watch, and it follows that every succeeding watch must be like it.

The Company respectfully submit their Watches on their merits only. They claim to make

The most Important and Valuable Invention of the 19th Century.

1. This Dasher's superior to any other, by being as simple as the old Dasher, and combining the stmospheric principles therewith, and the Butter Gatherer 2. It is superior to all others, inasmuch as the same power applied to this in like mechanical operations will make one fourth more reciprocations.

3. It is superior to all others, inasmuch as it produces the Butter in a much shorter time.

4. It is superior to any other, inasmuch as it produces a much better quality of Butter.

5. It is superior to any other Patent Churn, inasmuch as it is 500 per cent, cheaper than any other.

It is well known to Dairymen and others, that Butter is contained in minute globules or sacks, covered with a membrane, and requires the action of air to prepare the covering to be removed by friction. The Scientific American says:

American says:

"If cream is dashed against a hard substance, or mashed between bars or rollers, it breaks the globules and becomes oily, by destroying the grain. It should be thrown into currents and counter currents by the action of air, causing a friction by the action of the currents against each other, removing the covering without breaking or bursting the globules."

This is the principle which the inventor of this Dash endeavored to keep in view, and the result shows a much larger yield of Butter obtained in less time than by any other Dasher.

Experiments have proven that any other method except pumping air through the cream, will not penetrate sufficiently to oxygenize all the globules preparatory to concentrating the Butter. Throwing it into the air by clappers or old fashioned Dashers, does not sufficiently expose it to the air to bring out the Butter.

The above Patent Dasher has been purchased for Susquehanna County by the undersigned. The process of churning can be seen at any time, in a Glass Churn, at Baldwin, Allen & McCain's store. An agent will canvass the county soon as possible, to sell the Dasher for individual rights; also township rights will be sold. Montrose, July 23, 1867.—tf
