

A Splendid Record.

An exchange posts the political books of the year and shows a glorious work for the Democracy. Of the twenty States in which elections have been held in the year past the Democrats have carried ten. They carried but three last year. In these twenty States they have a popular majority of nearly one hundred thousand, and have made the unprecedented gain of nearly three hundred and sixty thousand votes. A change of sixteen thousand votes will, next year give to the Democrats seven of the ten States which the radicals have carried this year. The ten States which have gone Democratic this year east one hundred and sixteen electoral votes. The ten Radical States have seventy seven electoral votes. If we take from the list of radical States, Ohio, which was carried for the radical candidate for Governor by a small majority of illegal negro votes which may be thrown out by the legislature, the electoral vote in the twenty States will stand thus: Democratic, one hundred and thirty seven; radical, fifty six.

The Pending Revolution.

The New York Herald, of a recent date, in discussing the political situation, predicts the culmination in November next of the political revolution of which we have already felt the first shock. From all the symptoms that surround us it is easy to foresee that the violence and folly of Congress, in forcing upon the country a policy entirely foreign to our institutions, and in conflict with all our ideas of freedom, justice and generosity, will unite the people upon the Democratic and conservative nominees for the next Presidency, and that he will be elected by a large majority. The radicals may hope to save themselves by calling to their aid the great name of General Grant; but if that distinguished military leader should accept a nomination upon the African Supremacy platform of the present Congress he will be defeated at the polls as easily as Chase or any other candidate would be.

The principles that agitate the country at the present time are stronger than men, and no personal popularity can for an instant blind the eyes of the people to the importance of the issue. The reconstruction policy to which the radical party promises to adhere is an atrocious outrage upon civilized society. It degrades the white race, and by giving political power into the uncontrolled possession of hundreds of thousands of ignorant and debased negroes, breaks down all the safeguards of society, obliterates the progress of half a century, reduces ten States of the Union to a condition of African barbarism, and demoralizes the National Government. It is against their policy that the people will record their votes, and it is to save the country from these evils that they will defeat the radical presidential candidate next fall whosoever he may be.

Won't Retreat.

The radicals in Congress have solemnly resolved not to retreat. A resolution was offered in the House declaring that they would "never take one step backward from their advanced position." In the same resolution was a clause censuring President Johnson for recommending the repeal of the reconstruction acts, and a declaration that the party would stand by their policy of negro supremacy in the South, and would battle for negro equality everywhere. The resolution passed by a strict party vote, every Republican present voting for it, and every Democrat voting against it. There is no danger that the sharply defined and distinctive differences between the two parties will be made less decided and clear than they are now. The radicals will not retreat, and the coming Presidential contest will be called upon to settle great principles.

New Hampshire Coming.

There seems to be but little doubt that the Democrats will carry New Hampshire at the coming election which takes place in March. All the municipal elections recently held in the principal cities and towns of that State have resulted in Democratic victories. In Portsmouth first, then in Dover, and now in Manchester the radicals have been utterly routed. They carried all those places last year by large majorities. We have little doubt that the coming State election will result in an old fashioned Democratic triumph in the Granite State.

EQUAL RIGHTS FOR NEGROES.—The doctrine was exemplified, says the Watkins Democrat, in the town of Orange, this County, on Wednesday last week. While Mr. Hiram Baker and his wife were gone on a visit to Elmira, a negro named Joe Davenport, persuaded a young daughter of Mr. Baker, aged 15 or 16 years, to elope with him. No tidings have as yet reached the distressed parents as to the present whereabouts of their unfortunate daughter, although our informant says that Joe has relatives living somewhere in Allegany county, and that it is supposed he has taken his victim in that direction. "What a blessed thing it is to 'elevate' the negro! If the father catches this scamp, it is supposed that he will 'elevate' this one, too.

The Age of Moral Progress.

From a single copy of one of our daily exchanges, we make up a chapter for the contemplation of those who preach up the moral progress of the age.

In Mobile, on the 6th, a burly negro named Boston Crawford, attempted to commit a fiendish outrage on a little girl 12 years of age. Her screams brought assistance. The negro ran, but was arrested.

A white man was killed, and a negro terribly beaten, near Bighyville, Tenn., a few days ago, by men in disguise.

At Montgomery, Ala., on the 5th, two negroes were discovered in a poultry yard stealing chickens. The lady to whom the chickens belonged, ordered the negroes away, when one of them raised a gun and shot her.

