obtained from nurserymen and fruit growers by mail under the present law, at a cheap rate. If new trees are to be procured and set out on vacant portions of the ground, now is a suitable time for making the selection of the sorts to be obtained of the nurseryman. The newer works on these subjects may be read and studied in winter, and new suggestions for future practice may be obtained from the nurseryman. Orchards are sometimes neglected of pruning on account of the crowd of business at other times. Heavy pruning should be avoided, but the occasional removal of a supernumerary or crooked limb may give better shape to the tree. If mice are feared, and the protecting mound of earth has not been made around the foot of the stem of young trees in autumn, tread down the snow, when it has freshly fallen, firmly around them, and the mice cannot obtain access. Caterpillar eggs may be easily removed on any day when the sky is not too bright for the work. A little practice will enable the operator to detect at a glance the rings of eggs on the one year twigs, and they may be readily clipped off, thrown into a basket and burned. Fruit ladders may be constructed in winter, ladders for marking the trees and these ladders attached to them on any open and mild day. Country Gent.

BAKED PORK AND BEANS.—Have nice, clean, white beans put in soak in cold water overnight; take a piece of fat side pork, par boil fifteen minutes; then place it in the pot with the beans which ought to have been cooking an hour; boil the pork and beans together until the beans are perfectly soft, then remove them with a skimmer to the dripping pan and make an island of the pork, in the centre having first cut the rind with a sharp knife a quarter of an inch deep, in delicate parallel lines; bake three hours in a moderate oven, and serve hot.

CORNS ON THE FEET.—When a girl is used to be much troubled with those painful excrescences called corns on the toes and feet, and it was a long time before I could find a remedy for them. I was told of several, but they proved of no avail until I tried rubbing them with green peach tree leaves, after bathing them in warm water and scraping them away as much as I could. Those to whom I recommended it had their corns removed. But there is no remedy to keep them away unless the cause of them is removed. A little patch of arnica plaster, after cutting the corns out, is excellent, especially if they appear between the toes. It is good when there is any soreness on the foot from rubbing against the boot and should be always carried by those who are traveling.

SHOO FLY.—The Honorable Benjamin F. Butler has finally managed to fit something to himself that is wonderfully to the point. This is his plaint: I think I hear de rattling spoon, I think I hear de rattling spoon, I think I hear de rattling spoon, I lub de silver ob de spoon.

I steal, I steal, I steal, (Dat's what Beas Butler said), Desilber spoons come rattling down Upon dis old thier's head.

Chorus.—Shoo, fly! don't bodder me! Shoo, fly! don't bodder me! Shoo, fly! don't bodder me! I belong to loyal-ty.

I steal, I steal, I steal, I steal from far and near; I steal, I steal, I steal, For stealing I came here.

If I should neber steal, dis Beas knows, If I should neber steal, dis Beas knows, If I should neber steal, dis Beas knows, Der'd be no more spoons where'er he goes.

I steal, I steal, I steal, Dere are many sil ob spoons; So when Beas Butler makes a haul, He takes it out in spoons.

Chorus.—Shoo, fly, don't bodder me! &c. —N. Y. Democrat.

SHOOTING.—While the congregation at St. Mary's church, in Piqua, Ohio, were engaged in worship on Sunday morning, a young woman named Miss Mary Maher entered the church and took a seat. In a few moments thereafter she deliberately took from her pocket a pistol, and shot a young man named Thomas Wise, who occupied a seat immediately in front of her. Wise, after being shot, arose and started toward the entry. The woman pursued him, endeavoring to shoot him a second time, but was prevented by a policeman, who arrested her. The cause of the affair is not fully known, but it appears from various reports in circulation that Wise had been reported to marry her, and had since engaged himself to another, which engagement was announced in church this morning. Wise's condition is rather critical.

LIFE THOUGHTS.—No person ever got stung by hornets who kept away from where they were. It is so with habits. Most of the shrews that cross our path through life are caused by our standing in our own light.

Deliberate with caution, but act with decision; and yield with graciousness or oppose with firmness.

Talkative persons seldom reason. This is among the few truths which appear the more strange the more we reflect upon them. For what is reading but silent conversation.

Value no man for his opinion, but esteem him according as his life corresponds with the rules of piety and justice. A man's actions, not his conceptions, render him valuable.

Great talent renders man famous, great merit procures respect; great learning esteems; but good breeding alone insures love and affection.

A Chinese proverb says a lie has no legs and cannot stand, but it has wings and can fly far and wide.

"Pa, didn't I hear you say the other day, you wanted a cider press?" "Yes, daughter, where can I get one?" "Why you try Zeke Stokes; he hugged me the other evening at the party, an I tell you he made me grunt."

In Marion county, Indiana, they have a woman's literary society; which lately discussed the question, "which affords most pleasure, a married or a single life?" One blushing young damsel remarked that she would love to have at least half an hour's experience, so that she might vote understandingly.

Never promise your family physician a legacy. Such a step is very imprudent.

LEARNING TRADES.—We regret to see a growing tendency on the part of parents of objecting to their children, especially boys, learning trades. Next to this, is the growing evil of not compelling a boy to continue at a trade until he has mastered it. There are thousands of men and boys roaming about the country who are tested by scientific men, and who, by uniting themselves to traders-unions, hope to make employers keep them, or if not, their fellow workmen, who have been driven by stress of circumstances to join them. Our prisoners are crowded by young men who never learn to do any work well, and among the loudest declaimers for the rights of labor are among men, and women too, who can claim none of the rights that belong to labor well performed. Shiftless, ignorant and lazy, they expect to be boosted and bowed up, by laws and rules so that their half-work will be paid as the thorough performance of patient and intelligent workmen.

Oshkosh, Wis., is said to be overrun with game—principally fero and draw poker.

The bills of the Gas Companies are now styled "the Charge of the Light Brigade."

Ashley writes that the measure of his ambition is full. Does he mean his pockets?

If you want to have a beautiful set of teeth inserted gratis, kick somebody's dog.

A young lady in Massachusetts complains that there are persons in her town who will go so far as to take an oath they will not divulge a secret in regard to them, and in less than two days will take it in a basket and peddle it around town as they would popcorn and peanuts.

The question whether dancing is a social evil, has been settled at last. Mrs. Geo. Grant, a member of the Methodist church, and Prince Arthur, a member of the Episcopal church, danced together at a recent reception in Washington city.
