Montrose, June 6th, 1864. A Library of Universal Information.

THE NEW American Cyclopædia: A POPULAR DICTIONARY OF GENERAL KNOWLEDGE.

Edited by George Ripley and Chanles A. Dana, aided by a namerous select corps of writers, in all branches of science, art, and literature.

In 10 large columes, 820. 750 double-column pages in each volume.

cach volume.

The leading claims to public consideration which the New American Cyclopudia possesses may be thus briefly claims.

1. It sucpasses all other works in the fulness and ability of the articles relating to the United States.

2. No other work contains so many reliable biographics of the leading men of this and other nations. In this respect it is far superior even to the more bulky Encyclopudia Brittanica.

3. The best minds in this country have been employed in enriching its pages with the latest data, and the most recent discoveries in every branch of mannfactures, mechanics, and general science.

4. It is a library in fixelf, where every topic is treated, and where information can be glean d which will enable a student, if he is so disposed, to consult other anthorities, thus affording him an invalnable key to knowledge.

o knowledge.
"5. It is neatly printed, with readable type, on good "5. It is neatly printed, with readable type, on good paper, and contains a most copious index.

6. It is the only work which gives any thing approaching correct descriptions of cities and towns of America, or embraces reliable statistics showing the wonderful growth of all sections."

Every one that reads, every one that mingles in society, is constainly meeting with allusions to subjects on which he needs and desires further information. In conversation, in trade, in professional life, on the farm in the family, practical questions are continually arising, which no man, well read or not, can always satis factorily answer. If facilities for reference are at hand they are consulted, and not only is the curiosity gratified, and the stock of knowledge increased, but perhaps information is gained and ideas are suggested that will, directly contribute to the business success of the party concerned.

information is gained and ideas are suggested that will, directly contribute to the business success of the party concerned.

A Cyclopedia is preeminently the work for our country and generation. This is the age of steam. No one has time to grope among a hundred different works for every little fact required, without the certainty of finding it at last. With a Cyclopedia, embracing every concelvable subject, and having its topics alphabetically arranged, not a moment is lost. The matter in question is found at once, digested, condensed, stripped of all that is irrelevant and unnecessary, and werified by a comparison of the best authorities. Moreover, while only men of fortune can collect a library complete in all the departments of showwledge, a Cyclopedia, worth in itself for purposes of reference at least a thousand volumes, is within the reach of all—the cierk, the merchant, the professional man, the farmer, the mechanic. In a country like ours, where the humblest may be called to responsible positions requiring intelligence and general information, the value of such a work cannot be over-estimated.

Prof. Charles Morris. THE Hayti Barber, has removed his shop to the assement of E. L. Weeks' New Store, where he is prepared to give good satisfaction. When I go to explain this subject language fails to express it.

GROVESTEEN & CO., 499 Broadway, New York.

Our Last new addition to our different styler is attracting the admiration of both cities and populace. We mention specially, some of the claims of this new Piano. Believing the exterior should be as beautiful to the eye as melody is to the ear, we have paid great attention to getting them up in a style that is conceded by all who have seen them to be the handsomest Piano Forte made. They are an entirely new style, with four full round corners, heavily carved legs and lyre, base richly moulded, and contains our latest improved new scale and action. The tone is melodious, and its adaptability to passages of every shade of expression, from the softest murmurs, the Cressendo, and the F. F. gives the performer every advantage of the Concert grand.—
