

A Negro Juror.

The following scene actually occurred in one of the North Carolina courts recently:

Scene, a Superior Court in session in North Carolina. Dramatis Personae, Negro on the jury, and counsel objecting to his competency.

Cautious (log.)—Sam, are you a free holder?

Timbuctoo—"Yes, sar."

"Have you any land?"

"No, sar."

"What do you mean, then, by saying you are a freeholder?"

"I means bein' free and holdin' on and all dat."

"What is a verdict, Sam?"

"I dun know, sar."

"What is a defendant?"

"I dun know, sar; I see green about dese things."

Counsel—I submit to your honor that this negro is utterly incompetent.

Judge—: Let General Canby's jury order be read.

It is read, and so positively qualifies the negro in question, and all others like him in North Carolina, that the poor Judge, who would be pricked from his bench by the bayonet did he do otherwise, is forced to decide for the competency and Timbuctoo, with his mouth wide open, is sworn in. And this gentle repeler, is the way they do the jury business in the States of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas. Judge Aldrich resided in South Carolina, and off went his head. Judge Reese resided in Georgia, and they trolled him down like a nine pin. Judge Ward resided in Alabama, and not only lost his seat but came near being laid by the heels to boot. The Mississippi Supreme Court resisted, and to day its Chief Justice and his two brethren are in another State earning their bread in their old age at the bar. Even the judiciary, you see, must bend. And even the Supreme Court of the United States must be reconstructed.

Rewarding a Murderer.

Wm. J. Owens, a miserably drunken rowdy rum-seller of Philadelphia, shot and killed Col. William Riddle some months since. We saw nothing in the affair at the time it occurred to indicate that it was anything else than unprovoked and unmitigated murder. He is now on trial for his crime in Philadelphia, but the most remarkable thing is that he was chosen as an officer in the Legislature by the Republican majority, and now holds that position. At the time he shot Colonel Riddle he also held the office of assessor for one of the Wards of Philadelphia, and his victim had gone to him in a peaceable manner to see about a matter of business. The men who elected him to fill an official position in the Legislature knew all about his former character and conduct, and they supported him with open eyes. What a commentary this is on the "God and morality party," even murder seems not to disqualify a man for holding office in it, but rather to entitle him to a reward.

The Old Man.

Bow low the head, boy, to reverence the old man. Once like you, the vicissitudes of life have silvered the hair, and changed the round merry face to the worn visage before you. Once the heart beat with aspiration co-equal to any that you have felt; aspiration crushed by disappointment as yours are perhaps destined to be. Once that form stalked proudly through the gay scenes of pleasure, the bean ideal of grace; now the hand of time, that withers the flowers of yesterday, has warped that figure and destroyed the noble carriage. Once at your age he possessed the thousands of thoughts that press your brain, now wishing to accomplish deeds equal to a book in fame; now imagining life a dream, that the sooner he awoke from it the better. But he has lived the dream very near through. The time to awaken is very near at hand; yet his eyes ever kindles at bold deeds of daring, and the hand takes a firmer grasp of the staff. Bow low the head, boy, as you would, in your old age, be reverence—T. W. L.

A SUNKY WIFE.

A middle aged farmer and his wife were enjoying a winter evening closely together when the conversation turned upon religious matters, as described in the Bible, which the man had open before him.

"Wife," said the farmer, "I've been thinking what happy society Solomon must have had in his day, with so many wives, &c., as is here represented."

"Indeed," said the wife, somewhat miffed. "You had better think of something else than. A pretty Solomon you would make, truly; you can't take proper care of your wife. What a figure you would cut, then, with a dozen wives, and all of them as spunky as I am!"

The farmer took his hat and went to the stable to feed the cattle for the night.

—On a recent occasion Bradley a negro delegate in the Georgia Convention, declared "if the people dared to refuse to ratify the proceedings of the Convention, the burning of Atlanta and the march of Sherman through Georgia would be but a foretaste of what his race and the United States Army would do to Georgia."

A Full Radical Team.

The radical State ticket of Louisiana has a white man for Governor, a negro for Lieut. Governor, and a negro for State Treasurer.

—One of the tenets of the Mississippi menagerie proposed, on the 31st, that no reporter to be admitted who makes "color" distinction in reporting proceedings.

—The Anti-Slavery Standard, the Independent and the Revolution—all Radical organs—upite in charging Gen. Grant with habitual drunkenness.

Piano Fortes.

Our Last new addition to our different styles is attracting the admiration of both critics and populace. We mention especially, some of the claims of this new Piano. Believing the exterior should be as beautiful to the eye as melody is to the ear, we have paid great attention to getting them up in a style that is conceded by all who have seen them to be the handsomest Piano Forte made. They are an entirely new style, with four full round corners, heavily carved legs and base, richly moulded, and contains our latest improved scale and action. The tone is melodious, and its adaptability to passages of every shade of expression, from the softest murmurs, the Crescendo, and the F. gives the performer every advantage of the Concert Grand. Price $500.