On the 15th inst., Walker Edmunds, a young merchant, while riding out near Memphis Tenn., was met by two negroes with muskets. Without a word one of them raised his musket and shot Edmunds in the forehead.

Another man was found murdered a few miles below Memphis.

The Memphis Bulletin of Dec. 8, details the particulars of a negro outrage upon a lady, and the robbery of a store, and escape of the perpetrators.

A man named Moore, in the employ of the Ordnance department, at Fortress Monroe, went home drunk, on the night of the 10th, and kicked his wife to death. The murderer was found in bed with his infant child.

Benjamin Branch, an old and highly esteemed planter on Wolf River, Tenn., was fatally stabbed, on the 14th, by a negro named Adam. Accounts from that State of the destruction of stock by the negroes is distressing.

The End of the Paraguayan War.

The Panama Star of December says: "After a contest of two years and a half, carried on between Paraguay and the allies, with obstinate determination and unsurpassed courage on both sides, the war has suddenly and most unexpectedly collapsed. At length overmatched Paraguay has yielded from sheer inability to contend. "The proposition to suspend hostilities originated with the Dictator, Solano Lopez, who, at the very time when the rest of the world expected nothing but an angry and vigorous continuation of the conflict, suddenly yielded every point upon which the allies have been the first insisted.

At Hamaita he has been able to maintain himself until now, but it is at last compelled to yield even that, and grand besides all the points for which the allies have contended, namely, the free navigation of the Paraguay, the cession of the Gran Chaco, and the banishment from South America of Lopez himself. He stipulates to retire from the country for two years. Hence peace and prosperity may now be looked for, and the free navigation of all Brazilian waters is offered to the world, and her ports opened to the flags of all nations."

Stolen Bank Checks Returned.

On Christmas morning a lad entered the office of the Superintendent of Police, and left a parcel, which he said had been given him to deliver by a gentleman at the Anson House. On the parcel being opened it was found to contain checks of the Bank of New York for three million six hundred and eighty three thousand four hundred and thirty five dollars and sixty one cents, being the amount stolen from the bank messenger recently in wall street.

A Bad Met on his own Ground and Defeated.

Not long since, two men travelling, companions, one a white and the other a black Rad, called at a very neat farm house for accommodations for the night, viz: supper and lodgings. And finding genuine hospitality, the good hostess was not long in preparing supper, while her husband cared for the horses of the guests. Supper being announced, they found each provided with a separate table.

The white brother finished his meal first, and without waiting for his sable friend returned at once to the sitting-room, and demanded of the landlord the reason for having two separate tables, when only he and his colored friend were to eat. The good man replied that in all matters of that sort his wife had always followed her own views, and that he had never interfered with her arrangements.

The wife chanced to hear all this, and more of the same sort. So to herself she said, we will see what we will see.

The hour of retirement at last arrived, and the wife directed the guests to be escorted to a certain room up stairs. When the room was entered judge of Mr. White Rad's surprise to find but one bed, and he demanded a reason for this. The farmer said that in all matters of that kind his wife had always followed her own views, and he never interfered with her arrangements.

The rad scratched his head and balanced himself first on foot and then on the other, while Sambo showed his ivory, and at length, with a sneeze and a cough, declared that part of the accommodation, but requested their horses to be brought forward, and the privilege of leaving, all of which was freely granted.

Hon. J. L. Getz, member of Congress from Berks, called the attention of the radicals to the recent Democratic victories in Boston, Pittsburg and the various towns of New Hampshire by moving that a committee be appointed to inquire whether Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New Hampshire have republican forms of government. There was laughter on the Democratic side of the House, and a look of gloom on the other.

Conviction of a Negro Conspirator in Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, December 21.

The Columbus, Georgia, Enquirer says that the trial of the negro conspirator George Shorter, at Union Springs, Alabama, resulted in his conviction and sentence to jail for six months. On the trial material facts, heretofore published, about his organization of a negro government in Bullock county, were produced. The report that he claims to have been sent to this work by radicals in the Northwestern States is confirmed. But for the timely discovery of this secret organization, and the active and energetic measures adopted to break it up, it would doubtless have extended among the vagrant blacks, and produced a great deal of mischief. It was reported in Union Springs early yesterday morning that Shorter had broken out of jail the night before and escaped. Whether he effected his escape unaided, or was assisted by negroes belonging to his so called government, has not been ascertained. The negroes generally, as heretofore stated, were much incensed against him.

The Greenville Advocate says the negro who a few days ago shot a woman because she refused to marry him, was apprehended yesterday, by several of his own color, who had sworn vengeance for the black and wicked deed. He was armed, and it was not until after he was severely wounded by a gunshot that he was made prisoner.

