The articles offered for sale consist of shawls, furs, jewelry, &c., valued at some. invent was left untried. The weak among $24,000.

The Lincoln Disgrace.

Mrs. Lincoln's letters are a disgrace to the country. She alleges that she has not been allowed her "rightful maintenance," that she is in a painful and exposed situation, bordering upon actual want. But her assertions seem to be as void of truth as of decency. They talked about a war in behalf of Lincoln went to Washington a poor man, heaped up wealth while President. A radical organ, the Springfield (Illinois) Journal of the 9th inst., published the in-ventory of the estate of Mr. Lincoln, as in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of Sangamon County, in that State. The inventory shows that he was possessed of registered bonds and other notes. public and private, to the amount of about $85,000, all of which were invested in United States securities bearing interest. He also owned real estate in Illinois and Iowa. The deposition of Judge Davis rebuked and humbled by the great popul and Thomas Lincoln, his children. To the lar verdict of State condemnation, the sum already mentioned must be added $25,000, which was given to Mrs. Lincoln by a vote of Congress,-making a personal estate of $110,000 besides the $24,000 DEMOCRATS OF THE COUNTY : Speak to | worth of finery which she now offers for sale, and the real estate. So much for her poverty.

But the finale of this affair is more hameful, if possible, than the beginning. Mr. Brady, who acts as the agent of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, has been instructed to withdraw the dresses, furs and jewelry gressman, the land speculator, and forewhich that lady had ordered to be exposed for sale, and to receive subscrip. attachment resulted in a marriage, actions upon behalf of his needy consignor. It is said that an appeal will be made to were purchased, but they ignominiously invented offices, and salaries, and bureaus, the colored people of the Union, to subscribe an immense fund, in individual contributions of five cents each. It is estimated that $200,000 can be raised in this manner alone, besides the large sums which it is anticipated will be paid by contractors and office-holders who dread an exposure of the collusion with her in obtaining favors.

Her acceptance of a public subscription ndicates that her offer to sell finery was a black-mail trick; yet who knows but she is now in concert with politicians who was subsequently united to Dr. Gaudette, wish to raise a huge electioneering fund | and this during the lifetime of Clark. for the Presidential canvas!

Altogether the Lincoln business is both costly and disgraceful to the country.

Thurlow Weed on Mrs. Lincoln.

The letters of Mrs. Lincoln, and her offer to sell her clothes and gew-gaws have called out the Radical press generally on America. But the answers were in her the domestic "situation" of the widow of the "late lamented." Some of the news- the bewildering facts of this case by the papers say unkind things of her, and as last decision of the Supreme Court, her ion as a reason that she did not behave

Mrs. Lincoln offering numerous articles of For this, however, Mrs. Lincoln quarrellher wardrobe for sale. She says she is ed with Secretaries Smith and Seward .-This amount, however, was subsequently means to live comfortably. She charges covered up in a gardener's account, but occasioned scandal, which respect for Mr. Lincoln measurably suppressed. Though Mr. Lincoln left an estate which enabled his family to live quite as com-fortably as they had ever lived, Congress munificently provided for them, if Mrs. Lincoln herself, with every advantage that high position gave her, had made friends or inspired respect. And this last exhibition proves how instinctively right large publicity, namely, that she received presents valued at $24,000, is a pregnant and suggestive one-suggestive, at least, of offices and contracts, unless the more charitable construction is reached thro' the assumption that they were expressions of regard and friendship. But it is not known that the wife of any President, however estimable, was so loaded with shawls, laces, furs, diamonds, rings, &c.

Death of a Centenarian.

The death of M'me Sophie Despau, nee Carriere, at Biloxi, at the advanced age of 114 years, has added another feature of interest to what the United States Supreme Court has decided to be the most remarkable suit ever brought to trial in states that Mr. Lincoln died intestate, and this country. M'me Despau was born in that his family at the time consisted of 1757, when Louisiana was held by France. gress elect, Judge Woodward. No false- our Constitution-these Brownlows, are Mary Lincoln, his widow, and Robert T. of an old Provincial family, and her name wills long be remembered in connection with that of her sister Zulime Carriere .-It was while under M'me Despau's care that Culime, when thirteen years of age, (1796,) and already celebrated in this city for her beauty, was married to Des Grange, a French nobleman, who soon after subsided into a barkeeper or syrup maker.-

Some years after, Des Grange proved to have been already married, and about the same time an attachment sprung up between her and Daniel Clark, the Conmost business man of his time. The cording to M'me Sophie Despau and another sister, and, according to all, in the birth of Mrs. Myra Clark Gaines. M'me Despau, in her evidence in the Gaines case, testified that she was present when the marriage ceremony was performed in Philadelphia, present with a third sister, and it was upon their evidence that the alleged ceremony rested, for the Priest who officiated subsequently went to Ireland, the church was burned down and the records destroyed. What added still more to the complication of the case was that Zulime Carriere Des Grange Clark (As Mrs. Gaines' legitimacy depended upon the validity of Clark's marriage, the strain of the whole case turned upon the evidence of M'me Despau. To test her veracity the evidence of some thirty-five or forty witnesses was taken, who had known her while residing in this city, in Biloxi, Havana, Florida and Spanish quehana County by the undersigned.  This Dasher is superior to any other, by being as simple as the old Dasher, and combining the atmos-phoric principles therewith, and the Butter Gatherer.

It is superior to all others, inasmuch as the same power applied to this in like mechanical operations will make one fourth more reciprocations.
It is superior to all others, inasmuch as it produ-ces the Butter in a much shorter time.
It is superior to any other, inasmuch as it produ-ces at much better quality of Butter.
It is superior to any other Patent' Churn, inas-much as it is 500 per cent. cheaper than any other. It is well known to Dairymen and others, that Butter is contained in minute globules or sacks, covered with a membrane, and requires the action of air to prepare the covering to be removed by friction. West side of Public Avenue. The covering to be removed by richard in the benchmic American says: "If cream is dashed against a hard substance, or mashed between bars or rollers, it breaks the globules and becomes oily, by destroying the grain. It should be thrown into currents and counter currents by the action of air, causing a friction by the action of the currents against each other, removing the covering without breaking or borsting the globules." This is the principle which the inventor of this Dash endeavored to keep in view, and the result shows a much larger yield of Botter obtained in less time than by any other Dasher. Experiments have proven that any other method ex-cept pumping air through the cream, will not pepetrate sufficiently to oxygenize all the globules preparatory to concentrating the Butter. Throwing it into the air by clapers or old fashioned Dashers, does not sufficiently expose it to the air to bring out the Butter. Groceries, ogat side of Public Coffee. ## Income from the Dog Tax in England.

The license numbered nearly 700,000 in 1867, against nearly 409,000 in 1866, and in Scotland 80,000 against 36,000 in 1866. This increase in the number of licenses is not to be attributed to any increase in the number of the dogs, but to the more faithful execution of the law. Estimating the taxed dogs in Ireland at 220,000, it would make the whole number for the United Kingdom about 1,000,000. As the tax is twelve shillings, it would make the income about $3,000,000 in gold.