Fire on Sea.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 26. The steamer Raleigh took fire on Tuesday, the 24th, at noon. According to the report of Purser McLannan, flames were seen to issue from the engine rooms as the vessel was some twenty miles off the South Carolina coast, and in five minutes the fire had made such progress, all hope of saving the steamer was abandoned, and the officers betook themselves to provide means to preserve the lives of the passengers, of the crew and of themselves.

There were nineteen passengers on board—three in the cabin and sixteen in the steerage.

Thirty one persons in all from the Raleigh have arrived here, and twenty four are still missing, of whom ten were certainly drowned. Hopes are entertained that Captain Marshman and those who remained with him on the steamer when the first boats left, have been rescued by some passing vessel. Tugs from Charleston were cruising yesterday near the scene of the disaster, but without success.

The Wife Poisoner.

Rev. Green, the Connecticut wife poisoner has been convicted of murder. The career which is thus brought to a close is a curious and rapid one. In 1864 he was settled as a minister in the Western part of New York State, under the name of Long, where he married a wife and ran away from her and his parish with all the money he could borrow. He then lectured on temperance, calling himself Professor Green, and at last personated a Texas refugee in Connecticut, where he made campaign speeches for the radicals, preached, lectured and poisoned his wife. Five weeks after her death he married an Irish chambermaid from one of the hotels in Utica, where he was arrested, when suspicion began to point out the manner of his last wife's death.

Many Pennsylvanians who bought land in Tennessee after it was "reconstructed," are selling and leaving. They cannot secure regular hands among the negroes, who are constantly roaming around and violating their contracts, so that oftentimes good crops are spoiled. When a crop is ripened or nearly so, great loss is sustained through theft, there being a large body of negroes who live entirely by stealing. Besides this, the negroes, since they have been given political privileges, have become grossly arrogant and overbearing, making it unpleasant and frequently unsafe for a white man, even of Northern birth and of Republican politics, to live amongst them.

The military strappings of the South are a vortex in which millions of the money wrung from the toil and sweat of the white men of the North have already disappeared. And the end is not yet. There is a large deficiency reported in each of them for the past few months, and no provision has yet been made for future expenses. How long do the people of the North intend to submit to such a state of affairs. There can be no end of it until there is an end of negro rule, and that can only come with the utter defeat of the Republican party.

Accounts from the farming districts of Alabama report great destitution of farmer's stock. Large numbers of negroes are prowling about the country killing beef cattle, milk cows, hogs and fowls. In whole sections the blacks live entirely by pillage. There is nothing doing in the cotton fields. The farming prospects for next year are very gloomy.

A Member of Congress Murdered.

MARYSVILLE, O., December 23. Hon. C. S. Hamilton, Republican member of Congress of the eighth district of Ohio, was brutally murdered by his son in a fit of insanity, on Sunday morning, by being struck on the head with an axe, at Marysville, Ohio. Frenzied with blood the son returned to the house and succeeded in inflicting severe wounds upon his younger brother before he could be secured. He is now a hopeless raving maniac. Mr. Hamilton has just returned from Washington.

"The Ohio," says a correspondent, "is a sickly stream." "Yes," replied an exchange, "it is confined to its bed."

—Of one hundred and twelve members drawn for a jury in a county in Louisiana but twenty-five are white men.

—A stock company is being formed in Springfield to go into the rather novel business of manufacturing ladies' rubber bosoms under a new patent.

—Mrs. Glezen, the wife of Col. Marcona Glezen, was fatally burned on Sunday evening last, at Centre Lisle, Broome co., while filling a kerosene lamp too near the open fire.

ALBANY, December 26.—The Albany and Susquehanna Railroad to day opened to Nineveh and Harpersville, one hundred and twenty miles from Albany.

—In the trial of the negro leaguers at Pickens Court House, South Carolina, recently, for murder, a negro witness confessed that each negro, on joining the league, binds himself by an oath never to reveal anything that passes, on pain of having his head cut off.

—Oysters are tenacious of life, and are said to keep up their organization in the human stomach for a long time. An oyster's heart beats perceptibly half an hour after it follows the style of journey Jonah made.

—Explosive letters are the latest missiles of the Fenians. The Dublin mail has been surcharged with these dangerous missiles. One person was fearfully injured while opening one of these letters, and a number of the missiles exploded before reaching their proper destiny. Of course Dublin is excited.
